PART I—Orders and Notifications by the Governor of West Bengal, the High Court, Government Treasury, etc.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

MEDICAL AND PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Medical.

NOTIFICATION.

No. Medl./4843/5P-12/55.—1st June 1955.—In pursuance of paragraph 2 of Article 9B of the Statutes of the State Medical Faculty of West Bengal the Governor is pleased to approve of the following rules for the conduct of the course of study for the Diploma in Pharmacy, holding of examinations for the said Diploma and for award of the Diploma by the Governing Body of the Faculty, namely:—

PART I.

Definitions.

1. The expression "Education Regulations" in these Rules means the Education Regulations made by the Pharmacy Council of India under section 10 of the Pharmacy Act, 1948 (VIII of 1948).

2. The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the State Medical Faculty of West Bengal.

3. "Approved training institution" means an institution for training in Pharmacy approved by the State Medical Faculty of West Bengal.

4. "Board of Studies" means the Board of Studies appointed by the Governing Body under its Bye-laws.

5. "Recognised hospital, pharmacy or dispensary" means a hospital, pharmacy or dispensary recognised by the Pharmacy Council of India under Regulation 7 of the Education Regulations.

6. "Superintendent" means the Superintendent or the Officer-in-charge of the training institution for the Pharmacy Course.

PART II.

Course of study for the Diploma in Pharmacy.

7. Any person seeking admission to the Course of study for Diploma in Pharmacy must have passed

(a) Matriculation Examination or High School Examination or Secondary School Leaving Certificate Examination, with Science as one of the subjects, of a recognised Indian University or a duly constituted Board; or

(b) Any other examination accepted by the Pharmacy Council of India as equivalent to any of the above examinations:

Provided the minimum qualification for persons desiring admission into the course may be relaxed with the prior approval of the Pharmacy Council of India.

8. The course of academic training shall be of two years' duration, with mum of 180 working days of 5 hours each per year, including sessional examinations, followed by a practical training of not less than 750 hours covered in not less than three months.

9. The first year and the second year courses shall include the respective subjects as given in the Table below: the number of hours to be devoted to each subject for its teaching—lecture and practical—shall be no less than that noted against it and the detailed Syllabus of each subject shall be at least as that given in Appendix A—

First Academic Year.

Subjects to be taught.	No. of hours of lecture.	No. of hours of practical work.
Inorganic and Physical Chemistry	100	250
Physics	50	100
Botany	50	100
Zoology	25	50
English	50	..
Anatomy, Physiology and Hygiene	50	30
	325	530

Second Academic Year.

Subjects to be taught.	No. of hours of lecture.	No. of hours o practical work
General Pharmacy	75	100
Dispensing Pharmacy	50	200
Forensic Pharmacy	25	..
Organic Chemistry and Pharmaceutical Chemistry ..	100	100
Pharmacognosy	45	90
Pharmacology	25	30
	320	520

N.B.—Each Lecture hour and practical hour shall consist of actual teaching or practical work extending over a period of not less than 50 minutes.

10. Pharmacists practising for not less than two years in hospitals, dispensaries and other institutions where regular dispensing of drugs is done, who possess Matriculation or other equivalent qualification, and are desirous of taking up the course of training for Diploma in Pharmacy shall be exempted from the practical training, and if they are otherwise eligible, shall be permitted to appear at the preliminary and the final examinations for Diploma in Pharmacy at intervals of six months only, if they have attended in substance the regular course in approved training Institutions providing part-time tuitions or evening classes to the satisfaction of the Heads of the Institutions concerned:

Provided that the provision of this rule will cease to operate on the expiry of five years from the date on which the Education Regulations take effect in West Bengal.

11. After the completion of the regular course, the students shall undergo a practical training in a recognised Institution, Hospital, Pharmacy or Dispensary for not less than 750 hours covered in not less than 3 months; during this course of training the student shall acquire—

(1) thorough knowledge of the keeping of records required by the various Acts affecting the profession of Pharmacy, and

(2) experience in—

(a) the manipulation of pharmaceutical apparatus in common use,

(b) the recognition, by sensory characters, of chief crude drugs and chemical substances used in medicine,

(c) the reading, translation and copying of prescriptions including the checking of doses,

(d) the dispensing of prescriptions illustrating the commoner methods of administering medicaments, and

(e) the storage of drugs and medicinal preparations.

PART III.

Conduct of Examinations for the Diploma in Pharmacy.

12. No person other than a student borne in the roll of an approved training institution and studying therein at the time, shall be eligible for appearing at the Examinations held by the Governing Body of the Faculty.

13. Every student as soon as he is admitted in an approved training institution shall apply in the Form given in Appendix B through the Superintendent of the institution with a fee of Rs. 2 for having his name registered in the Students' Register maintained by the Governing Body. A number will then be allotted to him in the register and intimated to him through the Superintendent.

No student other than one who has been so registered in the Students' Register shall be eligible for the examinations to be held by the Governing Body of the Faculty.

14. There shall be two examinations—the Preliminary Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy to examine students in the first year course and the Final Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy to examine students in the second year course, each being held twice every year ordinarily in March and September. The examination shall be of a written, practical and oral nature as indicated in the tabular statements in rules 15 and 18.

15. Only such students as produce certificates from the Head of the Institution concerned in proof of their having regularly followed the first year course of study by attending not less than 75 per cent. classes—both lecture and practical separately of each subject—shall be eligible for appearing at the Preliminary Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy to be conducted in accordance with the scheme given in the following Table:—

Preliminary Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy.

Subjects of Examination.	Total marks for theory including sessional.	Total marks for Practical Examination including sessional.	Oral Examination Marks.
Inorganic and Physical Chemistry ..	100	100	..
Physics	50	50	..
Botany, Zoology } Biology	50	50	..
English	50	..	..
Anatomy, Physiology and Hygiene ..	50	50	..
	300	250

N.B.—All written examinations shall be of three hours' duration.

16. Every candidate for the Preliminary Examination shall apply to the Secretary through the Superintendent of the approved training institution where he has been undergoing his study, in the Form given in Appendix C, together with the certificates from the Superintendent as required on the reverse of the form.

The fee payable for an application shall be such amount as may be prescribed by the Government of West Bengal from time to time. The fee is not refundable on any account.

17. No such application will be entertained unless it reaches the Secretary at least 21 days before the date notified for the commencement of the examination. An application received later but not later than 14 days before such notified date for the commencement of the examination may, on sufficient reasons being shown, be entertained provided that a late fee of Rs. 5 is paid for the delay.

18. Only such students as produce certificates from the Head of the Institutions concerned in proof of their having regularly followed the second-year course of study by attending not less than 75 per cent. classes, both lecture and practical separately of each subject having successfully passed the Preliminary Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy shall be eligible for appearing at the Final Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy as given in the Table below. If, however, the candidate has completed the first year course, his failure to appear or to pass the preliminary examination shall not debar him from attending the second year course:

Provided that a student who has passed the Intermediate Science Examination of a recognised University or Board shall be exempted from taking the prescribed courses and Examinations in those subjects in which he has passed the Intermediate Examination:

Provided further that such a student shall be permitted to join the second year course and shall be eligible for securing the Diploma in Pharmacy if he passed the Final Examination and also the Examinations in those subjects from which he has not been exempted.

Final Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy.

Subjects of examination.	Total marks for theory including sessional.	Total marks for Practical Examination including sessional.
General Pharmacy	50	50
Dispensing Pharmacy	50	100
Forensic Pharmacy	50	..
General Chemistry and Pharmaceutical Chemistry	100	100
Pharmacognosy	50	50
Pharmacology	50	..
	350	300

N.B.—All written examinations shall be of three hours' duration.

19. Every candidate for the Final Examination shall apply to the Secretary through the Superintendent of the approved training institution where he has been undergoing his study, in the Form given in Appendix D, together with the certificates from the Superintendent as required on the reverse of the form, and also a certificate—that he has passed the Preliminary Examination before the date of the Final Examination.

The fee payable for an application shall be such as may be prescribed by the Government of West Bengal from time to time. The fee is not refundable on any account.

20. No such application will be entertained unless it reaches the Secretary at least 21 days before the date notified for the commencement of the examination. An application received later but not later than 14 days before such notified date for the commencement of the examination, may, on sufficient reasons being shown, be entertained provided that a late fee of Rs. 5 is paid for the delay.

21. (a) A regular record of both theoretical and practical class work and examinations conducted in an institution imparting training for this course shall be maintained for each student and 30 per cent. of the total marks for each subject in theory and 40 per cent. of the total marks for each subject in practical shall be allotted for those records.

The sessional marks shall be calculated on the basis of the average of the marks secured in the examinations held during the year, which shall not be less than three in number.

(b) A candidate shall not be declared to have passed the above examinations unless he secures at least 40 per cent. marks in each subject separately in the written and practical tests (including sessional record) and 45 per cent. marks in the aggregate of all subjects. Candidates securing 75 per cent. marks or above in any subject or subjects shall be declared to have obtained distinction in that subject or those subjects provided the candidate passed in all the subjects in the same examination.

(c) A candidate who appears in all the subjects but fails in not more than two subjects at the Preliminary Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy may, at his option, take the examination in parts in one or more subjects in which he has failed, or in whole; provided, however, he passes in all the subjects prescribed for the examination in three consecutive examinations, or within a period of two years, including the examination at which he first appeared. If he does not pass the full examination within a period of two years as mentioned above he shall have to take the whole examination in all the subjects at the time, when he next appears at the examination.

A candidate who fails in the Final Examination for Diploma in Pharmacy may, at his option, take the examination in parts, in one or more subjects in which he has failed, or in whole; provided, however, he passes in all the subjects prescribed for the examination in three consecutive examinations or within a period of two years, includng the examination at which he first appeared. If he does not pass the full examination within a period of two years as mentioned above he shall have to take the whole examination in all the subjects at the time, when he next appears at the examination.

22. The rules of the Faculty for the conduct of examinations in sub-parts A to G, in Part VII of the Rules and Regulations of the Faculty, including the Special Instructions where the examination is held outside Calcutta, shall apply with necessary modifications to suit the subjects of the Examinations for Diploma in Pharmacy:

Provided that the scales of remuneration to Paper-setters, Examiners, Inspectors, Invigilators and other persons employed to conduct the examinations and the rates of travelling allowance and daily allowance to Examiners and Inspectors, shall be at such rates as may be laid down by the Government of West Bengal from time to time.

PART IV.

Award of the Diploma in Pharmacy.

23. (1) A candidate, who passes successfully the Final Examination, will be granted a Certificate of Diploma in Pharmacy only after he produces evidence of having duly completed not less than 750 hours' practical training covered in not less than three months, in a recognised institution to the satisfaction of the Head of the Institution in which he has undergone his academic training. He may apply to the Secretary, for the Diploma in Pharmacy through the Superintendent of the institution where he had undergone his academic training.

(2) Every such application shall be accompanied by a certificate from the authorities of the recognised hospital, pharmacy or dispensary, in the form given in Appendix E to these Rules, with all the particulars mentioned therein, and the Superintendent, shall forward the same to the Secretary, in the form given in Appendix F stating whether he considers him eligible to receive the Diploma in Pharmacy.

(3) The Governing Body may then, if satisfied that all the requirements prescribed by the Education Regulations have been fulfilled, issue the diploma which shall be in the form given in Appendix G:

Provided that the Board of Studies may, if satisfied accordingly, direct the issue of such diploma in anticipation of the approval of the Governing Body.

By order of the Governor,

N. C. KAR,

Dy. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

APPENDIX A.

(Vide rule 9.)

Inorganic and Physical Chemistry.

The whole of the syllabus should be treated in an elementary manner supplemented by practical demonstrations.

The chief characteristics of chemical action, distinction between elements and compounds, structure of atoms and molecules, chemical and physical changes, the laws of chemical combination by weight and volume, equivalent weight, atomic weight, molecular weight, symbols, chemical formulae and nomenclature; equations; valency; the distinction between metals and non-metals; acids, bases and salts; neutralisation, acidimetry and alkalimetry; periodic classification of elements; Avogadro's hypothesis; kinetic theory of gases, effect of temperature and pressure on the volumes of gases; dilute solutions; ionisation; conductivity; strength of acids and bases; pH scale, Buffer solutions, indicators; hydrolysis of salts; catalysis; solubility curves; solubility product; osmotic pressure; chemical equilibrium and the law of mass action; endothermic and exothermic reactions; colloids; emulsions; absorption.

The general characters of non-metals, the chief methods of preparation and the typical reactions of the following non-metallic elements and compounds:—

Hydrogen, Oxygen, Ozone, allotropic modifications of an element; Water; Hydrogen Peroxide; Acids, Bases, Salts; Halogen and their Hydracids; Nitrogen, Atmosphere, the Inert gases; Ammonia and its salts; Oxides of Nitrogen, Nitric Acid, Nitrates, Nitrites, Sulphur, Polymorphs of Sulphur; Sulphurated Hydrogen, Sulphurous and Sulphuric anhydrides and acids; Phosphorus; Oxides, Oxyacids and chlorides of phosphorus; Carbon, Coal and its chief products, Flame; Gaseous fuels, oxides of Carbon; Silica; Boron; Boric Acid.

The general characters and classification of the metals and the general methods of their extraction. The general properties of the principal compounds of the following metals:—

Potassium, Sodium, Magnesium, Calcium, Barium, Aluminium, Tin, Lead, Copper, Silver, Zinc, Cadmium, Mercury, Arsenic, Antimony, Bismuth, Chromium, Manganese, Iron, Cobalt, Nickel and Gold.

Practical.

1. The cutting and bending of glass tubing. The preparation of simple apparatus involving the use of corks and tubes, e.g., gas generating tubes and flasks, wash bottles, etc.

2. Preparation of simple gases, e.g., Hydrogen, Oxygen, Chlorine, Carbon Dioxide, Hydrogen Sulphide, Hydrochloric Acid and Sulphur Dioxide and study of their properties.

3. Qualitative analysis of simple salts.

4. The use of standard solutions for acidimetry and alkalimetry. Simple exercises in permanganemetry for iron.

5. Preparation of Distilled water B. P. and Hydrochloric acid B. P.

6. Simple exercises in gravimetric analysis; Decomposition of Salts on heating; qualitative and quantitative results of heating substances like magnesium carbonate, potassium chlorate, and hydrated barium chloride.

N.B.—The candidate is required to bring for inspection to the practical examination his original laboratory journal duly signed by a member of the teaching staff and certified at the end of the year by the head of the department.

6. Pauling: General Chemistry.
7. Timm: General Chemistry.

Physics.

General.—The fundamental and derived units of length, mass and time; measurement of length, area and volume; vernier callipers, micrometer; velocity, acceleration, mass, momentum, force, work, power, energy; friction; gravitation, centre of gravity, states of equilibrium, simple machines, density of liquids, specific gravity; pressure exerted by a fluid, principle of Archimedes, syphon, waterpump and press; Boyle's Law, compression and exhaust pumps, atmospheric pressure, barometers, surface tension, viscosity, osmosis.

Heat.—Temperature, thermometry, thermographs, expansions of solids, liquids and gases with alteration in temperature; quantity of heat and unit of heat, specific heat, change of state, latent heat of liquification and vapourisation, different methods of cooling, melting and boiling points, their determinations and effect of pressure on them; vapour pressure; hygrometry, dew and its formation, clouds, rain and its measurement; transference of heat, conduction, conductivity, Davy's safety lamp; convection, how it takes place in liquids and gases, winds, land and sea breezes, ventilation, use of chimney for lamps, radiation, its effect on polished and rough surfaces, vacuum flask; elementary kinetic theory of gases, Graham's Law, Henry's Law, Dalton's Law, nature of heat, relation between heat and work, steam engine, oil engine, flywheel.

Light.—Nature of light, propagation of light; illuminating power, photometry, Laws of reflection and refraction, formation of images by plane and sperical mirrors and lenses, reflectors, multiple images, eye as an optical instrument, photographic camera, defects of vision and their correction by lenses; action of prisms on light, dispersion, spectrum; ultraviolet and infra-red radiations, microscopes, spectro-scope, telescope, cinematograph, phosphorescence and fluorescence, polarimeters.

Magnetism.—Lead stone, magnetic needle, earth as a magnet, simple phenomena of magnetism, magnetic field, lines of force; laws of force, magnetic induction; electromagnets, permanent and temporary magnets; terrestrial magnetism.

Electricity.—Simple phenomena of static electricity; electroscope, attraction and repulsion, electricity on the surface, discharge through points, sparking; potential, induction, conductors and non-conductors, machines, capacity, parallel plate condensers; electric currents, magnetic, chemical and heating effects, primary and secondary cells, current strength, electromotive force, Ohm's law and current detector, ammeter, voltmeter, meter bridge, potentiometer, magnetic properties of a coil carrying a current, induced current; simple dynamo; electric bell, telephone; effects of electric current; incandescent lamp, arc lamp; heating apparatus.

Practical Course.

The candidate must be able to conduct simple exercises illustrating the above, including the following:—

The use of vernier callipers, screw-gauge, balance, hydrometer; simple pendulum; the determination of volumes by weighing in air and water, density of solids and liquids; the verification of Boyle's Law.

The determination of melting points, boiling points, specific heats, latent heats of fusion, dew point.

Tracing the paths of rays, the determination of refractive indices of slab and prism; focal lengths of mirrors and lenses.

Plotting the lines of magnetic force, and period of oscillation of magnets.

The comparison of electromotive forces and of resistances; the use of galvanometer, ammeter and voltmeter.

Botany.

1. Relation of Botany to Pharmacy—The broad divisions of the Plant Kingdom—Botanical nomenclature.

2. Elementary external morphology of—

(a) Roots.

(b) Rhizomes.

(c) Corms.

(d) Bulbs.

(e) Stems.

(f) Leaves.

(g) Flowers.

(h) Fruits.

(i) Seeds and Spores and their Germination.

3. Elementary structure and formation of—

(a) Cells.

(b) Tissues and tissue systems.

4. Histological structure of—

(a) Roots—

(1) Young.

(2) Old.

(b) Stems—

(1) Young.

(2) Old.

(c) Leaves.

(d) Hairs and glands.

5. Elementary principles of classification:—(a) Cryptogams, (b) Phanerogams with special reference to the following natural orders; Liliaceae, Solanaceae, Besecene, Umbeltiferae, Compositae Lequminesae.

Elementary Plant Physiology illustrated by simple experiments—

(i) Food materials of plants and their sources and form.

(ii) Absorption of water.

(iii) Movement of water and gases within the plant.

(iv) Transpiration.

(v) Nutrition and metabolism.

(vi) Digestion and respiration.

(vii) Growth and reproduction—Sexual and asexual.

(viii) Reserve materials.

(9) Physiology of nervous system—Functions of the cerebrum, cerebellum, midbrain parts, medulla and the spinal cord. Functions of the cranial and the spinal nerves. Functions of the autonomic nervous system. Functions of the organs of special senses.

Practical.

Identification of various charts, models and microscopic slides illustrative of the theory work of Human Anatomy and Physiology. Blood counting and qualitative analysis of urine and stool.

Hygiene.

(1) Air: ventilation of houses and factories, schools and public places.

(2) Water: purification of water, water supply.

(3) Disposal of Sewage.

(4) Drainage.

(5) Food: requisite of a balanced diet; impurities of food.

(6) Infectious diseases; their prevention.

(7) Personal hygiene.

(8) Disinfectants.

(9) Mode of infection in blood and intestines by parasites.

(10) Life history of mosquitoes and flies.

(11) Spread of disease: contact diseases, venereal diseases, leprosy, droplet infections: water-borne diseases; air-borne diseases, diseases carried by insects.

Books indicating the general scope of syllabus.

1. Human Physiology: Fournean.

2. Living Bodies: Banting and Best.

Reference books.

1. Handbook of Physiology and Biochemistry: W. D. Halliburton & R. J. S. McDowall, London.

2. A Handbook of Modern Physiology: R. K. Pal and A. Chakravarti —Calcutta.

3. Text Book of Anatomy and Physiology: D. C. Kimber & E. Gray, 1948 Macmillan & Co., New York.

4. A Treatise on Hygiene and Public Health: Birendra Nath Ghosh, Hilton & Co., Calcutta.

5. Manual of Hygiene and Public Health: Jahar Lal Das, Calcutta.

General Pharmacy.

(a) Principles of Pharmacy—

Metrology.—Measurement of weight and volume and appliances used thereof.

Heat.—Sources and uses of heat in Pharmacy;

Heat Processes.—Fusion, ignition, calcination, drying, desiccation, exsiccation, evaporation, distillation and sublimation;

Refrigeration.—Principles and use of refrigerators, cold storage and freeze drying.

Solids.—Precipitation, crystallization, granulating and sealing;

Solutions.—Types, solubility, solvents, properties of solutions, like osmosis, viscosity, surface tension, adsorption, ionization and pH;

Colloidal state.—Colloids, suspensoids and emulsoids;

Mechanical separation.—Decantation, filtration, colation, centrifugal separation and other means of clarification;

Drugs of Vegetable and Animal Origin.—Collection, drying and storage, enzyme action in drugs;

Mechanical subdivision of Drugs and Chemicals.—Comminution, trituration, mixing and sifting;

Extraction processes. Expression, infusion, decoction, maceration, percolation, diacolation and diffusion;

Apparatus and aids involved in the above processes.

(b) Galenical Pharmacy—

General methods of preparation of official Galenicals.—Aquas, infusions, spirits, tinctures, extracts, liniments, liquors, plasters, poultices, syrups, glycerines, elixirs, confections, juices, powders, mucilages and tablets.

Preservation and Storage of Pharmaceutical Products.

General composition of official galenicals.

(c) Biological Pharmacy—

Elementary knowledge of Bacteriology and Immunity as applied to Sera, Vaccines, Toxins, Antitoxins and Antibiotics, Vitamins, Hormones, Dried Serum, Extract of Liver, Extract of Pituitary (Post. Lobe), and Protein Hydrolysates.

(d) Ethics in Pharmacy—

Pharmaceutical Profession and its Responsibilities; Institution of Pharmacy in relation to Society; Pharmacists in relation to Doctors, Nurses, Patients, Customers, Public Wholesale Dealers, Employers and Employees; Codes of Conduct in Dispensing and Advertising of Drugs and Medicines with special reference to Poisons, Narcotics, Abortifacients and Contraceptives; Rules of Receiving, Dispensing, Checking and Delivery of Prescriptions; Fair Pricing and Fair Service.

(e) Pharmaceutical Economics—

Elements of Double entry Book-keeping and Accountancy; Drug Store Organization; Business Correspondence; Filing; Advertising; Location and Management of Drug Stores and Dispensaries; Prescription Pricing;

Practical.

A Scheme of 100 hours to include preparation of Simple Pharmaceutical Products such as:—

Aqua Anethi, B.P.
Aqua Pudinae Dest., I.P.L.
Aqua Chloroformi, B.P.
Liq. Ext. of Belladonna, B.P.

Dispensing Pharmacy.

(a) Principles of Dispensing—

Prescription.—Definition, significance and handling;

Accuracy and care in dispensing;

Form of Administering Medicines;

Labelling and Packing of and Containers for Dispensed Medicines; and a thorough study of the following:—

Mixtures.—Definition, classification, mixtures containing insoluble (diffusible and indiffusible) solids, immiscible and precipitate forming liquids, etc.;

Emulsions.—Theory, natural and synthetic emulgents, stability, types—gum soap, protein, starch, natural and synthetic wax and wool alcohol emulsions, O/W and W/O. Emulsions, Emulsifiers;

Incompatible Prescriptions.—Pharmaceutical and chemical (inorganic and organic), incompatibility, intentional and unintentional and adjusted incompatibility, handling of incompatible prescriptions;

Powders.—Trituration, simple compound and effervescent powders, compressed powders—tablets triturates, powders enclosed in cachets and capsules, powders containing liquids and those for external use;

Pills.—Excipients, coating and varnishing, enteric pills, pills containing small doses, oxidising substances, camphor and camphoraceous and oily substances, pill machines;

Tablets.—Granulation and its importance, diluents, granulating agents, adhesives, disintegrants, lubricants in tablet making, compression and tablet machine, sugar coating and polishing of tablets;

Lotions and Liniments;

Ointments and Creams.—Ointment bases and their choice, emulsified ointments and creams, penicillin ointments and creams;

Pastes.—Gelatine, starch, tigacanth, soap and cellulose ether pastes;

Suppositories.—Forms, shapes and sizes, suppository bases, suppository moulds, displacement value of medicaments, glycerine, cocobutter, gelatine and soap-glycerine suppository containing various types of medicines;

Solutions.—Inhalations, nasal sprays, throat paints and gargles, eye and ear preparations;

Pastilles and Lozenges;

Plasters;

Dental preparations.—Various dentifrices and mouth washes;

Dermatological preparations;

Sterilized preparations.—Routes of parenteral administration of medicines and importance of sterilization, isotonic solutions, apyrogenic water, containers for sterilized preparations, limit of alkalinity of glass, transfusion sets, sterilization by heating and filtration, chemicals used in sterilization, bactericides, disinfectants, bacteriostatics and antiseptics and their use, phenol co-efficient, Rideal Walker (R.W.) and Chick Martin Tests, sterilization of surgical dressings and appliances, autoclaves, bacteria proof filters, tests of sterility of medicaments and dressings, precautions for asepsis.

Apparatus and Equipments required for dispensing Medicines.

(b) Posology.—Detection of overdoses in prescriptions.

(c) Pharmaceutical Latin.—Latin as required in interpretation of prescriptions and their translation into English.

Practical.

A scheme of 200 hours of Practical Work including the following:—

(a) Dispensing of not less than 200 prescriptions covering a wide range of medicinal preparations including all the classes listed under "Dispensing Pharmacy" maintaining complete record of each.

(b) Differentiation of bacteria, yeasts and moulds; examination of bacterial slides, preparation of culture media, tests of sterility of different kinds of medicaments and surgical dressings, ligatures and sutures.

An elementary study of the inorganic and organic substances described in the British Pharmacopoeia and the Indian Pharmacopoeial List, with special reference to the following:—

I. Inorganic.

(a) Oxygen and its compounds—

Oxygen, Carbon dioxide, Nitrous Oxide, Distilled water, Hydrogen Peroxide.

(b) Halogens, Sulphur and their compounds—

Chlorine.—Chlorinated lime, surgical solution of chlorinated soda, Hydrochloric Acid.

Bromine.—Hydrobromic Acid.

Iodine.—Iodine, Iodine solutions, Iodised oil, Hydrogen Iodide.

Sulphur.—Sulphur, Sulphuric Acid.

Nitrogen.—Ammonia, Ammonium Bicarbonate, Ammonium Carbonate, Aromatic Spirit of Ammonia, Aromatic Solution of Ammonia, Ammonium Chloride, Ammonium Acetate, Nitric Acid.

Phosphorus.—Hydrophosphorus Acid, Phosphoric Acid.

(d) Compounds of Boron and Silicon—

Boron.—Boric Acid, Borax.

Silicon.—Kaolin, Magnesium Trisilicate.

(e) Compounds of Sodium and Potassium—

Sodium.—Sodium Hydroxide, Sodium Carbonate, Sodium Bicarbonate, Sodium Chloride, Sodium Bromide, Sodium Iodide, Sodium Sulphate, Sodium Thiosulphate, Sodium Nitrite, Sodium Phosphate, Sodium Acid Phosphate.

Potassium.—Potassium Hydroxide, Potassium Carbonate, Potassium Bicarbonate, Potassium Bromide, Potassium Iodide, Potassium Nitrate, Potassium Chloride, Potassium Permanganate, Potassium Sulphate.

(f) Compounds of Copper and Silver—

Copper.—Copper Sulphate, Copper Oxide.

Silver.—Silver Nitrate, Toughened Silver Nitrate.

(g) Compounds of Calcium and Barium—

Calcium.—Calcium Hydroxide, Calcium Carbonate, Chalk, Calcium Chloride, Calcium Phosphate.

Barium.—Barium Sulphate.

(h) Compounds of Magnesium, Zinc, Mercury and Lead—

Magnesium.—Magnesium Oxide, Mixture of Magnesium Hydroxide, Magnesium Carbonate, Magnesium Sulphate.

Zinc.—Zinc Oxide, Zinc Chloride, Zinc Sulphate.

Mercury.—Mercury, Mercury with Chalk, Yellow Mercuric Oxide, Mercuric Oxycyanide, Mercuric Chloride, Ammoniated Mercury, Red Mercuric Iodide, Mercurous Chloride, Black Mercurial Lotion.

Lead.—Lead Monoxide, Lead Subacatate.

(i) Compounds of Arsenic, Antimony and Bismuth—

Arsenic.—Arsenic Trioxide, Arsenic Triodide, Solution of Arsenous and Mercuric Iodides.

Antimony.—Potassium Antimony Tartarate.

Bismuth.—Precipitated Bismuth, Bismuth Oxychloride.

(j) Compounds of Iron, Aluminium and Chromium—

Iron.—Reduced Iron, Ferrous Sulphate, Citrated Ferrous Chloride, Ferric Chloride, Saccharated Iron Carbonate, Syrup of Ferrous Iodide, Compound Syrup of Ferrous Phosphate with Strychnine, Iron Ammonium Citrate, Iron and Quinine Citrate.

Aluminium.—Alum.

Chromium.—Chromium Trioxide.

II. Organic.

This part will include also the study of General Organic Chemistry, that is, the definition of organic compounds; purification, criteria of purity; elementary analysis of organic compounds; empirical and molecular formula; constitution and classification; homology, isomerism and polymerism; elementary study of the chemical and physical properties of the different groups of organic substances with special reference to the following:—

(a) Aliphatic compounds—

Halogen Derivatives of Hydrocarbons.—Ethyl Chloride, Chloroform, Iodoform, Carbon Tetrachloride.

Monohydric Alcohols.—Methyl Alcohol. Ethyl Alcohol, Industrial Methylated Spirit, Chlorobutol.

Ethers.—Ethyl Ether.

Thio-alcohols and Thio-ethers.—Sulphonal, Methyl Sulphonal.

Aldehydes and Ketones.—Formaldehyde, Hexamine, Paraldehyde, Chloral Hydrate, Acetone.

Monobasic Carboxylic Acids and their derivatives.—Formic Acid, Acetic Acid, Lead Acetate, Potassium Acetate, Trichloracetic Acid, Calcium Lactate, Lead Oleate, Oleated Mercury; Zinc Stearate, Soaps.

Esters.—Ethyl Nitrate, Spirit of Nitrous Ether, Amyl Nitrite, Polyhydric Alcohols and their esters.

Glycerin.—Glyceryl Trinitrate, Erythrityl, Tetra Nitrate.

Polybasic Carboxylic Acids.—Lactic Acid, Tartaric Acid, Potassium Antimony Tartarate, Sodium Antimonyl Tartarate, Potassium Acid Tartarate, Sodium Bismuthyl Tartarate, Citric Acid, Sodium Citrate, Potassium Citrate, Iron Ammonium Citrate.

Carbohydrates.—Dextrose, Liquid Glucose, Sucrose, Laevulose, Lactose.

Cyanogen Compounds.—Hydrocyanic Acid, Urea, Urethane.

Carbocylic Compounds.—Soluble Saccharine and Chloramines. Acetanilide, Amphetamine, Sulphanilamide, Phenol, Phenacetin, Trinitro-phenol, Cresol, Thymol, Creosote, Resorcinol, Adrenaline; Phenolphthalein, Benzoic Acid, Sodium Benzoate, Benzyl Benzoate, Benzocaine, Procaine, Orthocaine, Amylocaine, Salicylic Acid, Methyl Salicylate, Sodium Salicylate, Bismuth Salicylate, Acetyl Salicylic Acid, Mandelic Acid, Salol, Tannic Acid.

Control of purity of official Pharmaceutical substances.

An elementary study of proteins, fats, alkaloids and glycosides, purines, vitamins, hormones and enzymes.

Practical.

The candidates must be able to conduct simple chemical operations as applied to substances in frequent use in pharmacy, including the following:—

(1) Identification of pure official inorganic compounds.

(2) Assay of important drugs using simple volumetric methods of estimation of sulphate by gravimetric methods.

(3) The performance of limit tests for the presence of As., Pb., Cl., Fe., SO_4.

(4) Purification of solids and liquids; preparation of simple organic substances ethyl acetate or benzoate, acetanilide, acetamide, iodoform; hydrolysis of ethyl benzoate or methyl salicylate; reactions of typical groups of compounds; tests for elements; Identification of simple organic substances studied in the theory by a study of their properties and reactions.

(5) Tests for alkaloids, proteins, carbohydrates, glucosides and tannins.

N.B.—The candidate is required to bring for inspection to the practical examination his original laboratory journal duly signed by a member of the teaching staff and certified at the end of the year by the head of the department.

Books indicating the general scope of Syllabus.

1. Lyons: Theoretical Pharmaceutical Chemistry.
2. Schroff: Impurities in Pharmaceutical Substances.
3. Cohen: Class Book of Organic Chemistry.

Reference Books.

1. Bentley and Driver: Text Book of Pharmaceutical Chemistry.
2. Lyons and Appleyard: Practical Pharmaceutical Chemistry.
3. Rogers: Inorganic Pharmaceutical Chemistry.
4. Garrat: Drugs and Galenicals.
5. Durrant: Organic Chemistry.

Pharmacognosy.

Systematic Scheme of study for Drugs included in the Primary List—

(i) Official titles, names and synonyms.
(ii) Scientific names-genus, species, variety and family.
(iii) Part of the plant used.
(iv) Geographical sources.
(v) Plant habit.
(vi) Cultivation.
(vii) Collection.
(viii) Preparation for the market.

(a) Microscopic (including diagramatic transverse section whenever possible).

(b) Microscopic (Starch, Calcium Oxalate and Trichomes only).

(x) Varieties, substitutes and adulterants.
(xi) Constituents, active or otherwise.
(xii) Chemical tests.
(xiii) Storage.
(xiv) Pharmacological and Pharmaceutical use.

34202-

Primary List.

Organised—

Wood	...	...	Quassia.
Bark	...	...	Cinnamon, Cinchona.
Leaves	...	...	Senna, Digitalis.
Flowers	...	...	Cloves.
Seeds	...	...	Nux Vomica, Isapghul.
Fruits	...	...	Fennel, Cardamom.
Entire organisms		...	Ergot, Ephedra, Stramonium.
Underground organs		...	Liquorice, Ginger.

Unorganised—

Dried juices and extracts	...	Opium, Aloe and Agar.
Carbohydrates, Gums and Saccharine substances	... ...	Starch, Acacia and Honey.
Resins, Gum Resins, Oloo-resins	...	Colophony, Asafoetida, Balsam of Tolu.
Fixed oils and waxes	... ...	Castor oil, Shark Liver oil, Bees wax.

Systematic scheme of Study for Drugs included in the Secondary List—

(i) Official titles and synonyms.
(ii) Parts of the plants or animals used.
(iii) Active Constituents.
(iv) Pharmacological and Pharmaceutical use.

Secondary List.

Aconitum.	Cannabis Indica.	Gentiana.	Podophyllum.
Anethum.	Cantharis.	Hyoscyamus.	Indicum.
Arjuna.	Capsicum.	Ipecacuanna.	Prunus Scrotina.
Atrantil cortex.	Carum.	Ipomea.	Quillaia.
Benzoinum.	Cascara Sagrada.	Jalapa.	Rheum.
Buchu.	Catechu.	Kaladana.	Scilla.
Balsamum.	Cocoa.	Kurchi.	Senega.
Peruvianum.	Colchici Cormus.	Kuth.	Sennae Fructus.
Bel.	Colchici.	Limonis. Cortex.	Strophanthus.
Belladonnae	Samen.	Linum.	Styrax.
Folium.	Colocynthis.	Lobelia.	Tamarindus.
Belladonnae	Copaiba.	Myristica.	Targacanth.
Radix.	Coriandrum.	Mel.	Valerian.
Calumba.	Gelatinum.	Myrrha.	Vasaka.

Practical.

The candidate must be prepared to:—

(1) Record the microscopical characters (including Diagramatic transverse section) of a drug whether included in the syllabus or not.

(2) Identify drugs listed in the Primary List in bulk or in crushed (not powdered) condition.

(3) Identify drugs mentioned in the Secondary list in bulk.

Note.—The candidate will be required to bring for inspection to the Practical Examination his original laboratory note books duly signed by the teacher.

Book indicating the general scope of syllabus.

A Text book of Pharmacognosy, by T. C. Denston.

Reference books.

(1) A Text-book of Pharmacognosy, by Wallis.

(2) A Text-book of Pharmacognosy, by Trease.

(3) A Text-book of Pharmacognosy, by Youngken.

Elementary Pharmacology.

I.—General—

(1) Definitions.
(2) The chemical characters of drugs.
(3) Mode of actions of drugs.
(4) Conditions modifying the effects of drugs.
(5) Methods of administration of drugs.
(6) The pharmacopoeias and pharmacopoeial preparations.
(7) Biological assay.

II.—Classification of drugs acting on different systems, seat of action of different groups of drugs. Elementary knowledge of the actions and uses of the commonly used remedies with their doses and methods of administration.

Practical.

Practical demonstrations in Experimental Pharmacology illustrating actions of drugs on different systems.

Books indicating the general scope of syllabus.

DECLARATIONS.

Burdwan.—No. 12684L.A.—1st July 1955.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that land is needed for a public purpose, not being a purpose of the Union, namely, for the excavation of 14A/B.C. from chainage 971 to chainage 1083·70 in connection with the Damodar Flood Control Project in the villages of Sila, Kurchi and Postgram, jurisdiction list Nos. 69, 71 and 124, respectively, thana Katwa, district Burdwan, it is hereby declared that pieces of land comprising cadastral survey plots as detailed below, and altogether measuring, more or less, ·51 of an acre, are needed for the aforesaid public purpose at the expense of the Damodar Valley Corporation within the aforesaid villages of Sila, Kurchi and Postgram :—

DISTRICT BURDWAN.

Thana Katwa.

Village Sila, jurisdiction list No. 69.

Cadastral survey plot in part—172.

Village Kurchi, jurisdiction list No. 71.

Cadastral survey plot in part—2974.

Village Postgram, jurisdiction list No. 124.

Cadastral survey plots in part—385 and 582.

Mines of coal, iron-stone, slate or other minerals lying under the land or any particular portion of the land, except only such parts of the mines and minerals as it may be necessary to dig or carry away or use in the construction of the work for the purpose of which the land is being acquired, are not needed.

This declaration is made, under the provisions of section 6 of Act I of 1894, and section 3, clause (1), Act XVIII of 1885, to all whom it may concern.

A plan of the land may be inspected in the office of the Special Land Acquisition Collector, Damodar Valley Project, Burdwan.

Hooghly.—No. 12686L.A.—1st July 1955.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that land is needed for a public purpose, not being a purpose of the Union, namely, for Distributary N/3 from chainage 239·00 to chainage 285·00 in connection with the Damodar Flood Control Project, in the village of Baruipara, jurisdiction list No. 85, thana Singur, zilla Hooghly, it is hereby declared that pieces of land comprising cadastral survey plots as detailed below; and altogether measuring, more or less, 1·21 acres, are needed for the aforesaid public purpose at the expense of the Damodar Valley Corporation within the aforesaid village of Baruipara:—

DISTRICT HOOGHLY.

Thana Singur.

DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT.

Development.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 4256/1S-79/54.—27th June 1955.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Governor has been pleased to make the following rules to regulate the grant of loans by the Government of West Bengal to individual persons under the Low-Income Group Housing Scheme, namely,—

Rules.

1. A person who does not already own a house but owns a plot of land and whose income does not exceed Rs. 6,000 per annum is eligible to apply for a loan under the Low-Income Group Housing Scheme for the purpose of constructing a residential house:

Provided that a person who already owns a house but whose income does not exceed Rs. 6,000 per annum may apply for a loan if the additional house is needed for his bona fide residential purposes:

Provided further that as the Central Government in the Ministry of Works, Housing and Supply will entertain applications from the Central Government employees, such employees shall not be eligible to apply to the State Government for a loan.

2 Applications for loans for the construction of residential houses within the Calcutta municipal area should be submitted to the Administrative Officer for Housing in the Development Department and those for the construction of houses outside that area to the District Officer of the district in which the site of the proposed house is situated.

3. All applications for loan under the Scheme should reach the Administrative Officer or the District Officer concerned on or before the 31st July 1955.

4. The application should be in the form prescribed in Appendix I.

5. (a) The applicant shall have to submit the following documents along with his application:—

(i) copies of documents showing the applicant's title to the land on which he proposes to build the house;

(ii) a site plan, a building plan, design and an estimate of cost of the proposed building, duly approved by the municipality, if the land is situated within the jurisdiction of a municipality, in duplicate.

(b) Applications which may be admitted after a preliminary examination will be finally sanctioned on the production of original title-deeds and certificates of searches in the Registration Offices to show that the properties are free from encumbrances.

6. A house for the construction of which, a loan is wanted, should at least be a two-roomed one and should provide not less than 380 square feet and normally not more than 1,200 square feet of floor area.

7. (1) The loan is limited to a figure of 80 per cent. of the actual estimated cost of the house inclusive of the cost of land on which the house is proposed to be constructed subject to a maximum of Rs. 8,000 per house.

(2) Government will have the right not to grant any loan or to grant a reduced amount of loan on any application without showing any reason.

(3) Government will also have the right not to grant the second or third instalments if they find on inspection that the construction is not proceeding according to the plan and that the approved building materials are not being used.

8. The loan will be disbursed by the Administrative Officer, Housing, Development Department in Calcutta and by the District Officers in districts in three instalments. The first instalment representing 20 per cent. of the sanctioned loan will be advanced on the application being granted by Government. The second instalment representing 30 per cent. of the total loan will be disbursed when the construction has reached the plinth level and the third or last instalment representing 50 per cent. of the total loan will be disbursed when the construction has reached the roof level.

9. The loanee will have to execute an Agreement with the Government in the form in Appendix II before the first instalment of the loan is disbursed. The loanee will have at a later stage but in any case before the payment of the last instalment of loan to execute a mortgage deed as in Appendix III in favour of the Government mortgaging the house together with the plot of land on which the house stands. The loanee will also have to furnish two personal sureties in the form as in Appendix IV, each duly attested by a Gazetted Officer.

10. The loan will be recovered in 16 equal annual instalments commencing from a date after the expiry of one year from the date of payment of the last instalment of the loan.

11. The loan will carry an interest at 6 per cent. per annum from the date on which it is advanced. A rebate of 1 per cent. per annum will be allowed to those who make payments of the annual instalment together with the interest on the outstanding principal within the anniversary date of the loan. Interest on the outstanding principal is payable annually along with the instalment of the loan.

12. Loanees are bound to allow any officer of Government to check the construction on the spot at any reasonable time and to complete the construction within four months from the date of payment of the last instalment of the loan.

By order of the Governor,

S. K. DEY,
Development Commissioner and ex-officio Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT made this day of One thousand nine hundred and fifty-five BETWEEN son/wife of of hereinafter referred to as the "BORROWER" (which expression shall unless excluded by or repugnant to the context be deemed to include his heirs executors administrators representatives and assigns) of the ONE PART AND THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF WEST BENGAL hereinafter referred to as the "GOVERNOR" (which expression shall unless excluded by or repugnant to the context be deemed to include his successor in office and assigns) of the OTHER PART;

WHEREAS the Borrower is seised and possessed of or otherwise well and sufficiently entitled to the lands hereditament and premises hereinafter mentioned and described in the Schedule hereunder written as absolute proprietor in possession;

AND WHEREAS the Borrower has applied to the Government of West Bengal (hereinafter referred to as the "Government") for a loan of Rs. (Rupees) to enable him to build a house on the said lands hereditaments and premises for the residence of himself and his family on certain terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned and the Government has agreed to grant the said loan to the Borrower.

WITNESSETH AND IT IS HEREBY AGREED AND DECLARED as follows:—

1. That the amount of Rs. (Rupees) so agreed to be advanced by the Government to the Borrower shall be advanced in instalments as follows:—

(a) 20 per cent. of the loan namely Rs. a month before the commencement of the building by the Borrower on the plot of land hereditaments and premises hereinafter mentioned and described in the Schedule hereunder written;

(b) 30 per cent. of the loan, namely Rs. , on the construction of the building being done up to the plinth level;

(c) the balance 50 per cent. of the loan, namely Rs. on the construction of the building reaching the roof level.

2. That the whole amount of the said loan shall, as advanced from time to time, be wholly and solely applied by the Borrower for the purposes for which the said advances are made, namely, for construction of a building for the residence of the Borrower and his family and shall not be used or utilised by the Borrower for any other purpose whatsoever and the Borrower shall, on being called upon by any officer authorised in that behalf, produce statements of accounts with supporting vouchers before such officer to satisfy that the said advances have been duly utilised and spent for the said purposes,

3. That the Borrower shall build the house after having the site plan, building plan, specification, design, estimates and lay out approved by the Government or any of its officer or officers authorised in that behalf by the Government.

4. That the Borrower shall commence the construction of the said building within a month after receipt of the said 20 per cent. of the loan so agreed to be advanced as provided in Clause 1 hereof and the construction of the building shall be completed by the Borrower within 4 months from the date of payment of the last instalment of the loan.

5. That the plan shall be so prepared that the building shall have not less than 380 square feet of floor area and not more than 1,200 square feet of floor area and the building shall have at least two living rooms.

6. That the Borrower shall allow and afford every facility and opportunity to any officer or officers of the Government deputed for the purpose for inspecting and verifying the work of the construction of the said building and the materials used for the said purpose.

7. That the Borrower shall pay to the Government interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum on the amount for the time being remaining due and owing by the Borrower to the Government PROVIDED HOWEVER that if the Borrower shall pay the instalments with interest payable on the amount of the loan for the time being remaining due and payable by the Borrower to the Government duly within the period limited for the payment thereof as is hereinafter provided, then the Government shall accept interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum in lieu of interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum.

8. That the loan so agreed to be advanced as aforesaid shall be repayable by the Borrower in 16 equal annual instalments, the first of such instalments being payable within one year from the date of the advance of the whole amount of the loan and the subsequent instalments in the succeeding years respectively.

9. That the amount of the loan shall be duly secured by the Borrower on being called upon by the Government by executing and registering a Bond and Mortgage along with two Sureties as may be approved by the Government binding the Borrower and the Sureties, their respective heirs, executors, administrators, representatives and assigns to repay the said amount with the interest payable thereon in manner hereinbefore provided and mortgaging and charging in favour of the Governor the said land hereditaments and premises mentioned and described in the Schedule hereunder written and the building structures and erections to be constructed thereon in such form and containing such terms conditions and covenants as may be prescribed by the Government.

10. Should the Borrower fail and neglect to observe perform and fulfil any of the terms and conditions herein contained then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, the whole of the said sum or the amount for the time being remaining due and owing by the Borrower to the Government with the interest thereon shall forthwith become due and payable by the Borrower to the Government and shall be recoverable as a public demand under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act,

(Note: Here insert the full description of the land to be built upon.)

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties to these presents have hereunto set and subscribed their respective hands and seals the day month and year first above written.

APPENDIX III.

THIS INDENTURE made this day of One thousand nine hundred and fifty-five BETWEEN son/wife of , residing at , hereinafter referred to as "the BORROWER" (which expression shall unless excluded by or repugnant to the context be deemed to include his heirs executors administrators representatives and assigns) of the One Part AND THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF WEST BENGAL, hereinafter referred to as "the GOVERNOR" (which expression shall unless excluded by or repugnant to the context be deemed to include his successors in office and assigns) of the Other Part;

WHEREAS the Borrower is seised and possessed of or are otherwise well and sufficiently entitled as absolute proprietor in possession thereof to the plot of land hereditaments and premises hereinafter more particularly described in the Schedule hereunder written;

AND WHEREAS the Borrower has applied to the Government of West Bengal (hereinafter referred to as "the Government") for a loan of Rs. (Rupees) to enable him to build a house upon the said land hereditaments and premises respectively for the residence of himself and the members of his family and the Government has agreed to grant the said loan to the Borrower on certain terms and conditions hereinafter appearing in instalments as hereinafter provided;

AND WHEREAS it has been agreed that the said amount of Rs. (Rupees) so agreed to be advanced by the Government to the Borrower shall be advanced in instalments following, that is to say,—

(a) 20 per cent. of the loan, viz., Rs. (Rupees) a month before the commencement of the construction of the building by the Borrower on the said plot of land hereditaments and premises of the Borrower mentioned and described in the Schedule hereunder written.

(b) 30 per cent. of the loan, viz., Rs. (Rupees) on the construction of the said building being done up to the plinth level.

(c) The balance 50 per cent. of the loan, viz., Rs. (Rupees) on the construction of the said building reaching the roof level.

NOW THIS INDENTURE WITNESSETH that in consideration of the said sum of Rs. (Rupees) so paid and agreed to be paid in instalments as aforesaid the Borrower doth hereby agree and covenant with the Governor as follows:—

1. That the whole amount of the said loan shall as advanced from time to time be wholly and solely applied by the Borrower for the construction of the building for the residence of the Borrower and his family on the said plot of land hereditaments and premises of the Borrower mentioned in Schedule hereunder written and shall not be used or shall not be allowed to be used or utilised by the Borrower for any other purpose whatsoever and the Borrower shall on being called upon by any Officer of the Government authorised in that behalf produce statements of account and supporting vouchers before such Officer for his satisfaction that the said advances have been duly utilised and spent for the said purposes.

2. That the Borrower shall build the house after having the site plan, building plan, specification, design, estimate and lay out approved by the Government or any of its officer or officers authorised in that behalf and that the Borrower shall commence the construction of the said building within a month after receipt of the said first instalment, that is to say, 20 per cent. of the loan so to be advanced to the Borrower and that the construction of the building shall be completed by the Borrower within four months from the commencement of the construction of such building and that the plans shall be so prepared that the building to be constructed shall each have not less than 380 square feet and not more than 1,200 square feet of floor area and such building shall have at least two living rooms and that the Borrower shall from time to time allow and afford every facility and liberty to any Officer or Officers of the Government deputed for the purpose for inspecting and verifying the work of the construction of the said building and the materials used for such purpose.

3. That the Borrower shall pay to the Government interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum on the amount for the time being remaining due and owing by the Borrower to the Government PROVIDED HOWEVER that if the Borrower shall pay the instalments with interest payable on the amount of the loan for the time being due and payable by the Borrower to the Government duly within the period limited for the payment thereof as is hereinafter provided then the Government shall accept interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum in lieu of interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum.

4. ORDERS.

No. 1978M.P.—27th June 1955.—1. Whereas the Basirhat Samabaya Bidyut Silpa Pratisthan, Limited, the licensee of the Basirhat Electric License, 1952, hereinafter referred to as the said licensee, has failed to complete the compulsory works specified in sub-clause (i) of clause 6 of the Basirhat Electric License, 1952, within the period specified in the said sub-clause;

2. And whereas by subsequent orders of the Government, contained in the Government of West Bengal, Commerce and Industries Department, letter No. 1684M.P., dated the 26th June 1954, the time for the completion of the said compulsory works was extended till the 31st December 1954, in relaxation of the period stipulated under sub-clause (i) of clause 6 of the said license;

3. And whereas the said licensee has not been able either to complete the said compulsory works or to show any satisfactory progress in the matter of completion of the said compulsory works within the extended period referred to above and has thereby, in the opinion of the Governor, failed to comply with the provisions of sub-clause (i) of clause 6 of the said license and broken the terms and conditions of the said provisions, the breach of which is expressly declared by sub-clause 20 of the said license to render the license liable to revocation;

4. And whereas the said licensee has failed to show, to the satisfaction of the Governor, either within the period fixed by sub-clause (i) of clause 6 of the license or within the extended period referred to above, that it is in a position to discharge the duties and obligations imposed on it by the said license, fully and efficiently;

5. And whereas in the opinion of the Governor, the Basirhat Electric License, 1952, is, by reason of the aforesaid facts and circumstances, liable to revocation under clause (b) and sub-clause (i) of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910);

6. And whereas, by the Government of West Bengal, Commerce and Industries (Mines and Power) Department, notice No. 1106M.P., dated the 10th March 1955, the said licensee was given an opportunity of showing cause as to why the Basirhat, Electric License, 1952, should not be revoked under clause (b) and sub-clause (i) of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910);

7. And whereas no cause has been shown by the said licensee within the time fixed by the notice referred to above;

8. And whereas on a consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case, the Governor is of the opinion that the public interest so requires;

9. Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (b) and sub-clause (i) of clause (c) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased hereby to revoke the Basirhat Electric License, 1952, with effect from the 30th June 1955.

By order of the Governor,
N. DAS, Secy.

No. 1809M.P./El.31-14/55.—7th June 1955.—Whereas Shri Shibashankar Saha has entered into an agreement with the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, licensees of the Calcutta and District consolidated Electric License, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said licensees), for taking from the said licensees the supply of energy at the premises of Shri Shibashankar Saha, at Tarapukur Lane, Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, situated outside the area of supply of the said licensees;

And whereas the said premises are not situated within the area of supply of any other licensee;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 27 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased to authorise the said licensees to supply energy to the said Shri Shibashankar Saha at the said premises at Tarapukur Lane, Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, for domestic purposes and to lay down and place electric supply-lines for that purpose subject to the following conditions and restrictions, namely:—

The authority hereby conferred shall—

(a) remain in force until—

(i) the area of supply of the said licensees is extended so as to include within its limits the premises of Shri Shibashankar Saha, at Tarapukur Lane, Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, or

(ii) a license is granted to any other person whose area of supply includes the said premises within its boundaries and such person is in a position to supply energy to the said premises, or

(iii) any transmission or distribution system for supplying energy outside the area of supply of the said licensees is established by or on behalf of the State Government, enabling energy to be supplied at the said premises without such authority;

(b) be subject to the restrictions referred to in the third proviso to section 27 hereinbefore mentioned.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 2832Dis./D/7L-38/55.—23rd June 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1284Dis./D/7L-46/53, dated the 16th April 1953, read with its corrigendum No. 3660-Dis./D/7L-46/53, dated the 29th September 1953, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Clive Jute Mills, 43/1, Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by National Union of jute workers, 59B, Chowringhee Road, Calcutta and Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, Kachi Sarak Branch, 1/1, Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the said order, dated the 16th April 1953, was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint was filed before it against the said Company by (1) Ram Dayal Kapur, (2) Kishori Mohan Sarkar and (3) Subal Chandra Ghose, three employees of the said Company alleging that the said Company had discharged the said three employees concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by three persons, viz., (1) Ram Dayal Kapur, (2) Kishori Mohan Sarkar and (3) Subol Chandra Ghosh, all employees of the Clive Jute Mills Co., Ltd., being represented by the National Union of Jute Workers of 59B, Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-20, against the Clive Jute Mills Company, Limited, 43, Garden Reach Road, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Chairman, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Mill: Shri C. Bhadra, Manager of the Mill.

Present for the employees: Shri Jagannath Pandey.

1. The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 1248Dis./D/7L-46/53., dated the 16th April 1953.

AWARD.

2. It is the contention of the petitioners that they were old employees of the Company, but they were verbally discharged by the opposite party on the 31st December 1953, with effect from the 1st of January 1954. The matter was then taken up with the Labour Commissioner, and as a result of that the petitioners Nos. 2 and 3 were allowed to continue in their service for some time more. So the petitioners Nos. 2 and 3 claim payment of their wages from the 1st January 1954 up to the end of February 1954, when they again resumed working. But in the case of the petitioner No. 1, he was not permitted to work again. So he wants reinstatement. The Company, on the other hand, contends that the above workers were no doubt discharged from 1st January 1954, but they were never allowed to work subsequent to the 31st December 1953. They were all temporary workers being attached to the Ration Department, and they all proved to be inefficient. The Company further contends that after his discharge Ram Dayal started a laundry shop sometime in January 1954, and so he suffered no loss in income. Admittedly, these men were discharged when the main case was pending before the Tribunal, and it was done without any permission obtained from the said Tribunal. So the section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, was infringed, and the present petition under the section 33A of the Act is in order.

Coming to the evidence before me, I find that the petitioners Nos. 2 and 3 claim payment of their wages for January and February 1954. But such claim should better be made in the Court of the Payment of Wages Act, and not before the Tribunal. So that claim cannot be sustained here. Besides, from the Attendance Register of the Ration Shop filed before me, I find that these men did not have their attendance recorded in January and February 1954. This lends countenance to the Company's version that these two men might have worked for a day or two forcibly in the Mill. In that view of the matter also, they are not entitled to any wages for such days even if they had worked. But I do not like to give any finding on this matter as I have already pointed out that this matter is outside the scope of a case under the section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Regarding the petitioner No. 1, admittedly, no charge-sheet was given to him. So his discharge by the Company is not in order. Simply because he was a temporary worker, that does not oust the jurisdiction of the case under the section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. He had been, admittedly, working since the 16th May 1950. So it is highly improbable that he was still a temporary workman. If he was found inefficient, a charge-sheet should have been given to him by way of giving him an opportunity to explain his conduct. No enquiry was also made regarding his alleged inefficiency. So it was highly irregular to summarily dispense with the services of an old employee like the present petitioner No. 1, Shri Ram Dayal Kapur. The Company's Manager next, says that all these men were not discharged, but they were placed under 'lay off'. I am not prepared to accept the story of lay off which is contrary to the story of discharge taken up in its written statement. Presumably, the story of "lay off" is an after-thought. He has probably been advised to take this plea before the Tribunal only to defeat the claim under the section 33A of the Act because the section 33A does not apply to a case of lay off under the section 33. The Company, in the case of lay off, is not required to take the permission of the Tribunal under the section 33 of the Act. So the section 33 will not stand to be infringed and the section 33A will necessarily be out of place. But as I do not accept this plea of lay off, this question does not arise. Even if this plea is accepted, the question of reinstatement cannot be resisted because in the case of lay off such relationship does subsist. So in the result, I set aside the order of dismissal concerning these three men who are petitioners before me. Each of them is entitled to reinstatement. But regarding compensation by way of relief, I do not allow anything to Shri Kishori Mohan Sarkar and Subol Chandra Ghosh, petitioners Nos. 2 and 3 who have claimed two months' wages. They will be reinstated, but for reasons already stated no compensation is allowed to them in the shape of wages. Regarding Ram Dayal Kapur, the petitioner No. 1, he is ordered to be reinstated. But regarding his compensation, I find that he was having the income of his laundry shop all this time. He has admitted this before me. But what was the income there is no evidence. A man cannot be expected to sit idle the moment he is discharged or laid off. But the income derived by him during the period of unemployment should be set off against the compensation relief. So I allow him compensation to the extent of half month's wages including dearness allowance for half the period of his unemployment from 1st January 1954 up to the date of his reinstatement. This must be paid within one month of the award coming into operation. They all must be reinstated as soon as the award comes into operation. The case is thus disposed of.

Dictated and corrected by me.

Judge.

ORDER.

No. 2831Dis./D/7L-38/55.—23rd June 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 1284Dis./D/7L-46/53, dated the 16th April 1953, read with its corrigendum No. 3660-Dis./D/7L-46/53, dated the 29th September 1953, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Clive Jute Mills, 43/1, Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by National Union of jute workers, 59B, Chowringhee Road, Calcutta and Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, Kachi Sarak Branch, 1/1, Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the said order, dated the 16th April 1953, was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint was filed before it against the said Company by Shri Kali Krishna Paul, an employee of the said Company alleging that the said company had discharged the said employee concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Shri Kali Krishna Paul, an employee of Messrs. Clive Jute Mills Company, Limited, 43/1, Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, against the said Company.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

(Case No. 30 of 1954.)

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Chairman, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri C. Bhadra, Manager of the Company.
Present for the employee: Shri Jagannath Pandey.

1. The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 1284Dis./D/7L-46/53, dated the 16th April 1953.

AWARD.

2. It is the contention of the petitioner that he was serving as an Assistant Shipping Clerk in the Finishing Department since November 1941. The Company has suddenly discharged him on the plea of superannuation, though he was only of 41 years age, on 28th September 1953. He wants reinstatement with compensation for the period of his unemployment. This, it is said, has been done without any express permission of the Tribunal before whom the main case was then pending, and also without any charge sheet.

The Company contends that he was a Finishing Second clerk on 28th September 1953, and he was superannuated on that date. He was a habitual drunkard, and most unpunctual in his attendance. He was warned many times. He gave an undertaking on 28th November 1952 to be of good behaviour in future, but he could not keep his word. His services were terminated with a notice on 2nd February 1953. But, however, he was again given a chance for rectification. He gave another undertaking on 3rd August 1953 with no better result. Thus he was liable to be dismissed under section 14(c)(vi)(vii)(x) of the Company's Standing Orders. The Company, however, instead of dismissing him, has superannuated him on 28th September 1953, so that he might get his full dues.

Admittedly, the man was superannuated during the pendency of the main case before the Tribunal, and that was done without obtaining any permission from the Tribunal. So the section 33 of the Act has been violated, and as such, the petition under the section 33A is in order. Admittedly, no charge sheet was given to this man. To superannuate a man without any charge sheet when he was only of 41 years would be highly irregular from the point of observance of the Standing Orders. But the evidence which has been placed before me, and which could not be disputed, make it abundantly clear that this employee in question was a habitual drunkard, and continued in his drinking habit in spite of warnings from the Company, and even disregarding undertakings given by him in the matter. Apparently he has lost all control over himself. His conduct was interfering with the discharge of his duties as it will appear from the documents placed before the Tribunal which could not be disputed. From these documents I find that Shri Kali Krishna Paul gave an undertaking on 28th November 1952 that he would not in future come to the mill in a drunken state. He even went to the length of saying that if he could be found in a drunken state in future, he would be liable to be dismissed. Then from his petition dated 3rd August 1953 it appears that he fainted while on duty. The Company's doctor on a previous occasion examined him on 1st July 1953. From his report I find that the employee gave out before him that he was suffering from blood pressure. He was, however, found having very feeble pulse. Then on 23rd September 1953, i.e., about three months' later, he was suddenly taken ill while working. He smelt of alcohol. The doctor found him semi-conscious. The doctor was really of opinion that the fainting fit was the result of alcohol taking. The Company, however, bore with him. Then on 2nd February 1953 it appears that the employee in question was given a notice of discharge with effect from the 2nd February 1953 for his drinking habit and want of discipline in the mill. But finally, on the 28th September 1953 that man was given a notice of discharge on the ground of superannuation with effect from the 1st October 1953. From all these facts it is abundantly clear that the Company bore no ill-feeling against this man. It did its best to retain him in the mill as long as it could do, and perhaps longer than any other Company would put up with. But the man apparently was past all correction. His drinking habits would have made him liable to dismissal. The Company, however, refrained from taking such a step. So the step of superannuation which the Company was forced to take, was the least it could do against this employee. Under such circumstances, even his dismissal would have been justified, not to speak of superannuation. So, though no charge sheet was given, and the formalities of taking permission from the Tribunal were not complied with, on the merits of the case I am satisfied that the superannuation in question is justified. So the man would get all the benefits of his service he is entitled to get as retiring relief according to the major Jute Tribunal's Award. He is also granted retrenchment relief by me to the extent of 4 months' wages on the scale last drawn. I cannot grant any retrenchment relief under Act (XLIII of 1953) because that Act came into force on the 24th day of October 1953, when the man in question was already superannuated. The above relief must be paid within one month of the award coming into operation. In the result, I maintain the order of superannuation passed by the Company, and disallow the section 33A petition subject to the payment of the above amount. I make no order for costs.

AWARD.

By order No. 1917Dis./D/11L-55/55, dated the 2nd May 1955, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between the Proprietor, Central Hair Cutting Saloon, 125, Harrison Road, Calcutta, and one of their workmen, namely, Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik, C/o. United Bank of India, College Street Market Branch, Calcutta, represented by himself, to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 1888Dis./D/12L-5/54, dated the 29th April 1955, for adjudication.

Both sides appeared and contested the matter.

The case of the workman, Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik, hair-cutter, is that he was wrongfully dismissed on the 13th of October 1954.

The contention of the employers inter alia is that there was no dismissal at all and that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik gave up service of his own accord.

The learned pleader appearing for the employers did not press the question of maintainability or jurisdiction.

The issue raised is as follows:—

Whether the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik is justified. What compensation is he entitled to?

DECISION.

The learned pleader who appeared for the workman stated in his argument that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was with the firm on and from the 2nd July 1952, though the workman himself would have us believe that he served the firm for about four years, till 13th October 1954. That Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was not in employment of the firm after 13th October 1954, is the case of both parties. But while Shri Pramanik avers that he was dismissed, according to the employers, he gave up service voluntarily—after having been rebuked one day for his irregular attendance. The question is, was it a case of voluntary resignation or dismissal? According to one of the proprietors, Shri Keramat Ali, Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik had wanted to be a partner in the firm and when he found that it was not possible to become a co-sharer, he left his employment. The other co-sharer, in his deposition, did not specifically mention this. There is no independent witness to prove this on the side of the employers. In the full circumstances of the case, I accept the testimony on oath of Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik. It is significant that two days prior to the 13th October 1954, a new hand was taken by the firm—perhaps to replace Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik, whose dismissal was in contemplation. The proprietors, who have been examined in this case, have sought to make out a case of writing a letter to Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik, requesting him to come back. It has further been stated that two men were sent to bring him back. But no corroborative evidence is forthcoming. It is found that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was actually dismissed.

It is not the case of the employers that any explanation was called for, or that any charge-sheet was sent to Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik at any time. It appears from the pay registers (Exhibits A and A1) that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik had been absenting himself for long stretches of time. Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik himself admits that he would be absent on each occasion for 15 days or one month. The employers have shown that after obtaining short leave he would be overstaying it by about 3 to 4 months every time. This no doubt was highly unsatisfactory from the standpoint of business, but the irregularity did not ipso facto amount to termination of service, specially in view of Exhibit 1. The learned pleader who appeared for the employers wanted to make out a case at the time of argument that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was appointed on a temporary basis. There is, however, no foundation for this contention. The evidence does not show that the appointment of Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was temporary, far less limited by time. In the circumstances the dismissal cannot but be deemed to have been unjustified. It is not for me to find how far Shri Hrishikesh's own conduct contributed to the mounting tension which reached a climax on 13th October 1954. The fact remains that by springing a surprise dismissal order the employers violated the principles of natural justice. It is accordingly found that the dismissal of Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was unjustified.

The question that now arises is whether Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik should be reinstated or if any compensation should suffice. Ordinarily the former relief would have been suitable, but in consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case, by taking an objective view, I am of the opinion that compensation will meet the ends of justice. It is clear from evidence that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik is now employed elsewhere. According to him, he was out of employment for about six weeks, though the employers would like to say that the period of unemployment was for a few days only. The record of attendance of Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik himself is not satisfactory, and a firm cannot possibly get along with a member of the staff who is not punctual or regular. Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik, in my opinion, is entitled to receive one month's salary at Rs. 70 per mensem in lieu of notice and compensation amounting to one and half month's salary, that is, in all Rs. 175 and Rs. 20 kept in deposit admittedly, besides the admitted arrears of pay for part of October 1954 (13 days), Rs. 32-6. The total amount, therefore, comes up to Rs. 227-6.

Due notice has been taken of the fact that Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik was not granted any pay for the periods of leave, although according to the rules of the firm, as admitted by the proprietor, 15 days' leave on full pay was permissible.

The above amount must be paid by the employers to Shri Hrishikesh Pramanik within 10 days from the date when the award becomes enforceable. The award is given accordingly.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Brooke Bond India, Ltd., Brooke House, Post Box No. 187, Calcutta, and one of their employees, Shri Shantimoy Banerjee, C/o. Shri B. M. Banerjee, Inspector of Police, 11, Chandi Ghose Road, Tollygunj, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH CHANDRA SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For Messrs. Brooke Bond India, Limited: Shri J. K. Ghose, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors, instructed by Mr. C. A. M. Sundram, Law Officer.

For the employee: Shri Arun Kr. Dutta, Advocate, instructed by Shantimoy Banerjee.

On his reversion from the post of a Controller to that of a Salesman, Shri Santimoy Banerjee, an employee of Messrs. Brooke Bond India, Limited, raised a dispute which has been referred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 2331Dis./D/11L-121/55, dated Calcutta, the 27th May 1955.

The point for decision as formulated in the Order of Reference is—

(1) Whether the Company was justified in reverting Shri Shantimoy Banerjee. What relief is Shri Banerjee entitled to?

AWARD.

On the case being opened the learned advocate for the Company submitted before the Tribunal that it had no jurisdiction to deal with the matter as Santimoy Banerjee was not a workman within the definition of 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. This point was taken in paragraph 1 of the written statement filed by the Company. I had some misgivings if the Tribunal was competent to go into this question in view of the fact that by virtue of the amendment of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, final authority has been conferred upon the Government to form the opinion whether an industrial dispute exists or is apprehended. The opinion of the Government, it has been held, is final as regards the existence of an industrial dispute. It appears to me that in forming its opinion as to the existence of an industrial dispute Government has necessarily to decide whether the dispute is industrial. The finality that attaches to the opinion of the Government with regard to the existence of the dispute seems automatically to extend to the decision of the question whether the dispute is industrial The two matters are so intimately related that the one cannot be divorced from the other. I was however assured that the question whether a person is a workman or not is open for investigation by the Tribunal according to concurrent decisions in many reported cases. I have therefore to decide in the first instance if Santimoy Banerjee is a workman. An additional issue is accordingly framed—

(2) Whether Shri Santimoy Banerjee is a workman within the definition of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue No. 2.

There can be no dispute that an employee who has the responsibility of an officer occupying a position of command and direction but part of whose work is of a clerical nature is not a clerk but an officer, for the essential part of the duties is of a nature which carried responsibility. If the duties are clerical he would prima facie be a workman. It has been pointed in the case reported in L.A.C., 1952, page 529—

> "that the first thing is to see what are his main and essential duties. If they are clerical he would prima facie be a workman, but the other factor, namely, the nature of responsibilities has to be considered even where his duties require some amount of clerical work".

The principal duties which Shri Banerjee had to perform as a controller will appear from Ext. B. He had directional and controlling power over the Salesmen serving under him. In this particular case the evidence is that he had seven Salesmen under him. He admitted that it was his duty to supervise their work. Paragraph 2 of Ext. B clearly shows that he had authority to place Salesmen under suspension in case of gross misconduct. He was in such a case to take charge of the depot. Ext. C is a letter of authority in which Santimoy Banerjee was authorised to take complete charge of any depot or distributing godown and to relieve the salesman or the godown keeper. The principal duties were of a supervisory character and not clerical by any stretch of imagination. No doubt Santimoy Banerjee in his evidence tried to reduce his status to that of a manual worker stating as he did that posting up placards, giving delivery of the stock to the dealers, clearing the depots, were his duties. This was a desperate bid made by him to make it appear that his duties were mainly manual, but he did not improve his position by his evidence since even intermingling of some clerical duties in a post where the principal duties are supervisory and directional does not alter the position and make the person a workman.

On behalf of Shri Santimoy Banerjee the learned advocate cited the case reported in 1954, L.L.J., Volume II, page 155. In that case the persons concerned were employed by an Oil Distributing Company and were designated Depot Superintendents. They had no power to punish any clerk, and had no initiative. They had to work under instructions from the Branch Office. The Hon'ble Court held that the duties of the Depot Superintendents and Assistant Depot Superintendents were merely clerical in nature. It was also observed that "a managerial or supervisory function involves some degree of initiative and independent work". This case does not hence come to his aid as Shri Santimoy Banerjee had a large measure of independence and was also expected to take initiative in widening the field of operations to promote the sale of the stocks of the Company. Reference may in this connexion be made to the confidential report Ext. E(1) in which the Branch Manager deplored his lack of initiative. To put it in a nut-shell the duties he had to perform were supervisory with a large measure of freedom to issue directions upon the Salesmen, working under him. He had also power, as observed before, to mete out punishment at least to the extent of placing the Salesmen under suspension. There can be no scope for argument in this state of things that his duties were clerical. I am definitely of the view that he was in command with extensive powers and the duties did not partake of the character of clerical duties. The inevitable conclusion must hence follow that he is not a workman and is not entitled to invoke the aid of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue No. 1.

In view of my finding that Shri Santimoy Banerjee is not a workman, the dispute is not an industrial dispute. It is awarded that Shri Santimoy Banerjee is not entitled to any relief.

I award accordingly.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Gobinda Sheet Metal Works and Foundry, head office at 210, Harrison Road, Calcutta and factory at 74, Narikeldanga Main Road, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by Gobinda Sheet Metal Works Mazdoor Union, 32, Upendra Banerjee Road, Calcutta-11, and Gobinda Sheet Metal Works Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta-10.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For Messrs. Gobinda Sheet Metal Works and Foundry: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

For Gobinda Sheet Metal Works Mazdoor Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak assisted by Shri Parimal Das, Vice-President of the Union.

For Gobinda Sheet Metal Works Workers' Union: Shri Swadesh Gupta, President of the Union.

This reference made by the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal by its order No. 1988Dis./D/10L-20/54, dated Calcutta, the 7th May 1955, relates to disputes between Messrs. Gobinda Sheet Metal Works and Foundry and their workmen represented by Gobinda Sheet Metal Works Mazdoor Union and Gobinda Sheet Metal Works Workers' Union. The points for adjudication as per schedule to the Order of Reference stand as follows:—

SCHEDULE.

(1) Whether the following seven persons be reinstated. Should any compensation be paid to them?

(i) Shri Ajit Dutta, (ii) Shri Munni Lall, (iii) Shri Nitai Pramanick, (iv) Shri Sukriti Nath, (v) Shri Rash Behari Mondal, (vi) Shri Basudeb and (vii) Shri Durga Kanti.

(2) Pay for the lock-out period, i.e., from the 30th May 1953 to 11th June 1953.

(3) Whether the Company is justified in deducting wages for 28th May 1953 and 29th May 1953.

(4) Whether the workmen are entitled to have any puja bonus for 1953? If so, what should be the amount thereof?

(5) How the sum of 10 days' wages already paid by the Company as bonus to workmen, and which both parties have now agreed to treat as an advance of pay, should be adjusted?

AWARD.

Statements were put in by the two Unions as well as by the Company. The sum and substance of the two statements submitted by the two Unions is that the Company did not favour the idea of the employees organising themselves and was determined to cripple the unions by gradual elimination of the stalwarts who formed the backbone of the organisation. A petty incident in which one Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal, two workmen of the Company, were involved was made capital of, to pass order of suspension on both. Another worker Sukriti Nath, an efficient mechanic whose services were commanded in the past, was not permitted to join his duty but was made to sit idle on the plea that he was indifferent to his job and defied the orders and instructions of the Mistry under whom he had to work. The Company on the pretext of holding a preliminary enquiry kept Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal under suspension. On the matter being reported to him, the Labour Commissioner recommended reinstatement of Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal but the counsel so preferred was not accepted by the Company. The workers went on peaceful deputation to the Company on the 28th and 29th of May 1953 to insist on due fulfilment of the recommendation made by the Labour Commissioner and also to have the ban clamped down on Sukriti Nath lifted. There was no suspension of work on those days but the Company deducted half day's pay for the 28th of May 1953 on the plea that the workers did not return to their respective posts after the tiffin recess. On the 29th of May they met the authorities again for a peaceful settlement but the Company dramatised the situation and called in the Police in order to make out a case that the workers had resorted to violence and serious disorder was apprehended. On the next day (30th May 1953) lock-out was declared. Conferences were held between the representatives of the Company and the Union in presence of the Labour Commissioner in which an agreement was arrived at that lock-out would be lifted from 12th June 1953 and besides Ajit and Munni Lal, five other workers alleged to have instigated and organised the so-called strike would be charge-sheeted, and that they would remain under suspension till 18th June 1953 on which date a tripartite conference would again be called for full discussion. On the date thus appointed a conference was held in which the management intimated that they would dismiss five of the charge-sheeted men. The Union could not accord its approval to the proposed action and hence the conference ended in a fiasco. On 7th August 1953, discharge notices were served on all the seven workers including Munni Lal and Ajit Dutta terminating their services with effect from 12th June 1953. The Union claim reinstatement of the dismissed personnel with full wages for the period of their enforced unemployment, full wages for the period of lock-out and payment of bonus over and above what was actually granted as Puja bonus.

Traversing the statements and allegations made by the two Unions the Company made out the case that Ajit and Munni Lal were guilty of serious misconduct. They had a fight with each other which threatened to develop into a major conflict splitting up Bengali and Up-country labourers into hostile camps. The protagonists Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal were asked to submit explanations which they did. After enquiry they were placed under suspension. The Unions brought this matter to the notice of the Labour Commissioner and on 18th May 1953 further enquiry was held by the Company in pursuance of the agreement arrived at in the conference with the Labour Commissioner. The findings arrived at in the enquiry were communicated to the Labour Commissioner. The Company expressed its intention to dispense with the services of these two workers. While the matter was still pending the workers made unseemly demonstrations in front of the office shouting warlike cries. Even after the closing hour they continued behaving in the same violent manner on the 29th of May obstructing the officers and loyal workers from returning home at the close of the day. In fact, the demonstration lasted till 6-30 or 7 p.m. and as a last resort the Company had to seek the assistance of the Police. The crowd dispersed on the order of Police. Apprehending that serious consequences might follow if the factory were kept open, the Company declared a lock-out on the next day. There were conferences thereafter and according to the terms agreed upon, lock-out was lifted on 12th June 1953 and fresh charge-sheets were issued, for the violence and lawlessness resorted to by the workers on 29th May 1953. Enquiry was held after statements in reply to the charge-sheets were received and dismissal of the five workers, viz., Nitai Pramanick, Sukriti Nath, Rash Behari Mondal, Basudeb, Durga Kanji, was proposed by the Company. As the Unions did not accept the findings and did not assent to the action proposed, the conference became infructuous. Conciliation thus having failed, the Management took action against all the workmen who were found guilty of gross misconduct and dismissed them on 7th August 1953. The Company resisted the claim made by the Union in regard to the dismissed workers and also the claim for bonus and wages.

Issue No. 3.—Whether the Company is justified in deducting wages for 28th May 1953 and 29th May 1953.

Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal having been placed under suspension and Sukriti Nath being made to go off-duty by the Company, the Union took up their cause and approached the Management for their immediate reinstatement. According to the Company trouble started first on the 20th of May when the workers took it into their heads to challenge the treatment accorded by the Management to these three workers. After tiffin hours since the 20th of May, the workers used to gang up in front of the office and insist on reinstatement of Munni Lal and Ajit Dutta and allotment of work to Sukriti. The same sort of demonstration was staged day after day till 27th of May 1953. On the 28th of May the workers did not return to their duties after tiffin hours and on the 29th of May they went on a sit down strike after tiffin hours and continued causing disturbance till late in the evening. The officers and other workers who were loyal could not leave the factory premises because of obstruction caused by them. According to the Union nothing had happened from the 20th to 27th of May. On the 28th of May, a peaceful deputation went to meet the Management over the question of reinstatement of Ajit and Munni Lal in conformity with the suggestion made by the Labour Commissioner. Ext. 12 shows that Labour Commissioner had suggested reinstatement of Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal in the view that suspension for about two weeks was sufficient punishment and peaceful relation between the Management and the workers should be secured by exercise of clemency. The Management however did not fall in with the views expressed by the Labour Commissioner but wanted to deal firmly with the situation in the interests of discipline. The letter addressed by the Management to the Labour Commissioner is dated 23rd of May 1953. The argument on behalf of the Union was that the workers were informed by the Company that the matter was before the Labour Commissioner. An impression was hence created in their minds that suggestion made by the Labour Commissioner would be implemented by the Company. As a matter of fact the Company did not accept the suggestion as is borne out by Ext. 12. This change of front agitated the minds of the workers but they controlled themselves and wanted to obtain justice by means of pursuasion. On the 29th of May according to the representative of the Union appearing before the Tribunal, the Management played a deep game. The deputation was asked to meet the Management after closing hours and hence the workers gathered in front of the office at the appointed hour to know the result of their representations on behalf of Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal. They were however made to wait for a pretty long time and thereafter a false message of apprehended breach of peace was sent to the Police so that the ground might be prepared for drastic action against these workers on the plea that they had indulged in riotous conduct. It was urged that no damage to person or property was caused as the workers had conducted themselves with the utmost restraint. Police had arrived but did not find any instance of law breaking. None was therefore placed under arrest. It would serve no useful purpose to dwell upon the events alleged to have happened during the period from 20th to 27th of May 1953. The crucial dates are the 28th and 29th of May 1953. All the witnesses for the Union admit that a body of workers had gone to meet the Management on the 28th and 29th of May 1953. The evidence of Nitai Pramanick, P. W. 5, is that on the 28th the deputationists had resumed work after meeting the management. In this context a passing reference may be made to the Register Ext. S. This register shows that Nitai Pramanick was absent from duty on the 28th of May 1953. I may observe outright that the register was designed to maintain a record of the amount of time devoted by each individual worker in the execution of his allotted task but the entries therein fail to inspire confidence inasmuch as they bristle with alterations by overwriting. Though this section of the register cannot be relied upon the entries as regards attendance of the labourers do not suffer from the same infirmity. I can hence draw the conclusion that Nitai Pramanick was really absent on the 28th and hence his evidence regarding resumption of work does not stand a moment's scrutiny. The Management adduced no oral evidence that the labourers did not go back to continue working after tiffin hours on the 28th. There is a solitary report Ext. I(7) but the person making the report did not appear before this Tribunal, and could not hence be tested by cross-examination. None of the witnesses examined by the Company made any statement that there was half day's work done on the 28th of May 1953. The production registers which might have shown that on the date in question the outturn was far below the normal standard have not been placed before the Tribunal. Material evidence has thus been withheld. In this state of the evidence I cannot hold that the workers were absent from duty for the remaining period of the day on the 28th of May and had thus forfeited their due emoluments. They are entitled to have their wages for the full day so far as the 28th is concerned. This finding does not ensure to the benefit of Nitai Pramanick as he is found to have absented himself on the 28th of May 1953. The register Ext. S shows that he was altogether absent from his duty on 28th of May 1953.

The Company's version is that on the 29th there was suspension of work after tiffin hours. The workmen gathered about the office room and insisted on the reinstatement of Ajit Dutta, Munni Lal and Sukriti Nath. They uttered slogans and remained on the spot in spite of repeated directions by the Management to go back to their respective duties. Even after working hours they maintained the same attitude and barred the exit so that the office staff and the loyal workers could not leave the premises at the usual hour. They remained prisoner, in a manner of speaking up to 7 p.m. The Police appearing on summons, the crowd had dispersed. The Union on the other hand gave a different account. According to them the deputation had met the Management after tiffin time and the deputationists were asked to appear after duty hours. In the intervening period work was carried on as usual. At the close of the day the workers went to meet the Management as bidden but they were made to wait. There was no disturbance or uttering of slogans. Really speaking the assemblage of workers was perfectly peaceful. The Company had no reason to seek Police assistance. It is true that no damage to person or property was caused but the fact remains that the workers were under the stress of some amount of excitement inasmuch as the Labour Commissioner's suggestion for reinstatement of Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal was turned down by the Company. Notice after notice appealing to the workers to go back to their respective posts were issued by the Company as will appear from Exts. Q, Q(1) and Q(2). The first notice Ext. Q seems to have been given at 2 p.m., Q(2) at 3-45 p.m. and third Q(1) at 5 p.m. The report Ext. R sent to the Labour Commissioner goes to show that a message was conveyed by telephone on the 29th at 3-30 p.m. requesting the Labour Commissioner's intervention to ease the situation created by an illegal sit down strike and encirclement of the office by the workmen. Admittedly the Police were rung up and they had arrived at about 7 p.m. and on the direction of the Police the workers had left the place. The workers' submission is that the Company resorted to a display of fire-works just to create an illusion of a dangerous situation so that they might take punitive action against those of the workers who held key positions in the Union. I am not persuaded that the notices and the messages to the Labour Commissioner earlier in the day and later to the Police were crafty contrivances designed for the purpose of dramatising the situation.

Turning to the oral evidence of P. W. 4, Ajoy Chakraborty, we find that on his own showing there were some expressions of tense feeling on that day. A Golmal had been created which according to the witness was the inevitable result of a large number of people gathering together. Obviously the witness tried to tone down the real nature and character of the incident. As against this the Company is supported by the evidence of O. P. W. 1, O. P. W. 2, Paritosh Paul, Supervisor, Shop No. 1, O. P. W. 3, one of the Managing Partners and O. P. W. 4, the Works Manager. The consensus of evidence is that the Labourers deserted their work after tiffin hours and formed themselves into an assembly which remained on the premises till a late hour in the evening. The oral testimony fortified by the evidence of steps taken, viz., exhortation to the workers by means of notices to go back to duty and the messages sent to the Labour Commissioner and the Police, fully warrant the conclusion that these people did not go back to their duties after tiffin hours. Wages for half day were hence rightly withheld, so far as the 29th of May is concerned.

Issue No. 1.—Whether the following seven persons be reinstated. Should any compensation be paid to them? (1) Shri Ajit Dutta, (ii) Shri Munni Lal, (iii) Shri Nitai Pramanick, (iv) Shri Sukriti Nath, (v) Shri Rash Behari Mondal, (vi) Shri Basudeb Makal and (vii) Shri Durga Kanti.

One of the points pressed by the Union is that there was violation of the principles of natural justice in so far as no notice of enquiry was given to any of the persons dismissed and no enquiry was actually held. This point will be dealt with in course of investigation of each individual case.

Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal.

They were charge-sheeted not for joining the alleged strike but for the incident which happened on 7th May 1953. They had a fight with each other within the factory premises during working hours. According to the Company though originally this was a quarrel between two workers culminating in violence, there were repercussions which had dangerous potentialities. Among the workers the Company had Bengalis as well as up-country men. The fight between Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal was liable to develop and take the shape of provincial antagonism. The germ of a new ferment of provincial hatred unless suppressed with an iron hand might spell disaster. The Company could not therefore take this as a mere flash in the pan and condone the incident as of no consequence. The Union did not maintain that Ajit and Munni Lal did not come to blows. The burden of the argument advanced on their behalf was that there was no notice of enquiry and no enquiry was actually held. In this connection the representative of the Union referred to the case reported in 1953, L.A.C., page 416 and submitted that the enquiry must be a real one and not an eye-wash. There can be no dispute as to the correction of the proposition. According to the Company enquiry was held on 18th May 1953 in the presence of Shri Parimal Das, Vice-President of the Union who had been requested to attend the enquiry. The enquiry report Ext. N shows that Shri Parimal Das was present at the time of the enquiry and he had been given access to the statements of the witnesses. Deposing as P. W 1, Shri Das admitted that he had visited the factory on the 18th of May 1953 but according to him no enquiry was held. As he was already aware on the 14th of May 1953, that the matter of Munni Lal and Ajit would be dealt with on the 18th and when he had actually visited the factory on the said date, it is difficult to place reliance upon his denial. If no enquiry had actually been held he would have brought the matter to the notice of the Labour Commissioner but it does not appear that he had done so. P. W. 4 the Works Manager had made the enquiry. According to his testimony the Vice-President Shri Parimal Babu was present but he was not requested to put down his signature. On a consideration of the evidence and circumstances I have no manner to doubt that a proper enquiry was held in the presence of the Vice-President. It may also be added that enquiry may be dispensed with when the persons concerned admit the charges made against them. Both Munni Lal and Ajit Dutta admitted in their statements that they were involved in an incidence in which physical violence was used. The Company had in its possession statements of some of the witnesses [vide Exts. L(1), L(4), L(5) and L(6)] on the basis of which it could hold the charges proved. Under the Standing Orders of the Company riotous or disorderly behaviour is Major Misdemeanour. A worker may be dismissed if found guilty on a charge of major misdemeanour. As there was a proper enquiry and the Company took action on findings arrived at on evidence available to it, the Tribunal cannot interfere unless:—

(a) there is want of bona fides or

(b) it is a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice or violation of the principles of natural justice;

(c) there is a basic error of fact or

(d) there has been a perverse finding on the material.

None of these conditions have been provided so far as Ajit Dutta is concerned. The Union no doubt tried to persuade the Tribunal that the Company had started a crusade against the leading members but in fact there is no substance in this contention. The Company had ample justification for the action taken against Ajit Dutta. He is not entitled to reinstatement or compensation.

Munni Lal was more sinned against than sinning. He had pushed Ajit Dutta aside when the latter had brodden on his toes. He was chastised by Ajit and a few others and knocked down. A rod was picked up by him which was used as a weapon of defence for no one was struck with the rod. Finding that he was outnumbered he ran away to the Office. On proper scrutiny of the evidence it is crystal-clear that Munni Lal had taken up the rod in exercise of his primary right of self-defence. The Company was not entitled to take action against Munni Lal for what is described as disorderly behaviour in clause (g) under the Heading Major Misdemeanour in the Standing Order, as to my mind Munni Lal's conduct was not strictly speaking within the category of disorderly behaviour. Every human being has the right of self-defence to save himself from injury. In the report Ext. N, it was pointed out that Munni Lal's share in the scrap was not of the same shade but in the view that the scales should be held even he was awarded the same punishment. In my view the finding in regard to Munni Lal may well be characterised as perverse and the punishment by dismissal as manifestly unjust. In the result I hold that Munni Lal's dismissal was wholly unwarranted. He should be reinstated on his reporting himself to the Company within seven days from the date of the publication of the Award in the Calcutta Gazette. He will recover full wages and dearness allowance with effect from the date of his suspension.

Sukriti Nath.

He was a Tool Mechanic in the Tool Shop. A few days before these troubles he was transferred to the Forging Department to work under Dhirendra Nath who was the Head Mistry in that Department. An argument was advanced that this transfer was mala fide. Sukriti (P. W. 3) did not himself make any statement that on transfer he was assigned any work with which he was unfamiliar, or which was uncongenial. Admittedly he had rendered a good account of himself in the tool shop. Exigencies of the business might have dictated his transfer to the Forging Department. It is open to the Management in exercise of its administrative duties to transfer one mechanic from one department to another in the best interests of the business. Sukriti did not say that he was put to any humiliation or given any work which was outside the pale of his experience. As a worker in the tool shop he was awarded some prize for efficiency. It is quite possible that the Management wanted to have his efficiency better utilised in the Forging Department. I am not sure if Sukriti's self-esteem was wounded or if he was oppressed by a superiority complex when he was placed under Dhiren Mistry. The record shows that in the Forging Department he proved himself a slacker and guilty of insubordination. Exts. 1 to 1(3) are reports forwarded to the Management by Dhirendra Mistry complaining against Sukriti's conduct. As a result he was withdrawn from the department and made to sit out without any work being assigned to him. Though he was not doing any work, the Management allowed him full wages for the days he was kept idle. This is a clear index that the Company did not entertain any idea of taking vindictive action against him. From the evidence I find that the Management was prepared to overlook the lapses if he tendered apology to Dhirendra. Sukriti was not however in a mood to offer apology.

The main charge against him is that on the 29th of May he had taken part in the stay-in-strike and had caused obstruction to the Office staff and the loyal workers leaving the premises at the scheduled time. Sukriti Nath tried to convince the Tribunal that on the 29th of May, he had sat idle till 4-30 p.m. and then left for home. He was not present in the factory premises any time thereafter. This evidence is unworthy of credit for, it should be borne in mind that one of the objects of the worker's deputation was to secure allotment of work to Sukriti. He was vitally interested in the matter that the Union had taken up for agitation on that date. According to the evidence on the side of the labourers representations for reinstatement of Ajit and Munni Lal and allotment of job of Sukritinath had been made on the 28th. The deputation had gone to meet the Management on the 29th to know the result of the representations. Knowing that his fate was hanging in the balance Sukriti could not have left the premises at 4-30 p.m. According to O. P. W. 2 Sukriti Nath was found shouting slogans. In the circumstances my conclusion is that he had joined the strike. In this connexion the representative of the Union referred to the case of Punjab National Bank, Ltd., Delhi, and their workmen reported in 1953, L.A.C., page 1 and argued that stay-in-strike might be illegal but mere participation in such a strike does not render the strike liable to dismissal. If a workmen is found guilty of violent acts or subversive activities, the position no doubt would be different. So far as Sukriti Nath was concerned the evidence of O. P. W. 2 is that he was recognised amongst those who were raising objectionable slogans. One of the slogans threatened spilling of blood if justice were not done. The order of dismissal cannot in view of the part taken by him said to be without justification as the strike was not only illegal but unjustified as well since the Management's action in placing Ajit Dutta and Munni Lal under suspension and making Sukriti pass his time away from the workshop was not liable to be called in question by the workers. The agitation started to force the management to abdicate its authority in the matter of administration and maintenance of discipline was not only misconceived but mischievous.

Before proceeding further I may refer now to the plea that Sukritinath was not served with any notice of the proposed enquiry and no enquiry was held. In my view the evidence is inadequate to prove that Sukriti had notice of the enquiry in regard to the charges framed against him. No notice was given in writing. O. P. W. 4 Lalit Mohan Dey who made the enquiry no doubt stated that notice had been given verbally but the fact remains that Sukriti was under suspension at that time. He had no reason to come to the factory unless he was informed that an enquiry would be held on a particular date. More reliable evidence should have been forthcoming to prove that Sukriti was informed of the date of the enquiry. The enquiry report Ext. N(1) is silent as regards service of notice on Sukriti, Durga and Rash Behari. Works Manager Shri Lalit Mohan Dey in paragraph 5 of the report simply recorded that enquiry was held ex-parte so far as these three persons were concerned. Enquiry without proper notice verbal or otherwise offends against the principles of natural justice. It is therefore open to the Tribunal to go into the merits and find out for itself if the order of dismissal is sustainable. On the merits I have held that he got the punishment he deserved.

There was another charge against him that he had obtained Dhiren's signature to the petition (Ext. 9) under threat. The Management had wanted an assurance in writing that Sukriti and Dhiren had settled their differences amicably. Ext. 9, was at the first blush offered to O. P. W. 2 Shri Kamal Paul, after tiffin hours signed by Sukriti alone. The position was returned as Dhiren's signature was lacking. The self-same position was made over to the witness later signed by Dhiren as well. Dhiren's evidence is that he was forced to sign it against his will. Sukriti was one of the persons who had put pressure upon him to subscribe his signature. Kamal Paul stated that Dhiren had informed him that his signature was not given voluntarily. The contents of the petition indicate that it was intended to be the statement of one person, viz., Sukriti. There is no reason to disbelieve the evidence that Dhiren was made to sign it against his will. The charge on this account against Sukriti was proved. The order of dismissal must hence stand.

Nitai Pramanick, Rash Behary Mondal, Basudeb and Durga Kanji.

They were charge-sheeted for having taken prominent part in the stay-in-strike on the 29th of May 1953. P. W. 4 admitted that Nitai, Rash Behari, Basudeb and Durga had taken leading part in the Golmal. Nitai admitted in his own evidence that he had gone to the Company on deputation on the 29th. His presence is therefore beyond question. O. P. W 4 Shri Lalit Mohan Dey in his evidence stated that he had seen Basudeb and Nitai haranguing the crowd. O. P. W. 2 Paritosh Paul deposed that Nitai and Durga had persuaded some workmen to leave their departments and Nitai had abused those who had declined to follow their lead. Nitai was recognised by him amongst the strikers who were shouting slogans. So Nitai is in the same boat with those strikers who had transgressed legitimate bounds and had laid themselves open to drastic action.

Nitai was present at the enquiry held against those who had participated in the strike (vide Ext. N1). Before the Tribunal Nitai admitted that he had been sent for one day though he did not, in so many words, admit that he was present at the enquiry. The statement that he had been sent for taken in conjunction with the report that he had refused to answer questions during the enquiry as also the proceedings. Ext. T proved the Company's case that he had attended the enquiry. His dismissal must hence stand.

Basudeb was present at the enquiry (vide Exts. N1 and T). He was found guilty on his admission and was properly dismissed.

Regarding Durga Kanji and Rash Behari I have already observed that the evidence of O. P. W. 4 Lalit Mohan Dey that notice was verbally given to these men cannot be safely accepted. The report Ext. N(1) is silent on this point. I hold accordingly that they did not get a square deal. Going into the merits I find that these two men had taken part in the strike but the evidence falls that of proving that they had indulged in any violence or subversive action. The order of dismissal passed against them cannot be sustained. They should be reinstated. Since they took part in an illegal and unjustified strike, I refuse to allow the claim for back pay and dearness allowances. Reinstatement be made within seven days from the date of publication of the Award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Issue No. 2.—Pay for the lock-out period, i.e., from the 30th May 1953 to 11th June 1953.

On the 29th of May, the situation had taken such a critical turn that the Company had to seek protection of the Police. On the next day lock-out was declared which was ultimately lifted on the 12th June 1953, following a truce resulting from a conference held in the office of the Labour Commissioner. The workers claim wages for the lock-out period. I have already held that the workers had gone on an illegal and unjustified strike attended with violence in manner and utterance and physical to the extent of blocking the exit from the factory and causing wrongful confinement of the officers and loyal workers. The Management might reasonably apprehend that damage to person and property might be caused if the factory was kept open. The workers by their own conduct forced the management of the Company to close down the factory. They are not therefore entitled to any wages for the lock-out period.

Issue Nos. 4 and 5.—Whether the workmen are entitled to have any Puja bonus for 1953? If so, what should be the amount thereof? How the sum of 10 days' wages already paid by the Company as bonus to workmen, and which both parties have now agreed to treat as an advance of pay, should be adjusted?

The Company paid 10 days' wages by way of Puja bonus for the year 1953 in conformity with the terms of agreement as recorded in Ext. H. This agreement was in force till 1st November 1953, covering the period for which bonus has been claimed. The Company's argument that no further claim can be made because of the agreement does not command itself to me since no restrictive covenant was incorporated excluding claim for profit bonus. The stipulation regarding Puja bonus does not cover the entire field. The agreement relates to Puja bonus only. The right of the workers to recover profit bonus out of available surplus if any was not affected.

The Union claimed two months' wages. As the Company has already paid bonus for ten days, bonus for one month and 20 days was pressed for in their written statements.

Turning now to the claim for bonus equivalent to two months' wages, we have got to focus our attention upon the audited balance-sheet submitted by the Company. On the basis of the balance-sheet a statement showing available surplus computed according to Full Bench Formula has been prepared which stand thus—

	Rs.	a.	p.
Nett profit as per balance-sheet 1359 B.S. ...	27,732	0	0
Add depreciation charged	35,467	0	0
Gross profit ...	67,258	0	0
Less statutory depreciation	35,467	0	0
	31,791	0	0
Less 6 per cent. return on paid up capital ...	60,000	0	0
	(—)32,242	0	0
Less 4 per cent. on reserve used as working capital throughout year Rs. 20,176 ...	807	0	0

The Union representative made a grievance that no balance-sheet for the previous year was produced. He was not therefore in a position to discover flaws in the balance-sheet actually before the Tribunal. Messrs. Gobinda Sheet Metal Works and Foundry is a private proprietory concern. No balance-sheet is prepared as a rule but account books are maintained which the Company offered for verification of the correctness of the balance-sheet for the year under review. Khatian and Jabda Khata were accordingly produced. The Union representatives were permitted inspection of the documents. No inaccuracy or incorrectness in the balance-sheet was detected. From the statement of available surplus computed on the basis of the balance-sheet it appears that the Company had struck a bad patch incurred loss in the year in question. No question of payment of bonus can therefore arise. I may in this connexion refer to a decision of the Supreme Court, reported in L.A.C. 1955, page 1, where it was observed by their Lordships that two conditions have to be satisfied before a demand for bonus can be justified. They are—

(i) When wages falls short of the living standard and

(ii) the industry makes huge profits part of which are due to the contribution which the workmen make in increasing production.

The Unions have not produced any material to make out that the wages earned by the workers fall short of the living standard. The other condition that the industry must be found to have made huge profit is also not satisfied.

Having paid bonus in accordance with the agreement in 1952, for 10 days, the Company has discharged its liability for Pujah bonus in 1953 and no further bonus can be claimed. I may point out that point No. 4 as framed in the order of reference is confined to Puja bonus only. The question of profit bonus is, strictly speaking, beyond the ambit of the reference and might have been left out of the discussion.

This is my Award.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the Employee: Shri Sunil Dhar, Pleader.

Acting under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred the aforesaid dispute to me by order No. 2003Dis./D/151-12/55, dated Calcutta, the 7th May 1955, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Order of Reference.

SCHEDULE.

(1) If the discharge of Shri Nityananda Nath, alias Nitai, is justified? To what relief by way of reinstatement and/or compensation is he entitled?

AWARD.

The learned advocate for the Company canvassed a preliminary point that this, being an individual dispute raised by Nityananda to ventilate his personal grievances, could not be characterised as an industrial dispute and as such the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to deal with it. This point, viz., whether an individual dispute is an industrial dispute within the meaning of Section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act has been the subject of innumerable conflicting decisions. There are decisions in support of the contention advanced by the learned Advocate and there are others which upheld the contrary view. The point was considered by several High Courts. The High Court decisions are also far from uniform. The Learned Advocate focussed my attention upon the decisions of the Calcutta High Court in which it was held that an individual dispute was not an industrial dispute as defined in the Act. A Full Bench of the Appellate Tribunal had to deal with this controversial point and recorded its decision after an exhaustive review of all the cases on the point (reported in 1953, L.A.C, 137), the High Court decisions were considered. In the result the Full Bench came to the conclusion that a dispute by an individual worker comes within the language of the definition of Industrial Disputes Act under Section 2(k). The objection raised must therefore fail.

The contention of Nityananda Nath is that on the 16th February 1954, he was suddenly informed that he was dismissed from service with immediate effect on account of alleged disobedience. As there was really no instance of disobedience, Nitya came to know on enquiry that the order of dismissal as by way of retribution for his father's moving the Labour Directorate of the Government against this Company for recovery of his Provident Fund and Gratuity money. The sins (?) of the father were visited on the son. Aggrieved at this action of the Company Nitya applied to the Labour Directorate where an attempt for conciliation was made without any effect. It was further alleged in the written statement that the order of dismissal cannot stand as no notice was served on him.

The Company in its written statement presented the case that on 16th February 1954, Nitya was neglecting his work and when questioned by the Manager he took up a very objectionable attitude and spoke insolently to him. He was suspended for the rest of the day and was asked to submit explanation in writing for his conduct. The Manager was prepared to overlook the breach of discipline provided he expressed regret for his conduct in writing. Nitya refused to conform to the direction to tender apology. From the day following he absented himself from duty and did not submit any explanation. The Company waited for some time and then issued a charge-sheet on 22nd February 1954 which was sent under Registered Post.

No explanation was submitted and on the expiry of the time fixed in the charge-sheet the Management dismissed him with effect from 28th February 1954. Thereafter a communication was received from the Assistant Labour Commissioner's Office forwarding a copy of application made by Nitya in which false allegations were made. The correct position of things was explained to the Assistant Labour Commissioner and he suggested that Nitya might be taken back if he tendered written apology. The Management was prepared to abide by the suggestion but found Nityananda obdurate. He was not prepared to unbend. No apology was forthcoming. The order of dismissal was therefore fully justified.

Nityananda tried to make out that the real reason for the action taken against him was that his father had applied to the Labour Directorate complaining against the Company that he was not paid Provident Fund and Gratuity money due to him on his retirement. The Company stoutly denied that the action against Nitya was motivated by any such ignoble consideration. The Manager deposed before the Tribunal that on 16th February 1954, the Company had to deliver 600 tins of oil and in order to fulfil the undertaking 600 tins were to be made ready, they were to be cleaned and soldered. The Mistry under whom Nitya used to work employed him and another cooly to clean up the tins. The work had started at 8 a.m. and at 11 a.m. Mistry brought to the notice of the Manager that so far only 50 tins had been cleaned. On the Manager asking him the reason for the slow progress of work, the mistry intimated that Nitya was not working properly. To satisfy himself the Manager made a personal inspection and found that Nitya was really neglecting his work. Tackled by the Manager Nitya took up a defiant attitude and burst out that no better job could be done by anybody else. He was preppared to pay 1,000 rupees if any better job could be turned out. The Manager was taken aback and suspended him for the rest of the day. After the lunch recess the Manager again asked Nitya to express regret in writing. A written apology Ext. B was offered to him for signature. He did not sign it and left the workshop. Thereafter he remained absent for several days. "Ext. 1" is the charge-sheet, dated 22nd February 1954, served on him by registered post. He was asked to submit explanation for—

(a) wilful insubordination or disobedience,

(b) riotous and disorderly behaviour leading to indiscipline and misconduct.

Nitya admitted that Ext. B was offered to him for signature. As it was in English and he could not decipher the contents, he did not put his signature thereon. He could be in no doubt as to what the contents were for, the Manager had already asked him to express regret. The olive branch was held out but Nitya did not avail of the chance to rehabilitate himself in the good graces of the company. The charge-sheet was also unheeded. No explanation was submitted in reply to the charge-sheet. He preferred to approach the Assistant Labour Commissioner. Ext. A is the application, dated 25th February 1954. In this application allegations were made that the Management was up in arms against him because of his father's seeking relief from the Labour Commissioner against the Company. Nitya admitted in his evidence that the Labour Commissioner had advised him to tender written apology. Letter, Ext. B(i), addressed to the Manager by the Labour Commissioner shows that suggestion was made for restoration of good relationship on written apology being made. Manager's reply is Ext. B(2). Therein it is stated that Nitya had came to the mill and wanted to be reinstated but was not prepared to express regret. That being the attitude, the Management also stiffened up.

The question now is if the order of dismissal was justified. On the facts I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence given by the Manager. Nitya was extremely rude. Breach of discipline of this description cannot be passed over without notice. The Manager did not like to be too harsh and was prepared to pardon him if he expressed regret in writing. Nitya however chose to miss the bus. Charge-sheet was thereafter served but he paid no heed. No explanation was submitted. The learned pleader for the worker argued that there was violation of the principles of natural justice as no proper enquiry was held and no opportunity was given to Nitya to defend himself. This argument misses fire inasmuch as the opportunity offered by the company was not availed of. If the charges had been answered there might be scope for formal enquiry. But there being no denial of the charge and the Manager himself being the person who was insulted, it is idle to submit that fair trial was denied to him. The learned pleader described the action taken against Nitya as an instance of victimisation. I am unable to follow the process of his reasoning. The Company did not proceed against Nitya out of resentment or displeasure consequent upon his father's application to the Labour Directorate. He had brought the trouble on his head by his own conduct. Even after the dismissal the management was ready to reinstate him at the suggestion of the Assistant Labour Commissioner on apology being tendered but Nitya was adamant. In my view the Company had taken a reasonable attitude. If the letter Ext. 3, dated 7th May be believed to have been sent to the Management it did not redeem the situation as it is no amende-honorable but thinly veiled impertinence.

The next question is whether the punishment was too severe. The evidence of the Manager is that on some previous occasions also this worker was found to be negligent. This fact was brought out in cross examination. His past record was not hence a clean sheet. The incident on which the action was taken was of a kind which no management can tolerate. The Tribunal cannot interfere unless it is proved that there was—

(i) want of bona fides,

(ii) it is a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice or violation of principles of natural justice,

(iii) there was basic error of facts,

(iv) there has been perverse finding on the materials.

None of these elements have been proved in this case. Maintenance of discipline is one of the principal factors in the successful management of a business concern. Nityananda Nath was guilty of such an act of indiscipline that the punishment awarded cannot be regarded as undeserved. It will however appear that in the charge-sheet he was asked to explain why he should not be discharged. The order actually passed was one of dismissal. Here the Company blundered seriously. There is a substantial difference between discharge and dismissal. Discharge is nothing more than a termination of service with full right to provident fund, gratuity and other benefits. Dismissal is a punishment depriving an employee of all or many of the benefits. As in the charge-sheet discharge was the form of punishment referred to, the management committed an error in passing order of dismissal. Nityananda Nath could be discharged but not dismissed.

In the result it is held that the worker cannot be reinstated or allowed any compensation but the order of dismissal must be treated as one of discharge.

This is my award.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

ANNEXURE.

1. (a) The factory will restart work on and from 22nd October 1954 and the workers will be required to report to duties on that day.

(b) The factory will start its work with the permanent hands. Other workers will be gradually absorbed as and when required.

(c) Those of the workers who are at present out of the area will be allowed 10 days' time for the same.

2. The workers will not get any compensation for the days the factory remained closed and the period of closure will be treated as leave without pay. But for the benefits which are linked with attendance namely statutory leave, this period will be treated as actually worked.

3. The rates, etc., of the workers will remain as on the day the factory was closed with the following modification applicable to rates of "Spinners" only and that too in regard to items specified hereinunder:—

Lota No. 2 and 4	4 and 5			per 100 pieces shape and finish.
Rs. 4-0-0	Rs. 5-2-0
Kettle No. ½ to 2½	3 and 4	5-6
Rs. 4-0-0	Rs. 5-2-0	Rs. 6-6-0
Milk Can. 1. ½	1 and 2	3	4	5-6	ditto.
Rs. 4-12-0	Rs. 5-8-0	Rs. 6-0-0	Rs. 7-0-0	Rs. 7-8-0

The above reduction in piece rate for the items specified above is accepted and agreed upon with a view to allow the said items of articles to compete in the prevailing market rate. The Company has no intention to make any change in the rates of other items at the moment.

4. (i) Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate and (ii) Shri Patit Paban Pathak have jointly agreed to be arbitrators in respect to all matters confronting the industry and labour. All disputes which are pending before the Tribunal, the Labour Commissioner or in any other stage will be treated as disposed of. Disputes that might crop up including those which have been disposed of for this purpose will be placed before the said arbitrators and their decision will be binding on the parties. In case there is difference of opinion the matter will be referred to Labour Commissioner to take their usual courses.

5. The workers shall not go on strike nor the management will declare lockout without giving 15 days' notice from either sides to the opposite parties and also to the arbitrators mentioned above.

6. The Company agree to give due consideration to the proposal of Compensatory Insuance Scheme for the "Spinners" as suggested by the Union.

Dated the 21st October 1954.

ORDER.

Messrs. Angus Engineering Works (hereinafter called the Works) have filed the present application under section 22 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, for permission to retrench 98 workmen of various categories, employed in the industry, as surplus to requirements.

The petitioner's case is that the business, of the concern has hitherto been to manufacture machineries, spare parts and castings to meet the requirements of jute mills. During the Second World War and the immediate post-war period, the restrictions and difficulties in import gave an impetus to the business. The machineries, spare parts and castings, manufactured by the concern were of the old types. Since 1950, when the import licensing policy eased, most of the jute mills switched over to modernisation and the present industry felt a set-back, which assumed such a gravity towards the end of 1953, that the management was compelled to think of retrenchment of the labour force. The trading position gradually deteriorated, the profits dwindled and the industry began to incur losses which again increased in volume from time to time. In the meantime, to avoid retrenchment, the management tried to secure orders for spare parts and repairs otusitle the jute industry, but without any appreciable success. New machineries and their parts cannot be manufactured with the out-of-date machines tools and plants of the works, and in view of the uncertainty about orders for repairs, the Works could not continue as a general engineering repair shop. The company had, therefore, to depend almost entirely on the Foundry Section. The Foundry Section presented a gloomy picture in 1953 since when most of the customers of the concern supplied their own moulds for the castings ordered by them. In view of the gloomy circumstances through which the Works were passing, the management decided to reduce the working force by one-third by a scheme of rotational lay-offs and the scheme was introduced with effect from the 4th January, 1954. Now that the scheme of lay-off did not solve the economic difficulties, retrenchment of 98 workmen of various categories, being one-third of the entire labour force, is badly called for. These 98 workmen are said to have been selected according to the principle of "last come. first go" and have been detailed in an annexure to the present petition.

The workmen-opponets have filed an affidavit in opposite and they deny any decline in the business and plead that the decision of the management is prompted by a desire to make more profits and a spirit of victimisation of the active trade union members. They also plead that the lay-off was arbitrarily adopted by the management in the teeth of protests of the workmen with the result that the workloads of the workmen increased, the workmen had to work over-time, new appointments had to be made and a set of workers had to be employed on temporary basis. They further plead that the original list of workmen sought to be retrenched, has been altered and that the workmen have not been selected according to the recognised principle and they dispute the extent of retrenchment sought.

The company has filed an affidavit in reply, meeting the allegations made in the affidavit of the workmen. The figures of losses for 1953 and 1954, which are said to have not been available when the present application was filed, have been given in the affidavit in reply.

The workmen have appended to their main application a comparative chart to indicate the trading position from 1950 to 1954. This has not been specifically controverted by the workmen. It appears from the chart that orders for the manufacture of machineries considerably dwindled in 1953. Only 15 machines of different types were billed as against 148 in 1950. The chart indicates a slight improvement in 1954 over 1953, but the position was much worse than that of the previous years up to 1952. Out of 44 machines manufactured in 1954, 25 were for a former order which had been cancelled and had to be reconstructed. Thus, out of the total number of machines built in 1954, 27 relate to orders of that year and the remaining 27 to orders of previous years. The casting position seems to have slightly improved. The management admits that the works were getting orders for castings, but it contends that what affected the Foundry Section was a fall in the manufacture of moulds. The customers of the Works were mostly supplying their moulds since 1953. The ratio of labour charges to total turnover rose from 41 per cent. in 1950 to 60 per cent. in 1953. There was a slight fall in 1954 and that was undoubtedly due to the lay-off. The trading position in terms of profit and loss was as detailed below:—

Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
(+)85,114	(+)29,533	(—)10,018	(—)98,000.	(—)1,01,000

Much stress was laid by the workmen on the average outturn of casting per workmen from 1950 to 1954. In 1950 it was 84·1 cwt in 1951 it rose to 85·708 cwt. and in 1952 it again rose to 96·1 cwt. Then it came down in 1953 to 88·3 cwt. Of the total production in 1954, 8,226 cwt. were machine mouldings and 12,140 were hand-mouldings. In the absence of any material about the comparative time and difficulties involved in the two kinds of work we are not inclined to take into account the figure for 1954, about the average outturn per worker. It was contended on behalf of the workmen that the work-load in that Casting Department was gradually on the increase. In the absence of the figures for normal outturn by a workman, any fluctuation in the outturn—rise or fall—in any particular year or years, does not lead to any conclusion whatsoever.

In an industry which does not manufacture marketable commodities and which is dependent on orders, the profit and loss accounts undoubtedly reflect faithfully the rise and fall in the business. This may not be so in industries manufacturing marketable commodities, where production may have to be reduced on account of accumulation of finished products and other reasons in spite of profits, and production may be increased in spite of loss where the management thinks that such increase in the production would reduce the over-head expenditure and enable the commodities produced by the industry to compete in the market. Thus in industries manufacturing marketable commodities, there may be decrease or increase in the work of the industry without reference to profit and loss. This principle cannot be applied here. We are impressed that the trading position of the Angus Engineering Works prima facie makes out a case for reduction of the labour force.

This Tribunal has repeatedly held that the management would be the best judge to determine the number of workmen who had become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economy or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained and that where in effecting the retrenchment the management acts in a bona fide manner, the number of workmen to be retrenched by it ought to be accepted. Nothing substantial could be shown that the management was not acting bona fide or that it was actuated by a spirit of victimisation or unfair labour practice In an industry like the present one, where there are works of different types, the requirement of labour force cannot be found out by applying the rules of ratio and proportion and the Tribunal judges cannot and should not, in the absence of expert assistance, interfere with the decision of the management on this point. It was contended on behalf of the workmen that there had been an increase in the work-load of the workmen. They intended to make out a case that the management's action was prompted by extraneous considerations, and for this purpose, we were referred to the figures of the average outturn per worker in the Casting Department which we have already discussed. We are not inclined to take the fluctuations as evidence of increase in the work-load of the workmen in that particular department. That there has been a decline in the manufacture of moulds, cannot be disputed.

It was further contended on behalf of the workmen that the workers had to work overtime even during the periods of lay-off and that new hands had been employed and the laid off workmen were being employed on temporary basis from time to time. Overtime work is a normal feature in an industry, specially in a manufacturing industry which depends solely or mainly on outside orders. Uniform flow of orders is an exception rather than the rule. The orders are to be executed within a time limit fixed generally by the customers and overtime work is necessitated even when an industry works with more than its own requirements. Overtime work is casual and sudden. Such work cannot be anticipated sufficiently ahead. Even if a number of workmen are required to work overtime for several days at a stretch, the total overtime work does not generally justify employment of additional hands. Employment of additional hands is not possible unless and until there is a regular flow of the additional work, which the workmen are required to do outside the scheduled hours, to justify it. If there were the least justification, the management would have employed additional hands instead of requiring workmen to work overtime at double the normal rates. We can presume that the management would not go against its own interest unless that is prompted by some extraneous considerations but no such extraneous considerations could be suggested in the present case.

The laid-off workmen were admittedly employed from time to time as temporary workmen and were paid the wages in addition to the lay-off compensation. In this matter also if the works had justified regular employment of these workmen, they would not have been laid-off and employed again on temporary basis. Employment of these laid-off workmen on temporary basis was apparently on the same grounds which necessitated overtime work by the permanent workmen.

The management admits to have employed two blacksmiths for the Forge shop, which was working in full swing. It may be noted that the management has not prayed for retrenchment of any workman of the Forge shop. Hence employment of the two new hands in the Forge shop does not affect the demand of the management for retrenchment of workers in other departments of the works where there has been prima facie a fall in the works.

Lastly it was suggested for the workmen that the contemplated action of the management proceeded from a desire to make more profits. A desire to make more profits is natural and has been held to be lawful. Such a desire in a company does not vitiate retrenchment (Tata Oil Mills Co., Ltd., Tatapuram, 1953, I L.L.J., p. 45).

Now about selection of the workmen to be retrenched, nothing could be shown that the ordinary principle of "last come, first go" was not respected. It was contended on behalf of the workmen that the original list of workmen sought to be retrenched had been altered. We may note here that a similar application for retrenchment of 98 workmen was filed before the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal on the 14th May 1954, before whom an industrial dispute between the Works and their Workmen over the question of bonus was pending. Before the application under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for permission to retrench 98 workmen could be taken up before the learned Tribunal, the award came into operation and the application became infructuous. The present application under section 22 of Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, with its annexures, is identically the same as the application under section 33 before the Third Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, with this exception that in the application under section 33, the figures for 1954 could not be given. During the hearing of the arguments before us it transpired that although the management had contemplated to lay-off 113 workmen of different categories, only 98 were laid off. The remaining 15 could not be laid off on the ground that they had works in hand. Subsequently when the management decided to apply for retrenchment of workmen, 15 of the workmen resigned and there was no necessity for applying for permission to retrench more than 98 workmen.

Lastly it was contended on behalf of the workmen that during the negotiations the management had agreed to take back some of the workmen. This fact is admitted by the management but not the figure. The management contends that when the negotiations failed, the offer of the management could not stand. We also accept that view.

On the materials placed before us we are definitely of the opinion that prima facie case for retrenchment of 98 workmen mentioned in the annexure to the present application, has been made out and the management has acted bona fide and permission is accordingly accorded to retrench these workmen on terms embodied in sections 25F, 25G and 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

NOTIFICATION.

Calcutta, the 2nd July 1955.

No. 2T.B.—It is hereby notified for general information that text-books written in accordance with the revised syllabuses for Primary (Junior Basic) Schools on the following subjects and classes as mentioned below will be received by the Secretary, West Bengal Text-Book Committee (Writers' Buildings, Block No. 1, second floor) on or before the 4th October 1955. (History) and 5th October 1955 (Geography and Natural Science). These books will come into force from 1st January 1956 and will remain valid for one year. Text-books on the subjects and for the classes which were approved in terms of this office notification No. 22T.B., dated 29th November 1950 and No. 6T.B., dated 15th December 1954 will automatically be cancelled after 31st December 1955. Syllabuses as revised are reproduced below:—

Class III.

1. History.—A text-book not exceeding 80 pages containing the syllabus for class III.

2. Geography and Natural Science.—A combined text-book on Geography and Natural Science not exceeding 100 pages.

Class IV.

1. History.—A text-book not exceeding 100 pages.

2. Geography and Natural Science.—A combined text-book on Geography and Natural Science not exceeding 120 pages.

Class V.

1. History.—An illustrated text-book not exceeding 110 pages.

2. Geography.—A text-book on Geography not exceeding 130 pages.

3. Natural Science.—A text-book on Natural Science not exceeding 112 pages.

The details regarding the procedure of the submission of the books are given below:—

(1) Each book will be submitted in six copies* with an application in the following form:—

(i) Name of the book.

(ii) Class for which it is intended.

(iii) Name and address of the author.

(iv) Name and address of the publisher.

(v) Name and address of the press where printed.

(vi) If the book was previously submitted for consideration

*Four of these copies should contain no names of authors or publishers on the cover, inner title page, in the preface or elsewhere. The identity of the author or publisher should in no way be revealed in these copies.

(2) Two declarations as shown below should be forwarded to the Secretary, West Bengal Text-Book Committee, for record along with the submission of each book:—

(i) I (We) declare that I (we) am (are) the author(s) of the book entitled.....

and published by.....

.....

Signature of author(s).

(ii) I (We) declare that no copyright material has been used in the book entitled.....; necessary permission has been obtained for the copyright material that has been used in the book entitled.....

.....

Dated.....

.....

Signature of author(s) or publisher(s).

(iii) In the case of an author or publisher who is a Government servant the number and the date of the order in which he/she has been permitted to write or publish the book should invariably be quoted in the application form.

(3) A sum of Rs. 11 in case of text-books for classes III and IV and Rs. 15 in case of text-books for class V should be paid as fees for each book mentioned above. A chalan showing payment into a Government treasury in West Bengal of the sum should accompany the application submitting each book to the Committee. No book will be considered without a treasury chalan.

(4) It is desirable that the title of a book submitted to the Committee for consideration should be printed at the top of each leaf of the book.

(5) Books submitted to the Secretary should always be in print.

(6) No name except that of author and publisher should be allowed on the cover or title page (i.e., no name of editor, reviser or writer of foreword or preface should be allowed).

(7) Authors of text-books are requested to confine themselves to line drawings in preference to half-tone blocks and to make the illustrations more appropriate to facts to be illustrated.

(8) Authors and publishers are requested strictly to observe the following specifications in respect of Primers:—

Size—Crown 8vo. Type page 22 em × 36 em 12 pt. (overall).

(9) Paper should be unglazed, hard pressed, opaque and not below 20″ × 30″, 500's White Printing.

(10) Ink should be good black, evenly distributed and of one colour.

(11) Type should be broad without excessive contrast of thick and thin. "Condensed" type should not be used.

(12) The office of the Secretary, West Bengal Text-Book Committee, does not hold itself responsible for answering letters regarding books under consideration of the Committee. Names of books approved will be duly notified.

SYLLABUS ON HISTORY.

Class III.

There shall be a text-book for the class which will consist of the following stories:—

(i) Wars between Kurus and Pandvas.

(ii) The story of Gautama Buddha—His birth, renunciation, austerities and realization of truth.

(iii) The story of Jesus Christ.

(iv) The story of Kalidas.

(v) The story of Muhammad.

(vi) The story of Ajanta and Elora; the Temples of Puri and Kanaraka.

(vii) The story of Harshavardhana.

(viii) The story of Dharmapal.

(ix) The story of Ballal Sen and Lakshman Sen.

(x) The story of Hussan Shah.

(xi) The story of Sri Chaitanya.

(xii) The story of Shivaji (Sayestha Khan—escape from Agra Fort).

(xiii) Job Charnock and foundation of the town of Calcutta.

(xiv) Satyagraha of Mahatma Gandhi in South Africa.

Class IV.

(i) The Adibasis of India.

Note.—(i) The text-book should be written in very simple language mainly emphasizing the landmarks in Indian History and the life of the people without encumbering children with dates, etc. The gaps in time should be filled in by the writer in a few sentences so that the events to be studied, may not appear to be isolated.

(ii) Sense of time should be developed as far as possible, at this stage, with the help of lines of time and other types of pictorial time charts.

(iii) The teaching of history should be concretised by frequent visits to historical relics, museums that may be in the locality, by dramatization and visual aids like pictures and actual construction by pupils of forts, weapons, battle plans, costumes, etc., of historical periods.

SYLLABUS ON GEOGRAPHY.

Class III.

There shall be a text-book in the class. Many reference books, profusely illustrated, of varying geographical interests will be freely handled by children in the Library corner.

2. Exploration.—The child as a young geographer and explorer. The child will explore one or two neighbouring villages or localities, observe the people that live in those areas—their ways of life—their occupation—the types of houses they dwel in, the clothes they put on—the things that they produce—the things that they take to the neighbouring village market or town for trade—how they go to town—canals, rivers, railway, the factory that has grown up—what it produces—how the fish, vegetables, cereals come from the neighbouring villages to towns.

The child should be physically fit to do this journey. The child collects things as he roams about and makes scrap books—the child makes his own book of geography.

More observation work.—Watching the sun, the shadow stick—Day and Night—The Weather Cock—Hot and cold weather. Stars: The Pole Star, The Great Bear, the Little Bear, Orion, Scorpion, The Venus, The Evening Star.

Things to do and make—

(i) Helping older boys in project work.

(ii) Beginning of map work.

(iii) Cardinal points.

(iv) Making a plan to show the way to school from home.

(v) Collection of different kinds of rock and soil.

(vi) Collection of caterpillars, moths and butterflies.

3. (a) Talks on people of our home land. The farmer, the market gardener, the fisherman, the postman, the factory worker.

(b) Stories on the children and people who live in other lands—pictures to be given.

The children should make a museum or organise an exhibition with what they collect or with things they make.

Class IV.

1. Story approach to continue and projects to be begun from this stage and will be of an increasing order of complexity. The reference books in this class should offer help in carrying out projects successfully.

2. Talks on people and their life in different parts of our home land whose way of life contrasts with ours—

(i) People in North-Western India (including Pakistan), Rajputana and South India.

(ii) Santhals and Mundas, the Nepalese, Khasias.

(iii) Life in industrial, farming and Nomadic communities.

3. Some friends of the community—

(i) The Farmer.

(ii) The Fisherman.

(iii) The Milkman.

(iv) The Smith.

(v) The Potter.

(vi) The Weaver.

(vii) The Carpenter.

(viii) The Mason.

(ix) The worker in the factory.

(x) The Scavenger.

4. Geography of the home district—with special reference to important centres in trade, commerce and industry. Interesting places in the district. Interest in these studies may be developed by visits to weekly market fairs, places of pilgrimage, neighbouring towns, etc.

5. Descriptive account of Bengal in broad outlines.

6. Observational work.—Same as in class III, more detail and greater degree of accuracy should be stressed. Thermometer and Rain gauge reading may be attempted, wherever possible.

This work may be supplemented by lessons on—

Wind and rain—how caused—climate—cycle of seasons. Preparation of weather bulletin for the farmer.

7. Things to do and make.—

(i) Wind vane, Rain gauge, Field work.

(ii) Local Survey of School and its surroundings, parks, markets, play grounds, maps of village or mohalla—compare this with large scale ordnance maps.

(iii) Making of models and plans to scale.

Project work to be undertaken—more detail and greater degree of accuracy in recording to be stressed.

Class V.

1. Geography of the State of West Bengal—surface features, climate, forest products, minerals, important crops, irrigation, occupation of the people, industries, population centres, administrative divisions.

2. Indian Union.—Broad natural divisions and surface features, climate, important crops, minerals and industries. Transportation. Some important cities. Political Geography of Indian Union. Principal administrative divisions.

3. Introduction to the Globe—position of continents, oceans, important countries, chief mountain ranges, rivers, deserts, a few important cities.

4. Stories of early travels—the story of Greater India; Vasco da Gama; Marco Polo; Ibne Batuta; Columbus; Captain Cook; Scott; Amundsen and Peary—The Everest Expedition.

5. Observational work.—This should continue along the lines laid down for the previous year. More accurate survey of the village or town or a particular portion of it.

Familiarity with Map symbols, Latitude and Longtitude.

SYLLABUS ON NATURAL SCIENCE.

Class III.

A simple text-book to be provided.

2. Germination experiments to continue—measurements of length of the plant at regular intervals——observing the effect of heat and light, moisure, porosity of the Soil.

3. External features of leaves of various trees which the children see in the environment. Fern and Moss. Climbing plants, how they climb. Fruit—the home of the Seeds, many fruits examined to find out seeds. Collection of Dry Fruit.

4. Observing development of frog spawn in acquarium or pond or elsewhere—children to keep notes. Observing fishes in children's acquarium or elsewhere and making sketches. How they breathe. Land Snails.

5. Habitats of some common Birds, Birds' foot prints. High fliers, Feeding of birds to continue.

6. Nocturnal Creatures—Owl, Bat, Fox, Rat—discussion of their food and habits.

7. Talks in story form on animals that sleep in winter, that change their coats, etc.

8. To make Weather Charts with signs for the Sun. Rain and Wind. Cloud sketching. Apparent movement of the Sun seen at say 9 a.m., 12 noon, 2 p.m., 4 p.m., etc. Direction of the Wind—how caused.

(iii) Administrative experience for five years.

Age between 30 and 40 years on 1st July 1955. The upper age limit is relaxable by three years for Scheduled Castes/Tribes and up to 45 years for displaced persons from Pakistan.

The upper age limit is relaxable for a non-Muslim Government servant in undivided Bengal who had originally opted to serve in East Bengal and was working under the Government of East Bengal after partition but has since formally resigned his service under that Government and has come over to India as refugee.

A candidate who before the 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay is Rs. 250—20—650—25—750 (E.B. after 10th and 18th stages) plus usual allowances. Higher initial pay up to Rs. 350 per month may be given to a candidate possessing exceptional qualifications.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 10th March 1949, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 29th July 1955.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law.

ORDINANCE No. 3 OF 1955.

THE INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES (APPELLATE TRIBUNAL) AMENDMENT ORDINANCE, 1955.

Promulgated by the President in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India.

An Ordinance to amend the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950.

WHEREAS Parliament is not in session and the President is satisfied that circumstances exist which render it necessary for him to take immediate action;

NOW THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (1) of article 123 of the Constitution, the President is pleased to promulgate the following Ordinance:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Ordinance may be called the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Amendment Ordinance, 1955.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Insertion of new sections 23A and 23B in Act XLVIII of 1950.

2. During the period of operation of this Ordinance, the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, shall have effect as if after section 23, the following sections had been inserted, namely:—

Disposal of certain proceedings by a member sitting singly.

"23A. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 8, the Chairman or any other member specially authorised in this behalf by the Chairman may sitting singly dispose of any proceeding pending before the Appellate Tribunal under section 22 or section 23 and may, in the disposal of such proceeding, exercise all or any of the powers of the Appellate Tribunal.

Power to transfer certain proceedings.

23B. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the Chairman may, by general or special order in writing, transfer any proceeding pending before the Appellate Tribunal under section 22 or section 23 to any of the industrial tribunals specified in this behalf by the Central Government for disposal of the proceeding, and the industrial tribunal to which the proceeding is so transferred may, subject to any special directions in the order of transfer, proceed either de novo or from the stage at which it was transferred, and shall dispose of the proceeding as if it were a proceeding under section 33 or, as the case may be, section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 and the provisions of that Act shall apply accordingly.

XIV of 1947.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 7, no appeal shall lie to the Appellate Tribunal from any order or award of an industrial tribunal made in any proceeding transferred to it under the provisions of sub-section (1)."

(d) in clause (n), after the words "this Act", the words "fees for attending meetings thereof and the conduct of business thereat" shall be inserted.

23. In clause (c) of section 2 of the State Financial Corporations Act, 1951, after the word "engaged" the words "or to be engaged" shall be, and shall be deemed always to have been, inserted. Amendment of section 2, Act LXIII of 1951.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Following the recommendations of the Industrial Finance Corporation Inquiry Committee, 1953, organizational arrangements in the Corporation were reviewed by Government. Among other things, it is proposed to provide for a "Central Committee" instead of an "Executive Committee" and for the appointment of a stipendiary Chairman to be assisted by a General Manager in place of the honorary Chairman and a paid whole-time Managing Director. Certain other amendments have also been suggested by the further experience gained in the working of the Corporation and the present opportunity is being availed of to carry them out. The Bill seeks to amend the Industrial Finance Corporation Act, 1948 to achieve these objects.

The Bill also includes a provision for widening the definition of 'industrial concern' in section 2(e) of the State Financial Corporations Act, 1951 in the same way as the definition is proposed to be widened under the Industrial Finance Corporation Act, 1948.

The Notes on Clauses appended to the Bill explain the provisions thereof.

A. C. GUHA.

NEW DELHI;

The 30th March, 1955.

Notes on clauses.

Clause 2.—This clause seeks to extend the Act to the State of Jammu and Kashmir.

Clause 3.—Doubts have arisen as to whether concerns which are not actually engaged in the manufacture or processing of goods are eligible for loans. This clause seeks to clarify the intention that concerns which have been formed with the object of engaging in the manufacture or processing of goods are also eligible for loans.

Clause 4.—This clause seeks to make it clear that the Corporation should have the power not only to acquire and hold property but also to dispose it of.

Clause 5.—This clause seeks to vest in the Board of Directors the sole responsibility in regard to the general superintendence and direction of the affairs and business of the Corporation.

Clause 6.—The omission of sections 7, 8 and 9 is consequential on the abolition of the post of the Managing Director and the replacement of the Executive Committee by the Central Committee.

Clause 7.—Section 10 has been amended to provide for the appointment of the Chairman by Government after consultation with the Board and the abolition of the posts of the Managing Director and Deputy Managing Director are consequential changes.

Clause 8.—This clause deals with the terms and conditions of service of the Chairman and the functions to be performed by him.

Clauses 9 and 10.—The changes made are merely consequential.

Clauses 11 and 12.—The powers for removal from office and for filling up casual vacancy at present exercisable by Government in respect of the Managing Director are provided by these clauses in respect of the Chairman.

Clause 13.—The proposed section 14 sets out the composition and functions of the Central Committee which will replace the existing Executive Committee.

The proposed section 15 corresponds to original section 8.

The proposed section 16 will enable the Corporation to appoint a General Manager along with other officers and advisers.

Clause 14.—The changes made are merely consequential.

Clause 15.—The proposed sub-section (3) of section 21 is merely a drafting change to make the intention clear and to bring it in conformity with section 17(4B)(b) of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934.

The proposed sub-section (4) of section 21 empowers the Corporation to borrow money from the Central Government.

Clause 16.—It is considered that the limitation in section 23(1)(d) that the stocks, shares, debentures or bonds taken up by the Corporation in fulfilment of its underwriting liabilities should not be held for more than seven years might be an obstacle to the Corporation taking up this business. It is therefore proposed to empower the Central Government to remove this limitation.

Clause 17.—This clause seeks to make it clear that the Corporation has the right to appoint more than one Director on the Board of Directors of the industrial concern to which it has given a loan.

Clause 18.—This is merely a drafting change.

Clause 19.—This clause seeks to make it clear that for the purpose of realising its dues, the Corporation cannot only sell but also lease the property pledged or mortgaged to it.

Clause 20.—When an industrial concern makes a default in the payment of its dues to the Corporation, the Corporation has been given certain rights under section 28 to realise its dues. The rights under section 28 are intended to be enforceable otherwise than in terms of the procedure laid down in section 30. It has, therefore, been provided that the procedure laid down in section 30 shall be without prejudice to the provisions of section 28.

Again, section 30 of the Act does not provide for any procedure for the execution of the order passed by the court for transferring the management of an industrial concern. The proposed sub-section (10A) of section 30 seeks to remove this lacuna.

Clause 21.—This clause empowers the Board to delegate its powers to the Chairman or other officers of the Corporation.

Clause 22.—Regulations governing pay, allowances and conditions of service of officers of the Corporation are not at present framed under the Act. Section 43 is being amended to provide for such staff regulations being framed under the Act.

The other provisions made in this clause are self-explanatory.

Clause 23.—The definition of 'industrial concern' in section 2(c) of the State Financial Corporations Act, 1951 is being widened in the same way as the definition is proposed to be widened under the Industrial Finance Corporation Act, 1948.

S. N. MUKHERJEE,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

Calcutta, the 28th May 1955.

MEMORANDUM.

No. 2338/M.2S-36/54, dated Calcutta, the 24th March 1955.

From—The Additional Assistant Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Local Self-Government (Local Self-Government), Department,

To—The Commissioner, Burdwan Division.

Subject: Annual publication in the Calcutta Gazette of the statement of all gifts between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 5,000 made by private individuals for public purposes and works of public utility.

Reference: His memorandum No. 2476J.G., dated 23rd August 1954.

The undersigned is directed to say that the annual publication in the Calcutta Gazette of the statement of all gifts between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 5,000 in value, which had been acknowledged by the Divisional Commissioners in the course of the year, was suspended as a measure of paper economy for the duration of the war under this department memorandum No. 2152M., dated the 19th December 1944. But the publication of the statement has not been resumed after the termination of the war. The undersigned is to say that the statement of gifts referred to above may henceforth be published in the Calcutta Gazette in accordance with the instructions contained in clause (e) of paragraph 4 of this department circular letter No. 1M., dated the 6th January 1910, addressed to all Commissioners of Divisions.

Statement showing donations and endowments made by private persons for works of public utility during the year 1953 published for general information.

Subject:—Washing allowance of liveries issued to Class IV servants of the Government of India.

No. T.M./513.—29th June 1955.—It has been decided by the Government of India in the Ministry of Home Affairs that articles of livery issued to Class IV Government servants under that Ministry's office memorandum No. 5/1/49Pub., dated the 30th October 1949, should be withdrawn during the period of their absence from duty on regular leave exceeding fifteen days.

It has further been decided that no "washing allowance" during leave (other than casual leave) should be paid to them.

All drawing and disbursing officers are accordingly requested to see that on the bills in which charges for washing allowance are included a certificate in the following form is recorded:—

"Certified that the Grade IV Government servants for whom washing allowances have been claimed in this bill were not on any kind of leave (other than casual leave)" during this period.

Dy. Accountant-General (III).

Subject:—Statements of remission of revenue and abandonment of claims to revenue sanctioned during the year 1954-55.

No. T.M./512.—27th June 1955.—Attention of all Heads of Departments (both of the Union Government and of the State Government) under the audit control of this office is invited to paragraph 37 of the General Financial Rules, Volume I (in case of affairs of the Union Government) and to rule 43 of the West Bengal Financial Rules, Volume I (in case of affairs of the State Government) under which the statements mentioned therein, were due to reach this office by the first week of June 1955. As, however, in many cases the statements with necessary particulars have not been received even now, the Heads of Departments concerned are requested to furnish the same without any further delay. If there be no such case during the year under consideration in any particular department, a "nil" statement may kindly be made available as early as possible.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 2938Dis./D/10L-45/55.—4th July 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1951Dis./D/10L-45/54, dated the 4th May 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Ltd., 12 Mission Row, Calcutta and their workmen represented by Robert Hudson Workers' Union, 129-A, Circular Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-23, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Ltd., 12, Mission Row, Calcutta and their workmen represented by Robert Hudson Workers' Union, 129-A, Circular Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-23.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH CHANDRA SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Assistant Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

For the Union: Shri Ram Sen, Assistant Secretary of the Federation of Engineering Workers' Union.

Acting under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 1951Dis./D/10L-45/54, dated Calcutta, the 4th May 1955, referred the aforesaid dispute for adjudication to me regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the said Order of Reference.

SCHEDULE.

(1) Bonus for 1952.

(2) Revision of production bonus.

(3) Rate of annual increment.

AWARD.

The Union representing the workers made a grievance that the workers were being paid rock bottom wages removed from the living wages by a good length. Annual increment of pay might bring some measure of relief but the Company has been following an arbitrary policy of granting occasional increment at a very low rate to some selected persons according to their whim. The Union pressed for annual increment at a settled rate for all the workers. The second grievance is that a system of granting production bonus was in vogue which was neither reasonable nor equitable. The target of production which the worker has to reach to qualify for production bonus was pitched so high that it was practically unattainable. In consequence the scheme brought the workers little confort. The Union invited the Tribunal to revise the scheme in all its essentials. Lastly the Union claimed bonus equivalent to three months' wages as against the payment made by the Company equal to one month's wages.

Issue No. 3.—Rate of annual increment.

Admittedly there is no fixed scale of pay or grade system. The minimum wage payable to the unskilled workers had been fixed by the Major Engineering Tribunal Award in 1948, but no maximum pay was fixed. In the case reported in 1953, L.A.C., page 118, it was observed that:

> "in the absence of any fixed scales of pay or grades it is not possible to pass an order calling upon the Company to give increment".

Same view was taken in the case reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 608. The evidence led by both parties proves that the Company grants increment to selected persons. According to O.P.W. 2, in allowing increment regularity, punctuality, efficiency and conduct are taken into consideration. It so happens therefore that increment is not found due to all the workers and even the same person might not be getting increment year after year. Ext. C is a chart showing list of increments allowed to workers from 1948 to 1953. The real position therefore is that increment does not follow an automatic process. Workers found eligible in any particular year according to the criterion fixed by the Company get increment. They may be passed over if judged by the same tests they are found wanting the next year. It has been observed in the case reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 638, that:

> "where there is no grade system or time scale in the factory, the labourers cannot have a grievance if the Management in their discretion gives higher wages to some of their employees".

The case reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 172, on which reliance was placed on behalf of the Union is of no assistance inasmuch as on the facts of that case it was found that increment having been given year after year, it was looked upon by the employees as a condition of their service. The facts of that case and the case under consideration are far from parallel. Even according to the workers' own statement in paragraph iv, at page five increment was allowed occasionally to a few workmen. There is no scope for the plea that increment was deemed to be a condition of service.

The labour representative pointedly drew the attention of the Tribunal to what he described as discriminating treatment accorded by the Company granting increment to a select few. A straight answer is provided by the observation in the case reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 638:

> "that when there is no grade system or time scale in the factory, the labourers cannot have a grievance if the management in their discretion give higher wages to some of the employees".

In the present case there being no fixed scale of pay or grade system, the Tribunal cannot direct the Company to allow automatic increment to all its workers. The relief claimed must accordingly be disallowed.

Issue No. 2.—Revision of production bonus.

In June 1949, the production bonus scheme was introduced. Under the scheme extra payments are made for extra production beyond the limit of a fixed quota. The ordinary quota of monthly production is fixed at 110 wagon tons. Each wagon ton expected to require 410 man-hours. If the turnover is higher the unskilled workers are each paid Rs. 8 and the semi-skilled workers Rs. 10 and Rs. 12 according to the pay drawn by them. These rewards are termed task prizes. This is not all. The Company makes further payment for production of a wagon ton in less than 410 man hours. A facsimile of this scheme is in operation in the firm of Burn & Co., Howrah, which is under the control of the same managing agents as Messrs. Robert Hudson (India), Ltd. The scheme had to run the gauntlet of double barrelled criticism, viz., firstly, that the normal monthly production was 70 to 80 tons (wagon) before this scheme was introduced. The target was raised so high that it eluded the grasp though the labourers toiled and sweated to the utmost limit of physical endurance to reach it. Secondly, the remuneration in the shape of task prize and incentive task prize, could stand no comparison with the overtime allowance previously earned. The two witnesses examined by the Union failed to supply reliable information, regarding the usual monthly outturn before inauguration of the scheme in 1949. The data available from the "Workers' out-put register" with reference to which evidence was offered by O.P.W. 3, we find that in January 1949, the out-put was 82 tons, in February 142 tons, in March 195 tons, in April 105 tons, and in May 124 tons. This scheme came into operation with effect from the month of June. In fixing the target at 110 tons the Company does not appear to have set the workers to the task of squaring a circle. The statement Ext. D showing earnings of task prize and incentive task prize from June 1949 to December 1954, proves that the target was reached and exceeded more often that not. P.W. 1 admitted that in 1954 he won prizes eleven times out of twelve. The cherished aspiration of the Company naturally is to carry the business to the zenith of prosperity. Every avenue would be explored to devise means to step up production. If the target were fixed too high labourers could have no impetus to pull their full weight. The Company could not launch a scheme which instead of increasing production would make the labourers relax their efforts. The witnesses for the Union made no grievance before the Tribunal that to reach the target they had to work with their nose to the grind-stone or that the strain was too hard to bear. The plea advanced by the Union that the target should be lowered and man-hours enlarged does not appear reasonable in the circumstances proved before the Tribunal

The Union has not adduced any evidence showing the monthly earnings of the workers in the shape of overtime allowance I am not hence in a position to make comparison. It should not also be overlooked that under the Indian Factories Act no labourer can bo allowed to work beyond 9 hours per day. Considering Union's objection from all stand points I am not satisfied that the workers are getting a raw deal which is to be set right by the Tribunal undertaking to reform the scheme. The claim for revision of the production bonus scheme must therefore be turned down.

Issue No. 1.—Bonus for 1952.

Bonus equal to one month's wages was paid by the Company to the workers. In the Union's estimate bonus equal to three months' wages ought to have been paid since the Company made huge profits. Allowance being made for prior charges a fat surplus was available out of which the workers should be paid their proper share by way of bonus.

On the basis of the profit and loss account the statement Ext. B was prepared by the Company to convince the Tribunal that on the trading results of the year 1952, there was no available surplus to meet the demand for an additional payment. On the other hand the Union took the stand that on proper scrutiny the correct position would be found to be just the reverse.

The Company's statement is reproduced stripped of the details of calculation:

	Rs.
Profit as per profit and loss account ...	2,51,354
Add Depreciation charged in the accounts ...	23,046
	2,74,400
Less statutory depreciation ..	30,972

	1,48,823
Less interest at 6 per cent. on paid up capital (Rs. 5,64,000) ..	33,840
	1,14,983
Less depreciation at 4 per cent. of General Reserve employed as working capital (Rs. 5,65,000) ...	22,600
	92,383
Less replacement and rehabilitation charges ...	68,351
	24,032
Less commission to Manager and Managing Agents ..	25,135
	(−)1,103
Less commission received from Robert (Leeds), Ltd. ...	3,317
	(−)4,420
Less profit carried down from the Bengal Colliery Stone Trading Account ...	23,301
	(−)27,721

On the showing of this account the Company had not only no residuary surplus but the pendulum had swung to the other side.

I am not satisfied that the Company is entitled to withhold profit of the Burnpore business in calculating the residuary surplus, if any. Evidence was led by the Company that the Company has business in controlled goods, e.g., rails, which is carried on at Burnpur. As the workers at Kidderpore make no contribution of labour in regard to the business done at Burnpore, they are not, in the Company's view entitled to have the profit earned there, brought into the hotchpot. This argument would have prevailed if the Burnpore branch were treated as an entirely separate unit for which separate accounts were maintained. As a matter of fact, combined profit and loss account for the Burnpore branch and the Calcutta Branch (factory) has been drawn up, the trading profit of the former being transferred to the Profit and Loss Account of the patent body. In my view the Company is not entitled to deduct the sum of Rs. 23,301. Authority for the view taken by me may be found in the case reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 131.

I shall now turn to the items in the Company's chart to which the Union representative has taken strong exception.

Commission paid to the Manager over and above his monthly salary was objected to, but this objection cannot be upheld. The Manager is entitled to draw commission under the terms of his engagement. The Company is under contractual obligation to honour the agreement. I can see no difference between the Manager's commission and commission due to the Managing Agents which has been held in reported cases to be a legitimate item of expenditure liable to be deducted in determining the available surplus. Just as the Union cannot urge that Manager's salary should have been more moderate, it is not open to it to cavil at the commission which was part of the contract. The gross profit for calculation of available surplus was Rs. 2,51,354 according to the Company's Profit and Loss Account. The Union representative submitted that the sum of Rs. 1,6,103 brought forward from the previous year (1951) after payment of dividend should be lumped with the profits earned in 1952. This plea is not at all sustainable. Bonus has been paid or might have been paid on the profit of the previous year. It cannot be pumped again to produce bonus for the next year. Bonus for 1952 will depend on the profits of the particular year.

Interest was calculated at 6 per cent. on paid up capital (Rs. 5,64,000). The contention of the Union representative was that half of the total amount was received in cash and the balance represents bonus shares. Interest on the bonus shares should be allowed at the rate of 4 per cent. and not at 6 per cent. Reference was made to the case reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 172. In that case bonus share constituted the bulk of the share capital. In the present case, the paid capital and bonus share bear the same proportion. On behalf of the Company the case reported in 1955, I, L.L.J., page 73, was cited. In that case it was pointed out that 4 per cent. return must be allowed on the part of the paid up capital represented by bonus share only for the year in which such shares were issued but for the subsequent years there is no justification for making a distinction between it and paid up capital represented by paid up adjustment for the purpose of return. In the circumstances of the case however interest at 4 per cent. was allowed. The latest case on the point, so far as I could gather, is reported in 1953, L.L.J., page 534, in which the Learned Appellate Tribunal made the pregnant observation that:

> "no distinction should be drawn between bonus share and paid up capital in the matter of return. Every encouragement must be given to the ploughing back of profits into the industry and the bonus shares are nothing more than that. The additional capital thus incorporated aids the structure".

In that case 5 per cent. interest was allowed. I think I should follow the same track. Interest should be calculated at 5 per cent. on the bonus shares.

Rupees 5,60,000 appears in the Balance-sheet as General Reserve and Rs. 5,000 as reserve for contingencies. On scrutiny of the balance-sheet it will however appear that in the first half of the year ending on the 30th

June, 1952, there was no contingent reserve. This item appears in the closing account. Interest has still been calculated for the whole year. Besides this the Union representative objected to interest being calculated at 4 per cent. on the ground that the Company has not proved beyond doubt that the reserve was used as working capital throughout the year. In the case reported in 1952, L.A.C., page 310, the Learned Appellate Tribunal observed at page 313 that:

> "to earn a flat rate of interest during the whole year it must be shown that the fund was only employed for that purpose".

Evidence on this point was supplied by O.P.W. 1, one of the Accountants of the Managing Agents. He deposed that the reserves were used as working capital throughout the year. The evidence stands unrebutted as the Union could not furnish even a mere denial to counter it. I cannot therefore agree with the Union representative, that interests at more than 2 per cent. would not be in consonance with fair-play. Interest must be allowed at 4 per cent. on the General Reserve but not on the contingent reserve created in the second half of the year as the date of creation is unknown.

The most vexed question is the replacement and modernisation charges. The Company claimed Rs. 58,413 on account of plant and machinery and Rs. 9,958 on account of buildings. To arrive at the replacement cost the Company has multiplied the value of the block by 2·7 but no such multiplier has been applied in determining the break-down value which has got to be deducted from the present market value of the block. If the same multiplier is adopted the break-down value assessed by the Company would increase approximately to Rs. 39,000. The evidence adduced by the Company shows that new machineries have been purchased year by year. The account show addition to the buildings at a cost of Rs. 2,100 and purchase of machinery of the value of Rs. 19,215 in 1952. Value of new machineries and buildings has undoubtedly been paid at the present market rate. It cannot be increased with the help of the same multiplier, that can be availed of in relation to the old machineries, plants and buildings. The original value of buildings has been multiplied by 2·25. I am not sure if it is proper to assess present market value at such a high rate.

The Union representative argued that the period of replacement must be spread out beyond the limit adopted by the company at least in regard to the new machineries and buildings. Spreading-out over a period of 20 years in lieu of 15 years would be a rough and ready method of adjustment. I cannot endorse this view as the duration of life of plants, machinery and building would be about the same as heretofore.

The sheet-anchor of the workers' case with regard to the prodigious amount claimed by the Company as rehabilitation and replacement charges was that the amount available as statutory depreciation in 1952, is included in rehabilitation and replacement charges. It must therefore be left out of the equation at the time rehabilitation and replacement charges are assessed. The argument is quite sound as rehabilitation charges according to the Full Bench formula include the statutory depreciation. The depreciation fund, if I may so put it, would be available in meeting part of the replacement charges. The Company cannot claim it in a duplicated form. The actual amount to be allowed on this item must therefore be rehabilitation charges as stated in the account minus the amount of statutory depreciation. The sum of Rs. 30,972 is hence to be struck off from the total of the replacement and rehabilitation charges which would be reduced to Rs. 27,441.

From the Income-tax Department the Company is entitled to have refund of a certain percentage of the bonus which has been paid. Similar rebate will accrue if more bonus is awarded. The net result therefore is that even after allowance is made for the Manager's commission totalling Rs. 12,556 and Rs. 11,542 paid by the Company voluntarily as bonus, a robust surplus is discovered. The Union's demand for bonus equivalent to three months' basic wages, in this state of affairs, is anything but extravagant.

The workers are entitled to get bonus equivalent to three months' wages less payment already made by way of bonus for the year 1952, which the Company has got to pay within 15 (fifteen) days from the date of publication of the Award in the Calcutta Gazette.

I award accordingly.

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mookherjee, M.A., L.L.B.

For the workmen: Shri Ram Sen.

Disputes between the Asian Tool and Plastic Co. and their workers have been referred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its order No. 2037Dis./D/11L-152/54, dated Calcutta, the 10th May 1955, for adjudication of the following issue:—

SCHEDULE.

(1) Whether the dismissal of (i) Sk. Babulal, (ii) Kartik Chandra Bairagi, (iii) Amulya Chandra, (iv) Ramen Biswas, (v) Sk. Abdul Rahim, (vi) Saila, (vii) Suresh Das, (viii) Goswami, (ix) Budh Singh is justified? To what relief are they entitled?

AWARD.

In their pleading the workers made out a case that they had presented certain demands to the Company and were also contemplating organising themselves into a Union. To frustrate the demands and prevent the workers from organising a Union, the Company dismissed the workers on the flimsy ground that the business was running at a loss. In fact the Company was having good innings. The dismissal was mala fide. Relief has been claimed by way of reinstatement with full compensation.

The Company's case is that the business had an unlucky spell and closed its financial year with depressing result. The Tools Department had to be closed down permanently. Notice was accordingly served on the men working in the Tools Department that their services had to be dispensed with. Retrenchment was required also in the Moulding Department and some of the men were retrenched with due regard to the principle of "last come, first go". The steps were taken bona fide and not for the purpose of spiting the workers. At the outset the labour representative laid stress on the language used by the Government in the Order of Reference. According to him the Tribunal was to consider the question of "dismissal" of these workers. In his view dismissal was a form of punishment which could be inflicted after observance of recognised formalities. Charge-sheet was to be framed and served, notice given, and proper enquiry was to be held. The Company did not follow this procedure and hence according to him the whole thing was null and void. I cannot agree with the learned representative for the workers. Dismissal has not been defined in the Industrial Disputes Act. Its ordinary dictionary meaning is, sending away, disbanding, discharging, etc. It is nobody's case that the services of these men were terminated on the ground of misconduct. The workers submitted as an annexure to their written statement the notice served by the Company (vide Ext. A). In view of loss suffered in the business, the Management had decided to close down the tools department permanently. It was manifestly a case of closure. Retrenchment was the necessary consequence. I may point out in passing that the difference between closure and normal retrenchment is one of degree only. As pointed out in the case reported in 1953, L.A.C., page 563, retrenchment ordinarily means discharge from service of the surplus part of the labour force but in the case of closure the entire labour force is dispensed with. The arguments advanced both on behalf of workmen and the company as to whether this was retrenchment or closure is not at all useful, since the difference as pointed out is one of degree only. The workers in their written statement paragraph 7, treated the termination of service as retrenchment in the alternative. The Company in its written statement in paragraph 5, referred to it as retrenchment. The argument on behalf of the workers that this was a case of dismissal cannot therefore prevail.

P.W. 1. stated in his evidence that after the Pujas in 1953, written demands for provision of provident fund and sick leave were submitted. There was also an informal gathering of some of the men who talked amongst themselves about the inauguration of a Union. In the estimation of the workers the Company saw in these moves a red signal-premonitory symptoms of the labour group on the staff bracing itself up for strife and turmoil. Scenting danger they struck immediately so that the elements causing the ferment might be got rid of. The real underlying motive for the action taken was to secure safety from trade Union activities. As against this the Company's case is that the business had suffered loss. Their accounts are not before the Tribunal. An unaudited balance-sheet was produced at the time of argument which the Tribunal did not consider fit to admit in evidence. The fact is beyond controversy that the tools department has been completely closed down. Moulds required in the Manufacturing Department used to be prepared in the Tools Department. Orders from outside dealers were also accepted for preparing moulds. All this business had to be shut down. The Tribunal cannot make the view that inspite of the business earning comfortable profits, the management closed down an important department for the purpose of resisting the workers' attempt to form a Union. The closing down of the tools department proves to demonstration that the business was not really making head-way. Or at least the tools department was more a liability than an asset Every citizen has the right, under the Constitution, to carry on any business and he has also the right to close it down if he chooses. The Tribunal is concerned to see whether the closure is bonafide or malafide. The evidence given by the Company which is not at all challenged is that all the machineries of the tools department have been sold away. As already observed the Company cannot be believed to have taken such a drastic step while this department was making appreciable contribution towards the sum-total of the trading gains. It was certainly because the tools department proved unprofitable that company disposed of all the machineries and preferred to obtain moulds from abroad. I am not satisfied that the closing down of the tools department was motivated by any ulterior object, viz., to get rid of the workers whom the Company considered to be potential sources of mischief. The evidence does not show that the men who have been axed were leading spirits in the alleged move to organise a Union. The witness for the Company could not deny if any demands had been submitted. The workers also could not produce copy of any demand submitted in writing. Anyway it is hard to believe that because of demands for provident fund and sick leave the Company decided to close one important wing of its business. As regards projected organisation of a Union the evidence shows that 15 or 16 men of the Moulding Department, Tools Department, and some men of the Manufacturing Department met outside the gate and stood talking for about 10 minutes amongst themselves. I am not prepared to believe that the Company had any knowledge of this informal gathering or that it got scared on that account. My finding on this point is that the closure of the tools department was a bonafide management action. It was not designed to weed out or get rid of the persons deemed undesirable.

Fifteen days' wages were offered by the Company to the men who were thus discharged on the closing of the tools department. The representative for the workers argued that the men retrenched are entitled to compensation whether the closure was justified or not, if the Tribunal holds that they are not entitled to reinstatement. The tools department was entirely separate from the manufacturing department. Workers of the tools department could not be transferred to the manufacturing department or vice versa. They were "water-tight" departments. In such a case the principle of pooled seniority cannot be brought into operation. No question of reinstatement can therefore arise. As regards compensation section 25(f) of the Industrial Disputes Act provides that one month's notice is to be given or wages for the period must be paid in lieu of notice. Compensation must also be paid equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of 6 months. The Company offered to pay 15 days' wages. They have got to pay another 15 days' wages and also compensation equivalent to 15 days' average basic wages for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of 6 months to the men of the Tools Department.

The Company is in its infancy having been started in November 1951.

In awarding compensation I have taken the view that within such a short period the Company could not have made big strides and earned profits hand over fist. Capacity of the Company to pay is a vital factor.

Out of the men of the Moulding Department who were retrenched Saila is dead. Budh Singh, the durwan, has accepted payments made by the Company and has no more disputes to press. This is not denied by the witness for the workers. So far as these two men are concerned there is no dispute subsisting and the Award made on this reference will not touch them

Rahim used to work on a Moulding machine which has been sold. There are two other hand worked machines which have been lying idle. Suresh Lal Dass and Ram Chandra Goswami were each in service for 8 months. Admittedly the Company engaged some men for the moulding department 3 or 4 months after the discharge of these workers. Section 25(H) of the Industrial Disputes Act makes it incumbent upon the employer to give an opportunity to the retrenched workmen to offer themselves for re-employment if he proposes to take into his employ new hands. This was not done. The very fact that recruitment had to be made 3 or 4 months after the discharge is an eye opener. If there had been any pressing necessity to cut down the number of labourers there could be no scope for fresh recruitment in the State in which the business was running. In regard to these three men the Company has not convinced the Tribunal that there was any occasion for retrenchment or that the principle of "last come, first go" was observed. These three men (Rahim, Suresh Lal Dass and Ram Chandra Goswami) must therefore be reinstated with full wages and allowances, if any, with effect from the date of their discharge. The Order of reinstatement and payment directed by the Award must be given effect to within 7 days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

This is my Award.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an Industrial Dispute existing between Messrs. Route Committee of Buses plying in Routes 12, 12A and 12B, C/o. Bengal Bus Syndicate, 6, Dharmatola, Street, Calcutta and their workmen represented by Rashtriya Bus Mazdoor Congress, 54/4C, Strand Road, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, THIRD FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH CHANDRA SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Bengal Bus Syndicate : Shri Sailesh Chandra Sen, Advocate.

For Rashtriya Bus Mazdoor, Congress : Shri Hiralal Roy, Pleader assisted by Shri Rama Nath Singh, Secretary and Shri Ramani Mohan Dutta, General Secretary.

Disputes having arisen between the Route Committee of Buses plying in Routes 12, 12A and 12B, and their workmen represented by Rashtriya Bus Mazdoor Congress, the Government of West Bengal Labour Department, referred the points stated below for adjudication by order No. 1990-Dis./D/4L-11/54, dated Calcutta, the 7th May 1955.

The points for determination are:—

(i) Rules regarding confirmation of employees in service.

(ii) Classification of employees in different categories.

(iii) Procedure for checking time of the movement of buses.

(iv) Whether the termination of services of the following five starters is justified. To what relief are they entitled?

(i) Janab Abdul Basat, (ii) Janab Ahmed Hussain, (iii) Janab Akram Ali Thandar, (iv) Janab Jainuddin Khan and (v) Shri Anil Kumar Mullick.

AWARD.

Issue No. 1.—Rules regarding confirmation of employees in service.

The Union suggested that the workers should be confirmed on completion of six months' service. The learned lawyer appearing for the Route Committee left this matter entirely in the hands of the Tribunal. He had no objection to confirmation being made on completion of six months' service. It is hence awarded that the workers would have their confirmation on approved service being rendered for a period of six months.

Issue No. 2.—Classification of employees in different categories.

There are three categories of workmen, viz., Starters, Supervisors, and Fine Collectors. Classification is already in existence. The same categories will continue. The only point that Tribunal is called upon to stress is that the three classes of workers should be required to perform the duties appropriate to the category to which they belong. There can be no objection to the acceptance of the plea thus put forward. It is awarded that the starters will perform the duty of startars, fine collectors will act as fine collectors and the supervisors will also remain on duties appropriate to their assignment.

Issue No. 3.—Procedure for checking time of the movement of Buses.

The procedure for checking time of the movement of buses is that on the arrival of a bus the conductor gets down and presents the way bill to the starter who notes the time thereon. This procedure is in operation for a series of years. The Union suggested modification and introduction of a new system with demarcation of a rectangular zone. The starters according to the suggestion ought to mark the time as soon as a bus enters the zone. It was also suggested that 15 seconds grace should be allowed.

On behalf of the Route Committee the learned advocate strongly protested against any interference with the domestic administration of the Route Committee. In his view the procedure which is being followed without any let or hindrance and with very good results for a number of years cannot be departed from at the dictates of the workers. Time-keeping is of vital importances for thereon depends the earnings of the buses plying for hire. If any bus loiters on the way to pick up passenger beyond the time allotted to it to cover the distant from one stage to another, the bus next following is deprived of passengers whom it had the right to pick up. Fine is imposed if any bus fails to keep to the time table in order to earn more fares. The Union suggested that 15 seconds grace should be allowed. Some amount of autonomy must be enjoyed by the management concerned. It is for the management to decide what procedure would suit their purpose best. In a matter of this kind it would be unwarranted interference with the details of management if the Tribunal were to follow the suggestion made by the Union. I hold therefore that the power of the Route Committee must not be fettered in any way by any direction regarding procedure that should be followed regarding time keeping by starters.

Issue No. 4.—Whether the termination of services of the following five starters is justified. To what relief are they entitled?—(1) Janab Abdul Basat, (2) Janab Ahmed Hussain, (3) Janab Akram Ali Thandar, (4) Shri Anil Kumar Mullick and (5) Janab Jainuddin Khan.

Janab Akram Ali Thander, Janab Jainuddin and Anil Mullick were retrenched by the Route Committee and Janab Abdul Basat and Janab Ahmed Hussain were dismissed for misconduct. They claim reinstatement and back wages.

Anil Mullick.

Anil Mullick has been taken back by the Route Committee and he has submitted a petition that he has no dispute with the Route Committee at present and no adjudication is required so far as his case is concerned.

Janab Jainuddin Khan and Akram Ali Thandar.

The Route Committee terminated their services on the plea that there was no sufficient work. There are altogether 11 stages where starters are to be posted on duty to record time of arrival and departure of buses. For these 11 stages 22 starters are considered adequate for duty in two shifts. There were 6 or 7 others as reservists. The Route Committee considered that so many persons were not required to be kept in reserve to fill up casual vacancies. The Management has full authority to determine the strength of its staff. In a matter of this kind no outside body can have any voice. I am not persuaded that the Route Committee was unjustified in reducing the number of reservists. The point next was emphasised on behalf of the Union that in making the reduction the Committee did not follow the principle of "last come, first go". The Route Committee admitted that the said principle was not observed. Their action was however sought to be justified on the ground that in making the retrenchment past record and efficiency were taken into account.

Akram Ali Thandar was described by the Committee as "a mental case". The medical certificate Ext. C bears testimony to the fact that Akram Ali had become insane and was under treatment for 4 months. On 3rd October 1952, he was certified by his physician to have recovered normalcy. The Route Committee re-employed him on production of the medical certificate. Thereafter on 6th December, 1952, he was called upon to explain his conduct in "excusing time" of Bus No. 424 on 5th December 1952. The explanation Ext. D, tells a melancholy tale. Akram Ali submitted that he had suffered from excruciating headache and was alarmed apprehending that he might drift back into insanity. The Route Committee treated him leniently and recorded a warning. There was another incident of dereliction of duty for which he was called upon to submit explanation on 20th May 1953. Ext. D(i) is the explanation in which he shifted the responsibility to the bus conductor. He mentioned further that he had made a report of the incident to supervisor Shri Karter Singh. There is a note endorsed by the supervisor Karter Singh that no report had in fact been made to him by Akram Ali. The Route Committee took his mental infirmity into account at the time of effecting retrenchment. Akram Ali appeared before the Tribunal and gave evidence. He had a vacant, faraway look. It appeared to the Tribunal that he was still mentally unbalanced. I cannot take the view that the Committee acted mala fide in dispensing with the services of Akram Ali who was hardly dependable. Though the principle of "last come, first go" was not followed, there was ample justification for selecting him for retrenchment. It was not a case of victimisation and the Committee was not actuated by any ulterior motive. The step was taken in good faith in the interest of the business.

Jainuddin admitted that he was once discharged in 1952. There was no allegation that in letting the axe fall on him the Committee had acted mala fide. The Committee has adduced evidence that overtures were made after the retrenchment to bring him back but having in the mean time found alternative occupation which was highly profitable Jainuddin did not consider it worth while to resume service as a starter. On this point the evidence of the present President of the Route Committee, Shri Karter Singh (O.P.W. 4) is conclusive. His evidence is that he had visited the watch repairing shop where Jainuddin was conducting business as a watch repairer and enquired if he was prepared to resume duty as a starter. Jainuddin had expressed his unwillingness to come back and had requested Karter Singh to send watches for repairs to him. Exts. E(series) are receipts granted for payment made as repairing charges. Jainuddin denied that he had been interviewed by the President Karter Singh for the purpose of resumption of duty and he added that the watch repairing business was his father's. Sometimes he had occasion to be present in the shop. Karter Singh's evidence bears the hall-mark of truth. He deposed in a straight forward and candid way and did not try to conceal anything or embroider any fact. The receipts go to show that Karter Singh did not entertain any animus against Jainuddin and was ready to help him in his business, by supplying repairing work. I was impressed by the evidence of Karter Singh and have not a moment's hesitation in holding that he spoke nothing but truth. Since offer was made to take him back which Jainuddin had turned down, he cannot now claim reinstatemnt.

Janab Abdul Basat.

He did not appear before the Tribunal. Admittedly he has left for Pakistan. The Union pressed the case on his behalf. Charge-sheet was served on him for deserting his post and remaining absent from duty for about 40 minutes on a particular day. The explanation Ext. F is that there was heavy rain and storm and he was soaked to the skin. As it was physically impossible to stick to his post he availed of a bus to shelter himself from the storm and came over to Metcaburuj. There he asked the starter what he should do under the circumstances. Learning from the starter that a supervisor had gone over to his stage, Basat returned forthwith and met the supervisor. He did not deny that for a period of about 40 minutes he was absent from the post. No evidence has been adduced that the weather conditions were so rough that Basat had found it impossible to stay on. There was no suspension or dislocation of traffic. It is admitted in the explanation that bus No. 486 in which he had sought shelter carried him to Metcaburuj. The Metcaburuj starter was performing his duties. The supervisor was going his rounds. So it appears that bad weather did not stand in the way of the others carrying on their duties. In the written statement it was alleged that Basat was injured but on this point there is no evidence at all. Enquiry was held, his explanation was considered, and the Route Committee deemed it a suitable case for extreme punishment—dismissal. Though the proceedings of the enquiry were not put down in black and white, the fact remains that the Committee had before them materials to justify the decision taken. I do not think that the Committee was actuated by any improper motive or any spirit of victimisation. It has been held that when no enquiry is made in accordance with established principles the matter is open for the Tribunal to hold the enquiry. If it finds that the view taken by the authorities is a possible and reasonable view, there would be no interference. Basat's case is such that no interference would be justified.

Janab Ahmed Hussain.

The allegation against him is that on 9th June 1953, he had accepted a bribe of annas two from the conductor of bus No. 654. Ext. 2 is the report. Ext. A is the explanation submitted by Ahamed Hussain. Enquiry was held in Ahamed Hussain's presence by the Route Committee and decision was taken that he was guilty and ought to be dealt with severely. Ahamad Hussain's explanation is that the conductor was ill-disposed towards him. The conductor had put a two anna bit within the folds of the way-will which was handed to him. Ahamed Hussain had asked the conductor to take the coin back but he had hurriedly left the place. Karter Singh, a member of the Route Committee, appeared there and Ahamed Hussain reported the facts to him. The coin left by the conductor was made over to Karter Singh. Presence of Karter Singh is therefore admitted. Karter Singh (O.P.W. 1) is a bus owner and also a member of the Route Committee. He was travelling by bus No. 654 and had seen the conductor taking something from his bag and putting it in the hand of the starter. Smelling a rat Karter Singh got down from the bus and challenged the starter to produce the article handed over to him by the conductor. The starter opened his closed fists and Karter Singh found a two anna bit on his palm. Ahmed Hussain's statement to Karter Singh was that he was not responsible as the conductor has made it over to him against his will. The starter was asked to make a report to the Office but as no report was made even on the next day, Karter Singh went to the Office and reported. In the written statement the Union tried to make out a case that Karter Singh in collusion with the conductor had laid a trap for Ahmed Hussain. Ahmed Hussain did not go so far in his evidence before the Tribunal. Nothing was said to impeach the impartiality of Karter Singh. The Committee had heard Karter Singh and Ahmed Hussain in person and thereafter formed their judgment that the starter had accepted illegal gratification. On the materials before it the Committee had ample justification to hold that Ahmed Hussain was guilty of the offence with which he was charged.

Some amount of confusion might arise from the statement in Ext. 2, that it was a marked coin. Karter Singh did not notice any peculiarity or writing in the coin. The statement Ext. 2 written out by the Office Clerk on the basis of statement by Karter Singh, described it as a marked coin. One may argue that a trap was about to be laid and hence a marked coin was used so that denial of receipt of the coin by the person to be proceeded against might be negatived. Md. Akram, O.P.W. 4, who according to Karter Singh was present on the spot deposed that he had not actually seen the occurrence but he had noticed the coin which was a marked coin. I do not think that any weight should be attached to the description of the coin as given in the office report (Ext. 2). It is quite probable that the Office Clerk used his own ingenuity to add the qualifying description that the coin was a marked coin. There was no violation of the principles of natural justice inasmuch as proper enquiry was held in the presence of Ahamed Hussain. The view taken by the Route Committee was perfectly legitimate. It was an open and shut case. On the materials placed before the Tribunal, I hold that Ahmed Hussain was guilty of gross misconduct and fully merited the punishment inflicted upon.

I award accordingly.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2450Lab./G/1R-16/55.—16th June 1955.—In exercise of the powers conferred by clauses (a), (b), (c) and (h) of sub-section (1) of section 96 of the Employees' State Insurance Act, (XXXIV of 1948), and in consultation with the Employees' State Insurance Corporation the Governor is pleased to make the following rules, the same having been previously published as required under sub-section (1) of section 96 of the Act.

CHAPTER 1.

Employees' Insurance Courts.

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) These rules may be called the West Bengal Employees' Insurance Courts Rules, 1955.

(2) They shall come into force at once.

2. Definitions.—In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Act" means the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 (XXXIV of 1948);

(b) "Court" means an Employees' Insurance Court constituted under section 74;

(c) "Form" means a Form appended to these rules;

(d) "Section" means a section of the Act.

3. Composition of the Court and place of sitting.—(1) A Court shall ordinarily consist of one Judge, provided that the State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint two or more Judges to constitute a Court for such period as may be specified in the notification.

(2) Subject to the provisions of rule 6, a Court shall sit at such place or places and at such time as the State Government may from time to time specify.

4. The Presiding Officer of any Civil or Criminal Court, or any Judicial Officer who is empowered to adjudicate upon cases or disputes under any special or local law, in the State or a legal practitioner of five years' standing may be appointed by the State Government to be a Judge of a Court and, thereupon, the officer so appointed shall discharge the functions of such Judge in addition to his own duties.

5. Fixing of time of sitting, etc., where there is one Court for two or more local areas.—(1) Where one Court is appointed for two or more local areas, the Court shall, subject to the approval of the State Government, appoint the time at which the Court shall sit in respect of each local area or in respect of any class of proceedings under the Act.

(2) A notice of the time appointed under sub-rule (1) shall be published in such manner as the State Government may, from time to time, direct.

6. Procedure where there are more Judges than one.—(1) Where more than one Judge has been appointed to constitute a Court, the State Government shall specify their rank and precedence.

(2) When two or more Judges, sitting together, differ on any question, the opinion of the majority of such Judges shall prevail; where there is no majority, the opinion of the seniormost Judge shall prevail.

7. Abolition, etc., of a Court.—The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, abolish any Court or by a like notification alter the territorial jurisdiction of any Court.

Conditions of service of Judges of Court.

8. Appointment, salaries, allowances, etc.—(1) The State Government may appoint a person qualified under section 74 to be a Judge of a Court.

(2) A Judge shall receive such salary and allowances as the State Government may, after consultation with the Central Government, from time to time, determine.

(3) A Judge shall receive dearness allowance, compensatory (city) allowance, house-rent and other allowances, at such rates and subject to such conditions as are applicable to officers of the State Government of a corresponding rank stationed at the same place. A Judge shall be entitled to leave and leave salary under the leave rules which may from time to time be applicable to other State Government servants of similar status and drawing similar emoluments.

(4) A Judge shall be entitled to travelling allowance for journeys performed on official business in accordance with the scale applicable to the class of officers to which in the opinion of the State Government such Judge belongs.

(5) A Judge shall be subject to such other conditions of service, as the State Government may determine.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rules (2) to (5) the pay, allowances, and other conditions of service of a Judge, if he is a person already in the service of the State Government, shall be such as the State Government may, by a general or special order, from time to time, determine.

(7) Where the State Government constitutes the presiding officer of a civil or criminal court, as a court for the purpose of the Act he may be paid such additional allowance as the State Government may determine.

Court Seal.

9. Seal.—A Court shall keep a seal of such size, dimensions and design as the State Government may direct.

CHAPTER II.

Procedure and Execution of Orders.

10. Application.—(1) Every proceeding relating to matters specified in section 75 shall be instituted by the presentation to the Court of an application verified in the same manner as a pleading in a civil court and shall be accompanied by two copies thereof.

(2) An application under section 77 shall be presented in Form 1, shall be duly stamped in accordance with these rules and shall contain the following particulars:—

(i) the name of the Court in which the application is brought;

(ii) the full name including the fathers' name, description including age, occupation and place of residence of the applicant.

(iii) the full name including the fathers' name, description including age, occupation and place of residence of the opposite party so far as they can be ascertained;

(iv) where the applicant or the opposite party is a minor or a person of unsound mind, a statement to that effect and the full name, age, occupation and address of his or her next friend or guardian;

(v) the facts constituting the cause of action and the date when it arose;

(vi) the facts showing that the Court has jurisdiction;

(vii) particulars giving the address within the jurisdiction of the Court at which notice or summons may be served on the opposite party; and

(viii) the relief which the applicant prays for.

(3) The Court may summarily reject an application if it is not in accordance with sub-rule (2).

11. Production of documents.—(1) When any application is based upon a document, the document shall be appended to the application.

(2) Any other document which any party desires to tender in evidence shall be produced at or before the first hearing.

(3) Any document which is not produced at or within the time specified in sub-rule (1) or (2), as the case may be, shall not, without the permission of the Court, be admitted in evidence on behalf of the party who should have produced it.

(4) All such documents shall be accompanied by an accurate list thereof prepared in the manner provided in Form 2.

(5) Nothing in this rule shall apply to any document which is produced for the purpose of cross-examining a witness or is handed to a witness to refresh his memory.

12. Register of applications.—All applications shall be entered in a Register in Form 3 called the Register of Proceedings. Such entries shall be serially numbered for every calendar year according to the order in which the applications are presented.

13. Place of institution.—In cases not falling under sub-section (1) section 76, a proceeding against any person shall be instituted in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction—

(a) the opposite party or each of the opposite parties where there are more than one, at the time of commencement of the proceeding, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain; or

(b) any of the opposite parties, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the proceeding, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain, provided that in such case either the leave of the Court is given to such institution or the opposite parties who do not reside, or carry on business, or personally work for gain as aforesaid, shall acquiesce in such institution; or

(c) the cause of action, wholly or in part arises.

14. Application presented to wrong Court.—(1) Where on receiving an application it appears to the Court that it should be presented to another Court, the Court shall return it to the applicant after endorsing upon it the dates of the presentation and return, the reason for returning it and the name of the Court to which it should be presented.

(2) Where it appears to the Court at any stage subsequent to the presentation of an application, that the application should have been presented to another Court in the State, the first mentioned Court shall transfer the application to such other Court empowered to deal with it and shall inform the applicant and the opposite party, if he has received a copy of the application under rule 15 accordingly.

(3) The Court to which an application is transferred under sub-rule (2) may continue the proceeding as if the previous proceeding or any part of it had been taken before it, if it is satisfied that the interests of the parties shall not thereby be prejudiced.

(4) The Court shall have the power to allow a party to amend the application presented under rule 13 on payment of such cost to the opposite party as deemed proper.

15. Issue of summons.—(1) On receiving an application, the Court shall, ordinarily within seven days thereof, cause to be sent to the party against whom the applicant claims relief (hereinafter referred to as the opposite party), a summons in Form 4 or Form 5, as the case may be, to appear and answer the application on a day to be specified in the summons not later than fifteen days from the date of service of such summons:

Provided that no such summons shall be issued when the opposite party has appeared at the presentation of the application and admitted the applicant's claim:

Provided also that the Court may under exceptional circumstances grant thirty days' time to the opposite party to appear and answer the application.

(2) A copy of the application shall also be sent to the opposite party along with the summons under sub-rule (1).

16. Service of summons or notice.—(1) A summons or notice may, on payment of the required fee, be sent by the Court by which it is issued, either by registered post or in such other manner as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied that there is reason to believe that the opposite party is avoiding service or that for any reason the summons or the notice cannot be served in the ordinary way, the Court shall order the summons or the notice to be served by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the Court house, and also upon some conspicuous part of the house in which the opposite party is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain or in such other manner as the Court thinks fit and such service shall be as effectual as if it had been made on the opposite party personally.

(3) Save as otherwise provided in sub-rule (1) of rule 15, where a summons or notice is served under sub-rule (2), the Court shall fix such time for the appearance of the opposite party as the circumstances of the case may require.

17. Additional matters in the summons.—The Court shall determine at the time of issuing the summons, whether it shall be for the settlement of the issues only or for the final disposal of the application or for both, and the summons shall contain a direction accordingly; the Court may also call upon the parties to produce upon that date any evidence which they wish to tender.

18. Written statement.—(1) The opposite party may, and if so required by the Court, shall, at or before the first hearing or within such time as the Court may permit, present a written statement of his defence along with the documents on which he relies and an accurate list thereof in Form 2.

(2) Every such written statement shall be verified in the same manner as a pleading in a civil court and shall be accompanied by two copies thereof.

(3) In every written statement submitted under sub-rule (1) the opposite party shall deal specifically with each allegation of fact made by the applicant, of which he admits or does not admit or denies the truth. The written statement shall also contain all matters which show that the application is not maintainable and all such grounds of defence as, if not raised, would be likely to take the applicant by surprise or would raise issues of fact not arising out of the application as for instance, fraud, undue influence or coercion, release, payment, performance or facts showing illegality of the transaction.

19. Failure to present written statement called for by the Court.—Where any party from whom a written statement is required fails to present the same within the time prescribed by the Court, the Court may pronounce judgment against such party or make such order in relation to the proceeding as it thinks fit.

20. Framing of issues.—(1) At the first hearing of the application, after the summons is served, the Court shall, after considering the application and the written statement, if any, or after such examination of the parties or any person or any document as may appear necessary, ascertain upon what material proposition of fact or of law the parties are at variance, and shall thereupon proceed to frame and record the issues upon which the right decision appears to depend.

(2) In recording the issues, the Court shall distinguish between those issues which in its opinion concern points of fact and those which concern points of law.

(3) The Court may, in like manner, at any time before passing its final order add to, strike out from or in any way amend the issues on such terms as it may think fit.

21. Order where parties are not at issue.—Where at any hearing of the case it appears that the parties are not at issue on any question of law or of fact the Court may at once pronounce its final order.

22. Appearance of parties and consequences of non-appearance.—(1) On the day fixed in the summons for the opposite party to appear and answer, the parties shall be in attendance at the Court in person or by their respective legal practitioners or other person authorised under section 79 and the application shall then be heard unless the hearing is adjourned by the Court.

(2) When neither party appears when the application is called on for hearing, the Court may make an order that the application be dismissed.

(3) Where the opposite party appears and the applicant does not appear when the application is called on for hearing, the Court shall make an order that the application be dismissed unless the opposite party admits the claim or part thereof in which case the Court shall make an order against the opposite party upon such admission and where part only of the claim has been admitted, it shall dismiss the case so far as it relates to the remainder.

(4) Where the applicant appears and the opposite party after receiving the summons fails to appear when the application is called on for hearing, the Court may proceed with the hearing of the application ex parte.

(5) Where the application is wholly or partly dismissed under sub-rule (2) or sub-rule (3), the applicant may within thirty days of such dismissal apply in Form 6 for an order to set the dismissal aside and the Court shall, if it is satisfied that the applicant was prevented from appearing when the application was called on for hearing due to any sufficient cause make an order setting aside the dismissal upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit and may proceed with the case or appoint a day for proceeding with the same:

Provided that no order under this sub-rule shall be made in respect of an application which is dismissed under sub-rule (3) unless notice of the application to set aside the order of dismissal has been served in Form 7 on the opposite party.

(6) In any application in which an ex parte order has been passed against the opposite party, he may within thirty days from the date of such order apply in Form 6 to the Court which passed the order, to set it aside and if the Court is satisfied that he was prevented from appearing when the application was called on for hearing due to any sufficient cause, the Court shall after serving notice thereof to the applicant in Form 7 make an order setting aside the order upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit and may proceed with the hearing of the case or appoint a day for proceeding with the same.

23. Summoning of witnesses.—(1) At any time after the framing of the issues, the Court may call upon the parties to produce their evidence in support of the issues.

(2) The Court may, on the application of either party, issue a summons in Form 8 to any witness directing him to attend or to produce any document.

(3) The Court may, before summoning any witness on application under sub-rule (2), require that his reasonable expenses to be incurred in attending the Court, be deposited with it.

24. Grant of time and adjournment of hearing.—(1) The Court may, if sufficient cause is shown, at any stage of the application, grant time to the parties or to any of them, and may, from time to time, adjourn the hearing of the application.

(2) In every such adjournment the Court shall fix a day not exceeding fifteen days from the date on which such adjournment is made for the further hearing of the application and may make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the cost occasioned by the adjournment:

Provided that when the hearing of the evidence has once begun, the hearing of the application shall be continued from day to day until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined, unless the Court finds the adjournment of the hearing beyond the next working day to be necessary for reasons to be recorded.

25. Right to begin proceeding.—The applicant has the right to begin unless the opposite party admits the facts alleged by the applicant and contends that either in point of law or on some additional facts alleged by the opposite party, the applicant is not entitled to the relief which he seeks, in which case the opposite party has the right to begin.

26. Statement and production of evidence.—(1) On the day fixed for the hearing of the application or on any other day to which the hearing is adjourned, the party having the right to begin shall state his case and produce his evidence in support of the issues which he is bound to prove.

(2) The other party shall then state his case and produce his evidence (if any) and may then address the Court generally on the whole case.

(3) The party beginning may then reply generally on the whole case.

27. Method of recording evidence.—The evidence of each witness shall be taken down in writing by the Judge or where there is more than one Judge, by the junior Judge in the language of the Court, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer, but in that of a narrative, and when completed, shall be translated, where necessary, and read over in the presence of such Judge to the witness, and such Judge shall, if necessary, correct the same and sign it.

28. Recall of a witness.—The Court may at any stage of a proceeding recall any witness who has been examined and may (subject to the law of evidence for the time being in force) put such questions to him as the Court thinks fit.

29. Inspection by Court.—The Court may at any stage of a proceeding inspect any property or thing concerning which any question may arise.

30. Pronouncement of order.—The Court, after the application has been heard, shall pronounce its final order in open Court either at once or on some future day, of which due notice shall be given to the parties.

31. Signing of order.—The final order shall be dated and signed in open Court at the time of pronouncing it and, whence once signed, shall not afterwards be altered or added to, save in the case of clerical or arithmetical mistakes arising from any accidental slip or omission.

32. Statement of decision on each issue.—In cases in which issues have been framed, the Court shall state its finding or decision, with the reason therefor, upon each separate issue, unless the finding upon any one or more of the issues is sufficient for the decision of the case.

33. Compromise of case.—Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that a case has been adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise, or where the opposite party satisfies the applicant in respect of the whole or any part of the subject matter of the case, the Court shall order such agreement, compromise or satisfaction to be recorded, and shall pass a final order in accordance therewith so far as it relates to the case.

34. Finality of order.—Save as provided in section 82 the order of a Court shall be final and binding upon the parties.

Costs, decree, etc.

35. Costs.—(1) The costs of and incidental to the application shall be in the discretion of the Court, and the Court shall have full power to determine by whom or out of what property and to what extent such costs are to be paid, and to give all necessary directions for the purposes aforesaid. The fact that the Court has no jurisdiction to try the case shall be no bar to the exercise of such powers.

(2) Where the Court directs that any cost shall not follow the event, the Court shall state its reasons in writing.

36. Contents of the decree.—(1) A decree in Form 9 shall be prepared in conformity with the order made by the Court; it shall contain the number of the application, the names and descriptions of the parties, and particulars of the claim, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the proceeding.

(2) The decree shall also state the amount of costs incurred in the proceeding and by whom and in what proportions such costs are to be paid.

(3) The Court may direct that the costs payable to one party by the other shall be set off against any sum which is admitted or found to be due from the former to the latter.

37. Certified copies of order, decree, etc., to be furnished.—(1) Certified copies of the final order, decree or any other order or matter on record shall be furnished to the parties on application to the Court and at their expense.

(2) If any party requires copies of any order, decree or any other matter on record made by or furnished to the Court, as the case may be, to be supplied to him within forty-eight hours of the submission of an application therefor to the Court, he shall pay an additional fee of two rupees for each such copy.

(3) If any party applies for copies of any order, decree or any other matter on record made by or furnished to the Court, as the case may be, after the expiry of twelve months from the date of such making or furnishing, as the case may be, he shall pay an additional searching fee of two rupees.

Execution.

38. Execution.—(1) Any person in whose favour an order has been passed shall, within one year from the date of the order, apply in Form 10 to the Court which made the order for its execution.

(2) On such application being made, the Court shall send the same together with the necessary record to a Civil Court, of competent jurisdiction, for its execution and such Civil Court shall have the same power in executing such order as if it had been passed by it.

39. Communication of fact of execution or otherwise.—The Civil Court to which an order is sent for execution under rule 38 shall certify to the Court which passed it the fact of such execution or where that Court fails to execute the same the circumstances attending such failure.

CHAPTER III.

Fees and costs.

40. Fees.—(1) The fee payable on an application in respect of any matter referred to in section 75 shall be two rupees.

(2) Subject to the provisions hereafter mentioned in this rule, the fee payable in respect of any other application except a written statement called for by the Court under these rules, shall be annas eight:

Provided that the fee for an application for obtaining a copy or translation of any document on record or statement, order or decree presented to or made before or by the Court, as the case may be, shall be annas two only.

(3) The folio fee for copies of any document on record, or, statement or order or decree shall be such as may from time to time be determined by the State Government after consultation with the Central Government.

(4) The fee for any authorisation under section 79 for the appearance of any person on behalf of any of the parties in a case shall be one rupee.

(5) The fee for filing certified copies of any document in a Court shall be eight annas.

(6) All fees referred to in this rule and rule 37 shall be collected by means of court fee stamps used in ordinary courts and no document which ought to bear stamp under these rules shall be of any validity unless and until it is properly stamped:

Provided that where any such document is through mistake or inadvertence received, filed or used in a Court without being properly stamped, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order that such document be stamped in such manner as it may direct and on such document being stamped accordingly the same and every proceeding relative thereto shall be as valid as if it had been properly stamped in the first instance.

(7) No document requiring a stamp under this rule shall be acted upon in any proceeding in a Court until the stamp has been cancelled.

41. Payment of costs of services of summons, etc.—(1) The cost of service of summons or notices or the expenses of the witnesses in any case or the fee payable in respect of any matter not referred to in the preceding rule shall be such amount as may be specified in each case by the Court; and such amount or any other sum of money payable under these rules shall be paid in such manner and within such time as it may specify therefor.

(2) Any amount which is left over after meeting the expenses, if any, for which it was intended, shall be returned by the Court to the party by whom or on whose behalf the amount was orginally paid into the Court.

(3) The Court shall maintain proper accounts of the amount received and disbursed under sub-rule (1).

42. Fees and costs of poor persons.—The Court may, whenever it thinks fit, receive and register proceedings instituted under the Act and applications made under these rules, by persons who are paupers, and may issue summons or notices on behalf of such persons, without payment or on a part payment of the fees and costs mentioned in rules 40 and 41.

CHAPTER IV.

Miscellaneous.

43. Provisions in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908), etc., to apply.—In respect of matters relating to procedure or admission of evidence for which no specific provision is made in these rules, the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908) including the Rules made thereunder and the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (1 of 1872) shall, so far as may be, apply to proceedings under the Act.

DECISION.

This appeal is against an award affirming the order of the management dismissing the appellant Shri Sunil Mitra, an employee of the company. Shri Sunil Mitra was a Shift Supervisor of heavy chemical department of the company's factory at Panihati. On the 20th January 1952, at mid-day, the Canteen Supervisor, Shri Haripada Sen went for his bath to the premises of the Bengal Chemical Staff outside mess, Panihati, which is about five minutes' walk from the main gate of the factory. Shri Sunil Mitra lived in that mess house and Haripada Sen had been taking his bath there for some time past although he was living outside the mess house. While waiting for bath, there was a quarrel between Sunil and Haripada and the former assaulted the latter, who had entered the bath room against the protest of Sunil Mitra. On the complaint of Haripada to the Works Manager, a fully representative enquiry committee was constituted with the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of the Works Committee, who were respectively the representatives of the management and the employees in the Works Committee, and the Honorary Secretary of the Co-operative Stores and Canteen, to enquire into the complaint. The Committee held an enquiry and found Sunil guilty of riotous behaviour endangering safety of the other employees. Sunil appealed to the Manager for favourable consideration but the Manager dismissed him. The dismissal of Sunil was the subject matter of the dispute which was referred to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, for adjudication. The learned Industrial Tribunal held that Sunil was not a workman. But instead of declining to adjudicate on the dispute, the tribunal entered into the merits of the case, considered the evidence adduced by both the parties before it and upheld the order of dismissal of Sunil Mitra.

No appeal lies against an order refusing to reinstate a dismissed workman unless it be shown that a substantial question of law is involved. The appellant formulated the following law points:—

(1) that the tribunal on an erroneous interpretation of the duties of the appellant, wrongly held that he was not a workman;

(2) that the tribunal should have held that the alleged incident between the appellant and Haripada Sen who was not an employee of the company, which took place outside the factory, was over a private matter between the two and was outside the scope of the standing orders of the company and as such, outside the disciplinary jurisdiction of the management; and

(3) that the tribunal should have held that there was no proper enquiry and that there was, as such, violation of the principles of natural justice.

We pass ever the first point for the present and proceed to discuss the other two points. Much was made by the appellant of an observation of the learned tribunal that the procedure of the management for dismissal of Sunil Mitra was not in conformity with the usual regular practice. For a clear understanding, we quote the relevant observation:—

"Coming now to the merits I find that the procedure adopted by the management for dismissal of Shri Sunil Mitra for a mis-conduct, though not strictly in conformity with the usual regular practice, was in substantial compliance with the principle of natural justice and there was no want of good faith on the part of the management."

Even assuming for a moment that there was no substantial compliance with the principles of natural justice, there was neither any malafide nor any improper motive behind the enquiry and as such there was no violation of the principles of natural justice. The term "violation" carried the idea of "wilfulness". The evidence is that Sunil Mitra was a candidate at the election for representatives of the Works Committee, which was to be held on the 24th January. The management put Sunil Mitra under suspension immediately after the incident, pending enquiry and prohibited him from entering the factory premises. It was, however, made clear to him that his agents might go into factory in connection with the election and he was assured that such agents would be given all necessary facilities. The immediate cause for the suspension was the incident which was not the creation of the management. Sunil Mitra was himself responsible for the incident and the consequent suspension and the more coincedences of the two periods does not, in our opinion, warrant any suggestion against the bonafides of the management. The members of the Enquiry Committee can hardly be expected to have been conversant with the legal procedure, which is generally desirable to be followed in a departmental enquiry. In departmental enquiries irregularities are not uncommon. All that is necessary is what there should not be any material irregularity affecting the merits of the case and that the departmental enquiry should not be a mere show. Even assuming that the enquiry in the present case was not proper and regular, we cannot but hold that all the members of the committee were persons holding positions of responsibility and trust and their intention was to hold a bonafide enquiry with a view to find out the facts. Their findings cannot, therefore, be lightly thrown away. Even if it be held that the findings of the committee were not warranted by the materials before it, this fact might at best give jurisdiction to the Tribunal to enter into the merits of the case, to hold an independent enquiry and to arrive at its own conclusion. This is the principle which has been enunciated in long series of decisions by this Tribunal. In the present case, the learned Tribunal did not base its decision on the report of the Enquiry Committee but held an independent enquiry, examined witnesses of both sides produced before it and arrived as its own decision on a considerations of the evidence placed before it. After the full enquiry by the Tribunal, the enquiry of the committee lost its value.

It was contended on behalf of the appellant that the incident having taken place outside the factory hours and outside the factory premises, was outside the scope of the standing orders and outside the disciplinary jurisdiction of the management, specially when the complainant was not an employee of the Company. The fact that an act was done by an employee outside the factory hours and outside the factory premises would not take the act outside disciplinary jurisdiction of the management. The standing orders are not always exhaustive. The hours and the place are not very relevant factors in deciding the question—the nature of the act is the only material factor. If it is subversive of discipline, or if it involves moral turpitude, that is enough to give jurisdiction to the management to take disciplinary action against an employee who is found guilty of such an act. In the case of Air India Ltd. versus S. Lobo, reported in 1952, L.A.C., at page 337, permission was granted under section 22 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, to punish the workman Lobo for assaulting the Senior Traffic Assistant, Mr. Yusuff outside the office premises and outside office hours. It was observed:—

> "There can be no doubt that the opponent assaulted Mr. Yusuff, on account of what had happened in the office and we are clearly of the opinion that what he did was subversive of discipline."

In the case of the Bank of Bikaner Ltd. versus Indrajit Mehta, reported in 1954, L.A.C., page 97, the dismissal of a workman who had threatened or intimidated with violence a superior officer on account of some grievance connected with his work, at a meeting of the union outside office hours, was upheld. In that case it was observed:—

> "It is quite clear that where an employee threatens or intimidates a superior officer, on account of something connected with his work, whether it is during office hours or out of office hours, or whether it is in the Bank premises or outside of it, it is a mis-conduct which we refuse to countenance, much less, condone. It amounts to an act of great indiscipline to uttar threats."

In the case of Bank of Jaipur versus Kishore Lal and Kucha Sadhu Ram, reported in 1954, L.A.C., at page 362, permission was granted under Section 22 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, to dismiss the respondent on the ground that he had been convicted of an offence involving moral turpitude. The incident took place in a private house outside office hours and the employee concerned was convicted by a competent court. Although the case was decided with reference to the Banking Companies' Act, which prohibits employment of persons convicted of an offence involving moral turpitude, the fact remains that if he had not been prosecuted before a Magistrate and convicted, his act would not cease to be an act involving moral turpitude. The case was decided by a Special Bench of this Tribunal sitting at Bombay and is a complete answer to the contention of the appellant before us.

It has been urged that the order of dismissal was bad inasmuch as the appellant was dismissed on the strength of the standing orders for the factory workers. A copy of the standing orders was marked Ext. B and was on the record. Under Cl. B " 'Offences'—riotous or disorderly behaviour during working hour on the factory premises or any act, subversive of discipline". The interpretation of a similar clause in the standing orders came before a Bench of this Tribunal presided over by Shri J. N. Majumdar and Shri R. C. Mitter, reported in 1953, L.A.C., at page 584 (Shalimar Rope Works, Ltd.), and it was held that the two parts of that rule were quite independent of each other and the phrase "during working hours of the establishment" occurring in the first part of the rule would not qualify or govern the second part. Following this decision we are inclined to hold in the present case that the phrase "during working hours on the factory premises" does not qualify the second part "any act subversive of discipline". We have accordingly disposed of the legal points against the appellant.

Now we proceed to discuss the merits of the case. Haripada Sen used to take his bath in the mess house and Sunil's evidence is that even outsiders were allowed to take their bath there. Haripada Sen is an employee in the company's canteen which is managed by the Co-operative Stores formed by the employees. Canteen is a statutory obligation of the company and the management is as such responsible for smooth working of the canteen and for the safety and comfort of the employees of the canteen as it is responsible for the smooth running of the factory and the safety and comfort of the workmen employed there. The evidence is that the canteen employees are treated almost as company's servants. The mere fact that they are not technically employees of the company, does not take them out from the protection they should get from the Manager, who is in charge of the factory premises. The mess house is attached to the factory and it is only on account of inflamable nature of the tar distillation plant that there is a barrier between the mess house and the factory. It is the property of the company and the maintenance cost of the mess house is borne by the company. The fact that even outsiders were permitted to take their bath in the mess house suggests as implied licence. In this view of the case, Haripada Sen could not be treated as a trespasser. Even assuming that he was a trespasser, law did not permit Sunil Mitra to take the law in his own hands to punish Haripada Sen for the trespass. He admitted before the Enquiry Committee that he had assaulted Haripada Sen but that it was a mere slap. But he added that he might have shot Haripada had he possessed a gun at that time. The assault also appeared to the Enquiry Committee to have proceeded from a motive of retaliation for a long time. In the letter of Sunil Mitra dated the 29th March 1952, addressed to the Manager, the incident was called a social matter. In the written statement of the management filed before the Tribunal, it was suggested that Sunil felt humiliated over Haripada's refusing him some undue advantage in the canteen and assaulted Haripada by way of retaliation on the 20th January 1952. Like a guilty mind Sunil Mitra denied the suggestion made to him in his cross-examination before the Tribunal and denied to have had any trouble with Haripada Sen in the canteen. The medical certificate submitted by Haripada along with his complaint to the Manager about the nature of the injuries indicate that he was severely assaulted and that the assault was not merely a slap, as Sunil insisted. We have scrutinised the evidence on the record and we agree with the learned Tribunal that the assault was the sequal to the incident in the canteen on a previous occasion and that the act of Sunil Mitra was subversive of discipline and involved moral turpitude endangering comfort and safety of the men working within the factory premises. The employment of such an employee is calculated to affect the smooth and efficient working of the concern. It is an employee's condition of service that an employee should be wellbehaved and shall not indulge in riotous behaviour and we are definitely of the opinion that Sunil Mitra's conduct on the 20th January 1952, was inconsistant with this condition of service. In any view of the case we cannot but confine the award upholding the dismissal of Sunil Mitra.

Now as Sunil Mitra is not entitled to any relief we do not propose to enter into the question whether he was a workman or not.

In the result it is ordered that the appeal be dismissed. We make no order as to costs.

Age between 30 and 40 years on 1st August 1955, relaxable in the case of candidates possessing exceptionally high qualifications and for those serving in Education Department, West Bengal. Upper age limit is relaxable by 3 years for Scheduled Castes/Tribes. No upper age limit for displaced persons from Pakistan.

The upper age limit is relaxable for a non-Muslim Government servant of undivided Bengal who had originally opted to serve in East Bengal and was working under the Government of East Bengal after partition but has since formally resigned his service under that Government and has come over to India as refugee.

A candidate who before the 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(2) Pay.—The scale of pay is Rs. 500—50—750 plus usual dearness allowance. The selected candidate will be entitled to quarters within the College Compound subject to payment of 10 per cent. of emoluments.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates' who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 10th March 1949, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 3rd August 1955.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

(ii) the words "if the objection has been taken at the earliest opportunity and" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 39, Act V of 1908.

5. In section 39 of the principal Act, after sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorising a Court to send for execution any decree passed by it ex parte before the 26th day of January, 1950, against a defendant who was not amenable, or had not submitted himself, to its jurisdiction to another Court to which the decree could not, under the law in force at the date of the decree, have been sent for execution, or as authorising such other Court to execute the decree."

Amendment of section 47, Act V of 1908.

6. In section 47 of the principal Act, for sub-section (3) and the Explanation, the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(3) No Court executing a decree shall entertain any question arising in a proceeding under this section between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed, or their representatives, and relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, if the question had been directly and substantially raised in a former proceeding relating to that decree between the same parties or their representatives and had been finally determined therein.

(4) Where a question arises as to whether any person is or is not the representative of a party, such question shall, for the purposes of this section, be determined by the Court.

Explanation I.—For the purposes of this section a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed, a defendant against whom a suit has been dismissed and a purchaser at a sale in execution of the decree are parties to the suit.

Explanation II.—The expression "former proceeding" shall denote a proceeding which has been decided prior to the proceeding in question, whether or not it was instituted prior thereto.

Explanation III.—A question shall be deemed to have been raised in the former proceeding, if the matter in dispute had been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted, expressly or impliedly, by the other".

Amendment of section 60, Act V of 1908.

7. In the proviso to sub-section (1) of section 60 of the principal Act,—

(a) in clause (i), after the words "one-half the remainder", the words "in execution of any decree other than a decree for maintenance" shall be inserted;

(b) after clause (i), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(ia) one-third of the salary in execution of any decree for maintenance;"

(c) in clause (j), after the words "to whom" the words and figures "the Air Force Act, 1950 or" shall be inserted. XLV of 1950.

(b) after sub-rule (1) as so re-numbered, the following sub-rule shall be inserted, namely:—

Procedure on application for admission of appeal.

"(2) The Appellate Court, after fixing a day for hearing the applicant or his pleader and hearing him accordingly if he appears on that day, and upon a perusal of the application and of the judgment and decree appealed from, shall reject the application, unless it sees reason to think that the decree is contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law, or is otherwise erroneous or unjust.";

(10) in Order XLVII,—

(a) rule 2 shall be omitted;

(b) in rule 7, in sub-rule (1), clause (a) shall be omitted.

Omission of the Third Schedule to Act V of 1908.

17. The Third Schedule to the principal Act shall be omitted.

18. Where, before the commencement of this Act, the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector under section 68 of the principal Act and is pending before the Collector on such commencement, then, notwithstanding the omission of sections 68 to 72 inclusive and the Third Schedule to the principal Act, the decree shall be executed by the Collector in accordance with the provisions of the said sections, and the said Schedule, as if this Act had not been passed. Savings in respect of execution of certain decrees by Collectors.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

For some time past there has been general dissatisfaction about the increasing dilatoriness, expense and complication of our civil procedure and the administration of civil justice. There are delays at all stages—in the original court itself, during the stages at which the cases are taken up to the High Courts on interlocutory matters, during appeals and also in execution proceedings. This problem has been considered from time to time by various committees set up by the State Governments and diverse suggestions have been made how best to tackle it. While a thorough overhaul of the Code of Civil Procedure is a difficult task which should be entrusted to an expert committee, some amendments of the Code appear to be desirable from the point of view of reducing the delay and expense.

2. This Bill seeks to achieve this object and the notes on clauses appended to the Bill explain some of the provisions thereof.

H. V. PATASKAR.

NEW DELHI;
The 29th April, 1955.

Notes on clauses.

Clause 2.—Section 34, which enables courts to award interest, does not impose a maximum limit. This clause proposes to limit the rate of interest which a Court can award on the decretal amount to six per cent. per annum.

Clause 3.—It is proposed to take away the power of the Court to give interest on costs.

Clause 4.—This clause seeks to enlarge the powers of Courts in granting compensatory costs in respect of false or vexatious claims or defence. This is necessary to check frivolous litigation. Under the existing section 35A, Courts can grant compensatory costs, only if the objection has been taken at the earliest opportunity.

It is proposed to enlarge the powers of the Court firstly by enabling it to grant compensatory costs, if it is satisfied of the justice thereof, even though the other party has not taken objection at the earliest opportunity, and secondly by making the section applicable to execution proceedings also.

Clause 5.—Courts in former Indian States were foreign courts before the commencement of the Constitution Decrees passed by such foreign courts were not executable by courts in India under section 39 of the Code.

Clause 16(10).—When the presiding officer of a court is transferred, rule 2 of order XLVII imposes certain restrictions on the powers of his successor in the matter of hearing review applications. This causes certain difficulties. It is proposed to give the successor all the powers of review which his predecessor had. Rule 2 has therefore been omitted and the other amendment is merely consequential.

Clause 17.—This amendment is consequential on the amendment made by clause 8.

Clause 18.—When this Act comes into force, there may be some execution cases pending before the Collector. It is proposed that the Collector should dispose of those execution cases, notwithstanding the omission of sections 68 to 72 and the Third Schedule.

(a) Report not received.

S. N. MUKHERJEE,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

Calcutta, the 7th July 1955.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 11th February 1955.

Fourth and Final Forecast of Cotton Crop of West Bengal for 1954-55.

Season.—The weather conditions have not been favourable at the sowing time in almost all the districts of West Bengal. Subsequent weather conditions, however, have been fair in the districts of Howrah, Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Birbhum and Nadia.

Area and yield.—250 acres are estimated to be under Cotton crop this year compared to 1,250 acres, the final estimate of last year. The total yield of cotton for the State as a whole is estimated at 77 bales this year compared to 330 bales, the final estimate of last year.

This year the entire area is reported to have been sown with Parbhani American Variety.

The decrease in area is due to the following reasons:—

(a) Long continuous drought during the sowing period.

(b) Prevailing low market price of the seed cotton.

(c) Abolition of Cotton Development Scheme and stoppage of subsidy on manure and seeds, etc.

S. N. MUKHERJEE,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

Note.—Since the 1st January 1929 the datum of all gauges has been finally altered to refer to the Bengal Public Works Department datum which is 6·25 feet above the Kidderpore Old Dock Sill. The values of the highest and lowest readings have similarly been altered. Printed notes on the correction to be applied to all reduced levels recorded since each gauge was established have been prepared.

*The Zero of the Buxar gauge has been checked from G.T.S. Bench marks Nos. 125 and 126 on line 70K and found to be 169·91 feet above the Bengal P.W.D. datum.

†On and from 1st January 1931, high water level and low water level readings are shown at Swarupganj.

Note.—Since the 1st January 1929 the datum of all gauges has been finally altered to refer to the Bengal Public Works Department datum which is 6·25 feet above the Kidderpore Old Dock Sill. The values of the highest and lowest readings have similarly been altered. Printed notes on the correction to be applied to all reduced levels recorded since each gauge was established have been prepared.

*The Zero of the Buxar gauge has been checked from G.T.S. Bench marks Nos. 125 and 126 on line 70K and found to be 169·91 feet above the Bengal P.W.D. datum.

†On and from 1st January 1931, high water level and low water level readings are shown at Swarupganj.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, WEST BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 28th May 1955.

Forecast of Summer Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1954-55.

Season.—The weather conditions have not generally been favourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop in all the districts except Murshidabad, Burdwan, Bankura and West Dinajpur. Prevailing drought conditions hampered the growth of the crop.

Area and yield.—41,700 acres are estimated to be under Summer Rice Crop this year compared to 44,400 acres of last year. The total outturn of cleaned rice for the State as a whole is estimated at 15,900 tons this year compared to 18,400 tons of last year. The average yield rate per acre of cleaned rice for the State as a whole is estimated at 10·38 maunds this year compared to 11·26 maunds of last year.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1763L.—18th July, 1955.—The Governor having been pleased to order under rule 48 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1955.

A

to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; VIII of 1885.

It is hereby enacted in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1955.

(2) It shall come into force immediately on the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Ordinance, 1955, ceasing to operate. West Ben. Ord. V of 1955.

Amendment of section 116 of Act VIII of 1885.

2. Section 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of that section and after sub-section (1) as so renumbered, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(2) Where any land has vested in the State under the provisions of the West Bengal Estates Acquisition Act, 1953, and the land has not been retained by any intermediary or any person where such intermediary or person is entitled to retain it under that Act, then, as from the date of the vesting of the land in the State, nothing in Chapter V shall confer a right of occupancy in, and nothing in Chapter VI shall apply to, the land or any part thereof.". West Ben. Act I of 1954.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is considered desirable to make temporary settlement of the khas lands of intermediaries which have vested in the State under the provisions of the West Bengal Estates Acquisition Act, 1953 (West Ben. Act 1 of 1954) with bona fide local agriculturists for a period of one agricultural year at a time till such lands are finally disposed of in accordance with the principles of distribution that may be laid down in this behalf. But every person who is a settled raiyat of a village to whom such temporary settlement of land may be made shall acquire under the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (VIII of 1885) a right of occupancy in all land for the time being held by him as a raiyat in that village and accrual of such right will stand in the way of equitable redistribution of land. It is accordingly necessary to include such lands within section 116 of the said Act.

The Bill has been framed with this object in view.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1764L.—18th July, 1955.—The Governor having been pleased to order under rule 48 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE INDIAN EVIDENCE (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1955.

A

to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 in its application to West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, in its application to West Bengal for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; I of 1872.

It is hereby enacted in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Evidence (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1955.

(2) It extends to the whole of West Bengal.

Application of Act.

2. The Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), shall, in its application to West Bengal, be amended for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter provided.

Insertion of new section 78A in Act I of 1872.

3. After section 78 of the said Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—

"Copies of public documents to be as good as the original documents in certain cases.

78A. Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act or in any other law for the time being in force, where any public documents concerning any areas within a partitioned district or sub-district have been kept in East Bengal, then copies of such public documents shall, on being authenticated in such manner as may be prescribed from time to time by the State Government by notification in the Official Gazette, be deemed to have taken the place of, and to be, the original documents from which such copies were made and all references to the original documents shall be construed as including references to such copies.

Explanation.—In this section,—

(1) "partitioned district or sub-district" means any district or sub-district which, as a result of the award of the Boundary Commission appointed under section 3 of the Indian Independence Act, 1947 have fallen partly within West Bengal and partly within East Bengal; 10 and 11 Geo. VI, c. 30.

(2) "East Bengal" means the territories now comprised in the Province of East Bengal forming part of the Dominion of Pakistan."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Pursuant to a decision taken by the Governments of East Bengal and West Bengal in the matter of division of records that copies of common records of the partitioned districts should be properly authenticated by the officers of the Government concerned which has custody of the originals and has the legal authority to record such authentication, copies of such common records and of files which are in the custody of the Government of East Bengal and which are required urgently for administrative purposes, are received from the Government of East Bengal after authentication. For administrative purposes, a duly authenticated copy is enough. It is not possible however to use any of these authenticated copies in courts nor can copies of such copies be given to persons requiring them for the purpose of use in courts. To obviate this difficulty, it has been decided to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (I of 1872) so as to permit these copies being used as the originals and the Bill has been drawn up accordingly.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 13-I.—14th July 1955.—Whereas the Governor declared his intention to impose an improvement levy within the area included within the boundaries specified in the schedule below, by notification No. 11-I, dated the 17th June 1955, under section 3, read with section 4 and subsection (1) of section 5 of the Bengal Development Act, 1935 (Bengal Act XVI of 1935), published at pages 2491-2504, Part I, of the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd June 1955, mentioning the period of fourteen days from the date of publication of the said notification as the period for submission of objections referred to in sub-section (1) of section 5 of the said Act;

And whereas the said period for submission of objections has expired and no objection or suggestion with respect to the said notification has been received;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 5 of the Bengal Development Act, 1935 (Bengal Act XVI of 1935), the Governor is pleased hereby to declare his intention to impose the improvement levy referred to in the said notification within the area included within the boundaries specified in the schedule below:—

THE SCHEDULE.

Boundaries of the area.

The police-stations Mahammadbazar, Sainthia, Mayureswar, Rampurhat, Suri, Dubrajpur and Labpur of the Birbhum district and police-stations Barwan, Khargram and Kandi in the Murshidabad district, contained within the following boundaries over and above the areas included in notification No. 9-I, dated 14th August 1954:—

(1) In police-station Mahammadbazar (Birbhum).—From the crossing of the common boundaries of mauzas Moulpur (J. L. No. 121) and Chak Mukunda (J. L. No. 122) with the Mayurakshi Dwarka Main Canal at chainage 198·0 of the canal along a straight line south-eastwards to the point at which the Manikarnika or Dowki River takes a sharp turn from a generally easterly course to a direction towards the south-east by south, then down and along the Manikarnika or Dowki River up to its crossing with the eastern boundary of police-station Mahammadbazar, then up the line of that boundary of that police-station towards the north as far as its crossing with the Dwarka River, then upstream along that river as far as the barrage across it in mauza Dubrajpur (J. L. No. 69), thence along a straight line towards the south-west joining that barrage with the bridge across the Mayurakshi Dwarka Main Canal in mauza Raipur (J. L. No. 76), thence along a straight line from that bridge to the crossing of the Mayurakshi Dwarka Main Canal and the boundary between mauzas Sehala (J. L. No. 79) and Danjana (J. L. No. 81), and thence up the course of that canal to the starting point.

(2) In police-station Sainthia (Birbhum).—(a) From the crossing point of the Manikarnika or Dowki River and the eastern boundary of police-station Mahammadbazar, which is also the western boundary of police-station Sainthia down the Manikarnika or Dowki River up to its crossing with the eastern boundary of police-station Sainthia, then following that boundary on the north of the river and back to the starting point.

(b) From the point at which the common boundary between police-stations Sainthia and Suri crosses the southern bank of the Mayurakshi River southwards along that boundary up to the point at which it meets the Bakreswar River, thence down that river up to its crossing with the boundary between police-stations Sainthia and Labpur, thence up that boundary towards the north to the Mayurakshi River and finally up that river to the starting point.

(3) In police-station Mayureswar.—From the crossing of the Manikarnika or Dowki River and the Sainthia-Mayureswar police-station boundary down that river up to the Birbhum-Murshidabad district boundary, which is also the eastern boundary of the Mayureswar police-station, then up that boundary towards the north up to the point from which the northern boundary of the Mayureswar police-station emerges, thence westwards along that boundary to the Dwarka River, then upstream along that river until it meets the Sainthia-Mayureswar police-station boundary then down that boundary back to the starting point.

(4) In Rampurhat police-station.—The area of this police-station is on the south of the Dwarka River. It is bounded by that river, the Rampurhat-Mayureswar boundary and the Birbhum-Murshidabad district boundary, which is also the eastern boundary of the Rampurhat police-station.

(5) In Suri police-station.—From the meeting point of the eastern boundary of mauza Joka (J. L. No. 3) and the southern bank of the Mayurakshi River southwards along the eastern boundaries of mauzas Joka (J. L. No. 3), Kamalpur (J. L. No. 4) and Tilpara (J. L. No. 10) to the Mayurakshi Bakreswar Main Canal at chainage 60·0, then down that canal to the southern boundary of mauza Murai (J. L. No. 9), then along a straight line towards the south-east up to the trijunction point of mauzas Akhermath (J. L. No. 32), Kubirpur (J. L. No. 37) and Gobra (J. L. No. 38), thence along a straight line south-westwards from that point to the crossing of the Mayurakshi Bakreswar Main Canal at 230·0 chainage and the northern boundary of mauza Khoshator (J. L. No. 99), thence down that canal up to its crossing with the Suri-Dubrajpur police-station boundary at chainage 619·0, then eastwards along that common police-station boundary up to the Bakreswar River, then down that river up to the north-western tip of mauza Beharia (J. L. No. 60), then along the boundary between mauzas Beharia (J. L. No. 60) and Ushgram (J. L. No. 62), and down the drainage channel between mauzas Beharia (J. L. No. 60) and Piasala (J. L. No. 58) up to the Bakreswar River, thence down the Bakreswar River up to the Suri-Sainthia police-station boundary, thence northwards that common boundary up to the Mayurakshi River, and finally up that river back to the starting point.

(6) In Dubrajpur police-station.—From the crossing of the Mayurakshi Bakreswar Main Canal at chainage 619·0, and the Suri-Dubrajpur police-station boundary, along the common boundary eastwards to the Bakreswar River, then up that river up to the outfall of the Mayurakshi Bakreswar Main Canal and then up that canal back to the starting point.

(7) In police-station Labpur.—From the point of the Sainthia-Labpur police-station boundary on the Mayurakshi River down that common boundary southwards up to the Bakreswar River, thence down that river and down its continuation under the name of Kuia River as far as the point at which it crosses the Birbhum-Murshidabad district boundary, which is also the eastern boundary of Labpur police-station, then north-westwards up that common boundary as far as the Mayurakshi River, and finally up that river to the starting point.

(8) In police-station Barwan (Murshidabad).—(a) From the point at which the Manikarnika or Dowki River leaves the Birbhum-Murshidabad boundary (which is also the western boundary of Barwan police-station), down that river up to mauza Hapina (J. L. No. 77), then along its upper course to the Badshahi Road crossing at the border of mauzas Kuli (J. L. No. 36) and Katua (J. L. No. 59), then it continues down the river up to its crossing with the Barwan-Kandi police-station boundary; then it goes up that boundary and the Barwan-Khargram police-station boundary up to the Birbhum-Murshidabad boundary (which is also the western boundary of the Barwan police-station) and then southwards down that common boundary back to the starting point.

(b) From the crossing of the Birbhum-Murshidabad district boundary (which is also the eastern boundary of the Barwan police-station) and the Mayurakshi River, then south-eastwards down that common boundary up to its crossing with the Kuia River, then down that river up to its crossing with the road in mauza Tarapur (J. L. No. 156), then northwards along that road up to its crossing with the branch of the Mayurakshi River in mauza Sundarpur (J. L. No. 153), then up that branch of the Mayurakshi to the main Mayurakshi River and then finally up that last river back to the starting point.

(9) In police-station Khargram.—From the point where the Birbhum-Murshidabad district boundary (which is also the western boundary of Khargram police-station) crosses the Dwarka River, down that common boundary up to the meeting point with the Khargram-Barwan police-station boundary, then along this last boundary up to its meeting point with the Khargram and Kandi police-station boundary. Then eastwards along the last named boundary up to the Kana Mayurakshi river; then down that river up to the eastern boundary of mauza Baie (J. L. No. 152), then along the eastern boundary of mauzas Baie (J. L. No. 152), Banur (J. L. No. 134), Jamuni (J. L. No. 137), Khargram (J. L. No. 139) and Katigram (J. L. No. 113) up to its meeting with the drainage channel and westwards up that drainage channel through Garulia (J. L. No. 114), Mandalsar (J. L. No. 97), Ninur (J. L. No. 112) and Durgapur (J. L. No. 111) up to its crossing with the Badshahi Road in the last named mauza, then northwards along the Badshahi Road up to the Dwarka River, and then finally up to that river up to the starting point.

(10) In police-station Kandi.—From the crossing of the Manikarnika or Dowki River and the Barwan-Kandi police-station boundary down that river, which has become the Kana Mayurakshi River meeting with the Kandi-Khargram police-station boundary; then westwards along that boundary until it meets the Kandi-Barwan police-station boundary; and then finally down the last named boundary back to the starting point.

Mines and Power

ORDERS.

No. 1990M.P.—29th June 1955.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 51 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased to confer upon Messrs. Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, licensees of the Calcutta and District Consolidated Electric License, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said licensees), for the purpose of erecting overhead service-lines in the passage leading to the premises of Shri Provat Kumar Ghosal at 63, Madhusudan Banerjee Road, Birati, North Dum Dum, from the existing distributing line post No. 1/76 in Madhusudan Banerjee Road, Birati, to the said premises situated within the area of supply of the said licensees and for repairing the same whenever necessity arises, the powers which the telegraph authority possesses under section 10 to 19 of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 (XIII of 1885), with respect to the placing of telegraph lines and posts for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Central Government or to be so established or maintained.

The exercise of the powers hereby conferred is subject to the provisions of the said Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

No. 1936M.P./3L-5/55.—22nd June 1955.—Whereas Shrimati Mira Rani Dasi and Shri Nagendra Kumar Das have entered into an agreement with the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, licensees of the Calcutta and District Consolidated Electric License, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said licensees), for taking from the said licensees the supply of energy at the premises of Shrimati Mira Rani Dasi and Shri Nagendra Kumar Das at Sanipara Bye Lane and Sanipara Lane, respectively, Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, situated outside the area of supply of the said licensees;

And whereas the said premises are not situated within the area of supply of any other licensee;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 27 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased to authorise the said licensees to supply energy to the said Shrimati Mira Rani Dasi and Shri Nagendra Kumar Das at the said premises at Sanipara Bye Lane and Sanipara Lane, respectively, Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, for domestic purposes and to lay down and place electric supply-lines for that purpose subject to following conditions and restrictions, namely:—

The authority hereby conferred shall—

(a) remain in force until—

(i) the area of supply of the said licensees is extended so as to include within its limits the said premises of Shrimati Mira Rani Dasi and Shri Nagendra Kumar Das at Sanipara Bye Lane and Sanipara Lane, respectively, Serampore, in the district of Hooghly, or

(ii) a license is granted to any other person whose area of supply includes the said premises within its boundaries and such person is in a position to supply energy to the said premises, or

(iii) any transmission or distribution system for supplying energy outside the area of supply of the said licensees is established by or on behalf of the State Government, enabling energy to be supplied at the said premises without such authority;

(b) be subject to the restrictions referred to in the third proviso to section 27 hereinbefore mentioned.

No. 2011M.P./5L-11/55.—4th July 1955.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 51 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased to confer upon the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, licensee of the Calcutta and District Consolidated Electric License, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said licensee), for the purpose of erecting overhead electric supply-lines for the transmission of energy in a private common passage leading to the premises of Shri Ram Krishna Ghosh of 8/3/5/1, Sarat Dutta Lane, North Bantra, Howrah, from the existing overhead distributor on Madhusudan Pal Chowdhury Lane, Howrah, to the said premises situated within the area of supply of the said licensee and for repairing the same whenever necessity arises, the powers which the telegraph authority possesses under sections 10 to 19 of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 (XIII of 1885), with respect to the placing of telegraph lines and posts for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained.

The exercise of the powers hereby conferred is subject to the provisions of the said Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

No. 2029M.P.—6th July 1955.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 51 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased to confer upon the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, licensee of the Calcutta and District Consolidated Electric License, 1946, hereinafter referred to as the said licensee, for the purpose of erecting overhead electric supply-lines in the passage off Banku Behari Ghosh Lane, Belur, in the district of Howrah for the transmission of energy from the existing overhead distributor on Banku Behari Ghosh Lane, Belur, in the district of Howrah, to the said premises situated within the area of supply of the said licensee, and for repairing the same whenever necessity arises, the powers which the telegraph authority possesses under sections 10 to 19 of the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885 (XIII of 1885), with respect to the placing of telegraph lines and posts for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained.

The exercise of the powers hereby conferred is subject to the provisions of the said Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

No. 2049M.P./3L-17/55.—8th July 1955.—Whereas Shri Gobinda Mukherjee, Shrimati Sabitri Debi, Shri Ashutosh Ganguly and Shri Amrita Lal Mukherjee have entered into an agreement with the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, licensees of the Calcutta and District Consolidated Electric License, 1946 (hereinafter referred to as the said licensees), for taking from the said licensees the supply of energy at the premises of Shri Gobinda Mukherjee at Shamnagar Road, Dum Dum, in the district of 24-Parganas, and at the respective premises of Shrimati Sabitri Debi, Shri Ashutosh Ganguly and Shri Amrita Lal Mukherjee at Krishnapore Refugee Co-operative Colony, Limited, Dum Dum, in the district of 24-Parganas, situated outside the area of supply of the said licensees;

And whereas the said premises are not situated within the area of supply of any other licensee;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 27 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910 (IX of 1910), the Governor is pleased to authorise the said licensees to supply energy to the said Shri Gobinda Mukherjee at the said premises at Shamnagar Road, Dum, Dum, in the district of 24-Parganas, and to the said Shrimati Sabitri Debi, Shri Ashutosh Ganguly and Shri Amrita Lal Mukherjee at the said respective premises at Krishnapore Refugee Co-operative Colony, Limited, Dum Dum, in the district of 24-Parganas, for domestic purposes and to lay down and place electric supply-lines for that purpose subject to the following conditions and restrictions, namely:—

The authority hereby conferred shall—

(a) remain in force until—

(i) the area of supply of the said licensees is extended so as to include within its limits the said respective premises of Shri Gobinda Mukherjee, at Shamnagar Road, Dum Dum, in the district of 24-Parganas, and the said respective premises of Shrimati Sabitri Debi, Shri Ashutosh Ganguly and Shri Amrita Lal Mukherjee at Krishnapore Refugee Co-operative Colony, Limited, Dum Dum, in the district of 24-Parganas, or

(ii) a license is granted to any other person whose area of supply includes the said premises within its boundaries and such person is in a position to supply energy to the said premises, or

(iii) any transmission or distribution system for supplying energy outside the area of supply of the said licensees is established by or on behalf of the State Electricity Board, enabling energy to be supplied at the said premises without such authority;

(b) be subject to the restrictions referred to in the third proviso to section 27 hereinbefore mentioned.

ORDER.

No. 3015Dis./D/11L-273/55.—8th July 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1978Dis./D/-11L-72/54, dated the 6th May 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co., Ltd., 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27 and their employees as represented by the Britannia Biscuit Co. Employees' Union, 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said Industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an Industrial Dispute existing between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co., Ltd., 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27 and their Employees as represented by the Britannia Biscuit Co., Employees' Union, 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, 3RD FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH CHANDRA SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company : Shri K. L. Chatterjee, Pleader, of Messrs. Ori Dignam & Co., Solicitors, instructed by Kiran Majumder, Labour Officer of the Company.

For Britannia Biscut Co., Employees' Union : Shri P. K. Ghose, President.

By Government order No. 1978Dis./D/11L-72/54, dated Calcutta, the 6th May 1955, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal presided over by me for adjudication under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The issue formulated in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:—

(1) What will be the quantum of bonus for the year 1949-50 for all the workers who have been deprived of the benefit of the additional bonus for the year 1949-50.

AWARD.

A dispute between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co., Ltd., and its workmen represented by Britannia Biscuit Factory Workers' Union and Britannia Biscuit Co. Mazdoor Union was referred for adjudication to the Tribunal presided over by Shri S. K. Niyogi. The dispute comprised several issues, one of them being the question of bonus which according to the Union should have been equivalent to basic wages for three months. The Company had granted bonus equal to two months wages. The Tribunal turned down the claim for additional bonus. An appeal was preferred against the Award made by the Tribunal and additional bonus equal to one month's basic wages was granted by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal on 9th April 1952.

The Union appearing before this Tribunal was not a party in the earlier proceedings. The Company made additional payment in pursuance of the Appellate Tribunal Award to those workers only who were represented by the two Unions mentioned above. Finding that a distinction was made between themselves and those who were represented by the two unions aforesaid, Britannia Biscuit Company Employees' Union submitted a petition to the Company for making payment of additional bonus in terms of the Appellate Tribunal Award. This claim was made on 15th May 1952. The Company however turned a deaf ear to the claim. Government was moved by this Union but the Company did not find its way to comply with the demand made by them. This reference was accordingly made.

Two questions have been canvassed before this Tribunal, viz., whether the award made by the Learned Appellate Tribunal enures to the benefits of the workers represented by the Union now before this Tribunal and secondly whether the claim made by this Union ought to fail on account of delay.

The point referred for adjudication is couched in terms which presuppose that the workmen were entitled to additional bonus. The only thing the Tribunal was required to do was to determine the amount. The learned lawyer for the Company argued that though the issue was phrased in this way, the Tribunal is bound to decide whether additional bonus is exigible. The short point is whether the Award made by the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal can be availed of by this Union as well though it was not formally a party in those proceedings. The Company had its factory at Dum Dum at the relevant time. The factory workers forming a Union appeared in the earlier proceedings. The subordinate staff employed in the Head Office, came in represented by the other Union. In this way one section of the workers of the establishment at the Head Office agitated the question of bonus before the Tribunal and thereafter before the Appellate Tribunal. Sub-section (d) of Section 18 of the Industrial Disputes Act is in the following terms:—

> "Where a party referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) is composed of workmen, all persons who were employed in the establishment or part of the establishment, as the case may be, to which the dispute relates on the date of the dispute and all persons who subsequently become employed in that establishment or part" shall be bound by the award.

The workers who formed the employees' union were employed in the establishment in the Head Office. A group of workers of the same establishment were parties before the Tribunal. Sub-section (d) therefore clearly applies and the workers who did not take part in the earlier proceedings are entitled by the terms, thereof, to reap the benefits and advantages flowing from the award. It is possible that in this view the Government framed the issue on the assumption that these men who have been deprived of additional bonus were entitled to recover the same and the only thing that was required to be done was to determine the quantum thereof. In this view this Tribunal has nothing to do as the remedy of the party aggrieved by the Company's not implementing the award was to have their dues recovered by the Government in accordance with section 20 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act. Sub-section (1) of section 20 comes into operation in matters of this kind.

If it is assumed that the workers who were claiming additional bonus now are not entitled to invoke the assistance of the Appellate Tribunal Award and that this is a new dispute raised by them the question of delay would fall for determination. It is true that the claim relates to a remote period, viz., 1949-50, but the fact remains that the dispupte before the Tribunal was disposed of by award on 27th September 1951. The Appellate Tribunal passed its award on 9th April 1952. Thereafter the Company made certain payments in conformity with the Appellate Tribunal Award but the workers now appearing before this Tribunal were excluded from enjoyment of the benefits. Naturally these workers expected that bonus would be paid to all wihtout any discrimination. There was no reason to apprehend that the Company would pick and choose. As soon as they discovered that those who had actually agitated before the Appellate Tribunal for additional bonus got the advantage to their own exclusion, they placed the matter before the Company. It must be conceded that it was not at all fair that one class of workers would get bonus and the other class who were on the same footing would be deprived of the same. Looked at from the right perspective the question of delay does not really arise. Claim was made in time by one section of workers of the same establishment and it ultimately succeeded. The workers before me seek to reap the benefit of that Award which was passed by the Appellate Tribunal. Their claim was made soon after passing of the Award on their becoming aware that the Company was going to make an invidious distinction. This is no case in which the workers had accepted bonus without protest and raised the issue at a late state. The dispute was already there and the claim was being vigorously prosecuted by their fellow workers. They could very well wait to see the final result. There was no delay after the passing of the Appellate Tribunal Award. No objection can be raised that closed account had to be re-opened. Accounts were bound to be re-open because of the Appellate Tribunal Award. Actually the Company had to unsettle their accounts in order to give effect to the said award. In my view therefore the present claim cannot be characterised as belated.

In the view already held that this Union is entitled to get the benefit of the Award made by the Appellate Tribunal, nothing remains for adjudication.

This is my Award.

Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

The 23rd June 1955.

By order of the Governor,

D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 3016Dis./D/11L-273/55.—8th July 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1978Dis./D/-11L-72/54, dated the 6th May 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co., Ltd., 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27 and their employees as represented by the Britannia Biscuit Co. Employees' Union, 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint was filed before it against the said Company by Haribandhu and Giridhari, two workers of the said Company alleging that the said company had discharged the said two workers concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, filed by Shri Haribandhu and Giridhari, represented by Britannia Biscuit Factory Workers' Union, 26/8, Dum Dum Road, Dum Dum, Calcutta-2, against Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co., Ltd., 15, Taratola Road, Alipore, Calcutta (Case No. 74/33A/1954).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, NEW SECRETARIAT BUILDINGS, 3RD FLOOR, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Company : Shri K. L. Chatterjee, Pleader, of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors, instructed by Kiran Majumder, Labour Officer, of the Company.

For the Workmen : Shri Panchanan Bhattacherjee, Vice-President of the Union.

Being thrown out of employment during the pendency of a reference made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal by its order No. 1300Dis./D/11L-72/54, dated 29th March 1954, and subsequent order No. 2890Dis./D/11L-52/54, dated 7th June 1954, for adjudication of disputes between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co., and its workmen, the two employees, Haribandhu and Giridahri have applied for redress to the Tribunal in session of the aforesaid reference under Section 33A of the Industrial Disputes.

The Company resisted the application on the grounds that section 33A cannot be invoked inasmuch as no contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act really occurred and that these two men were validly struck off the rolls on the termination of their period of probation.

The Company adduced evidence that Haribandhu and Giridhari served as casual workers upto the 31st December 1953. They were again enlisted on the 8th of January 1954, as probationers for a period of three months with prospect of being absorbed in the permanent establishment at the end of the period of probation on proving themselves worthy. Since they failed to prove themselves fit for confirmation they were fired at the end of the trial period. Not being permanent employees termination of their services did not contravene the provision of section 33. The workers' representative referred to the notice of appointment Exts. A and A(i) as spurious documents fabricated for the purpose of this case and argued that section 33 makes no distinction between temporary and permanent workers. I have no reason to think that the notices Exts. A and A(i) have been brought into existence recently with fraudulent intentions as alleged. The Company's evidence that these two workers were appointed as probationers is not unworthy of credit and I do hold that they were on probation for three months. The argument however that as probationers they are not the type of workmen contemplated by section 33 is untenable. The language used in the section is of the widest amplitude. Temporary and permanent workmen are on an equal footing and have equal claim to the protection afforded by the section. It follows as a necessary corollary that in terminating their services without obtaining permission of the Tribunal, the Management contravened the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Though the workers succeed to this extent they are not still out of the wood. The learned Labour Appellate Tribunal observed in the case reported in 1952, 1, L.L.J., page 504, that it is the right of the employer after the termination of the probationery period to discharge a probationer if in its opinion his services are not considered to be satisfactory. The same view was expressed in the case reported in 1953, 1 L.L.J., page 269. The relevant passage may be quoted:—

> "We think that apart from the cases of victimisation, the management is the sole judge to decide whether the services of a probationer are satisfactory or not. The tribunal, in our opinion, cannot sit in judgment over the decision of the management in the matter of confirmation where the management in not confirming him is not actuated by motives of victimisation or other ulterior motives. It can examine the grounds on which the management refused to confirm as also other facts only for the purpose of seeing whether it was actuated by ulterior motives in not confirming him".

In the light of this exposition the Tribunal cannot arrogate to itself appellate powers and substitute its own judgment in supersession of the decision made by the Management regarding eligibility of probationers for confirmation. Supervisory powers can be exercised within a narrow compass merely to ascertain if the Management was actuated by any improper motive or whether any unfair labour practice was resorted to. In the instant case the officer-in-charge of the Stock and forwarding section (O.P.W. 1) reported to the Factory Manager at the end of the probationery period that the probationers save and except Haribandhu and Giridhari were good workers and might be made permanent. On this report (Ext. B) they were discharged. The representative of the workers fell foul of O.P.W. 1 and attempted to show him up as the villain of the piece. Suggestion was made to him in cross examination that in the matter of appointment in his department, he was following a policy of distributing patronage to his relations and neighbours. The opportunity was seized by him to get rid of these two men in furtherance of this pet policy. No allegation of this nature was made in the written statement filed by Haribandhu and Giridhari. A chance shot appears to have been fired during cross examination. Denying that any relation or neighbour has been appointed on probation after the discharge of these two men, O.P.W. 1. admitted that some people related to or known to him had been taken in as Badlee labourers. This refers to stop-gap appointment of a precarious character which do not lend support to the suggestion made. O.P.W. 1. is only a Departmental head. He is not the appointing authority. Casual vacancies in his department may be filled up by substitutes who might be immediately contacted by him that brings us nowhere near the case put in shape during cross examination. The sectional head was not satisfied with the work of these two men. One of these two had no doubt worked in this department previously for a stretch of time but immediately before his appointment on probation he was on the temporary list. Inspite of his experience he was not considered fit for permanent appointment without further trial. Shortcomings that might be tolerated in casual workers might assume formidable proportions when confirmation is under consideration. This Tribunal is not in a position to pronounce on the evaluation of the probationers' merits made by the reporting officer. The Factory Manager was justified in acting upon the report. As the Management has the absolute right to decide whether the services of probationer are satisfactory or not the two workers can have no relief since want of good faith or infiltration of extraneous considerations has not been established. The application is accordingly rejected.

I award accordingly.

No. 3056Dis./D/III-118/55.—11th July 1955.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1946Dis./D/III-118/55, dated the 4th May 1955, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Sree Narsingh Sahay Madan Gopal (Engineers), Ltd., 160, Harrison Road, Calcutta and one of their employees, Shri S. K. Pandey, C/o. Pandey Electrical Stores, 54, Grey Street, Calcutta, represented by himself, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Seventh Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sree Nursing Sahay Madan Gopal (Engineers), Ltd., 160, Harrison Road, Calcutta and one of their employees, Shri S. K. Pandey, C/o. Pandey Electrical Stores, 54, Grey Street, Calcutta.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

DR. B. K. BHATTACHARYA, M.A., LL.B., Ph.D. (London), Barrister-at-Law, District Judge, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

Appearance.

For the workman: Shri Suprabhat Mukherjee.

For the Company: Shri Jitendra Nath Bagchi, Pleader.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Sree Nursing Sahay Madan Gopal (Engineers), Ltd., 160, Harrison Road, Calcutta and one of their employees, Shri S. K. Pandey, C/o. Pandey Electrical Stores, 54, Grey Street, Calcutta, represented by himself, regarding the matters mentioned below in the issue was referred to this Tribunal for its adjudication under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1946Dis./D/III-118/55, dated the 4th May 1955.

Both parties, after filing their respective written statements, appeared and contested the case.

The dispute relates to the alleged dismissal of Shri S. K. Pandey, an employee under Messrs. Sree Nursing Sahay Madan Gopal (Engineers), Ltd.

The issue stands as follows:—

(1) Is the dismissal of Shri S. K. Pandey justified? What relief is he entitled to?

FINDINGS.

At the outset, Mr. Bagchi, the learned pleader for the Company, raised an objection to the effect that inasmuch as Shri Pandey's case was one of individual workman only, it did not come within the scope of the industrial Disputes Act.

He relies on the use of plurals in section 2(k) of the Act. This point, however, has been set at rest by the Full Bench Decision in the case of Swadeshi Cotton Mills (1953, 1 L.L.J., page 757) which considered the relevant rulings of different High Courts of India in this connexion and came to the conclusion that even an individual could raise an industrial dispute. It is found accordingly that the case is maintainable.

The other preliminary objection raised by the learned pleader for the Company is in reference to section 2(s) of the Act. The contention of the learned pleader is that Shri S. K. Pandey was not an ordinary workman but was actually a Manager, as has been mentioned in the written statement of the Company. Shri S. K. Pandey (Sudhakar Pandey), hereinafter referred to as the "petitioner", has stoutly denied the suggestion that he was the Manager.

Exhibit 1 to which detailed reference will be made hereafter is the so-called notice issued by the Company regarding alleged retenchment of the petitioner. There, however, the petitioner has been described as "Workshop-in-Charge" and not as Manager. One of the Directors, Shri R. D. Pandey, was examined on behalf of the Company. According to his evidence the petitioner had merely passed the Hindi Middle School Examination and he possessed no technical qualification or experience. There was another supervisor, an Engineer, drawing higher salary, though Shri R. D. Pandey would have us believed that he was merely for "line work" and not for the office or the workshop. It is hard to believe that a man with no technical qualifications and experience and very slight general education would be given any responsible duties of supervision, usually demanded of a Manager. According to the petitioner, he had only to prepare bills, make entries in books and purchase articles. The abovementioned Director admits that the petitioner used to prepare challans and cash memos for the workshop, though according to him, he never made purchases. The petitioner has denied ever having supervised the work in the workshop or acted as Manager. According to him, the Manager of the Company was the son of Shri R. D. Pandey. The latter has admitted that his son was the General Manager of the firm. The Company has not been able to produce any papers to show that the petitioner was ever appointed as Manager. Taking into consideration all the facts and circumstances of the case, it is held that the position of Shri Pandey was nothing more than that of a dignified assistant. His comparatively higher salary was possibly due to his relationship to one of the Directors. In this view the present case comes within the operation of the Industrial Disputes Act, and, accordingly, is maintainable.

This brings us to the question of alleged dismissal of the petitioner, Shri S. K. Pandey. The case of the Company is very curious. In the written statement of the Company, there has been a categorical denial of retrenchment. In paragraph 5, gross indiscipline and dereliction of duties were hinted at and in paragraph 6, the following statement appears:—

> "That the statements made in paragraph 5 are false and the Employer Company emphatically denies the truth thereof. The employee petitioner Shri S. K. Pandey never took leave on 10th June 1954 and was never retrenched. He absented himself from the workshop, where he happened to be the Manager-in-charge, without any notice or information to the Company and left the Station for his village home in the District of Ballia in U. P. for an indefinite period resulting in gross mismanagement and a state of chaos in the workshop to severe loss of the Employer Company. Consequently, this Company had no other alternative but to dispense with his services."

Exhibit 1, to which reference has been made before, is a notice served on the petitioner. It bears the signature of one of the Directors. The contents are very interesting: "We are very sorry to inform you that due to depreciation work in our workshop has been too little in recent months and you have been found surplus. So your services are no longer required with effect from 1st August 1954."

The Director of the Company has been examined. This gentleman, Shri R. D. Pandey, signed the written statement filed in the Tribunal. In his deposition he said that the petitioner gave up the job of his own accord—perhaps referring to abandonment of service.

Thus, whereas the case of the Company is a medley of contradictions, the version of the petitioner is clear. According to him, he went on leave on 10th June 1954 and returned therefrom on 13th August 1954 when the Managing Director, Shri Damodar Das Mudhra, told him that he was no longer required. According to him, on 17th August 1954, another Director, Shri K. D. Mudhra, handed over to him personally a letter (Ext. 1) showing that he was being retrenched. Shri S. K. Pandey has testified on oath that leave was sanctioned verbally by the Managing Director who, however, has not been examined. Nor has the Company examined Shri K. D. Mudhra. The Company has mentioned in paragraph 1 of the written statement that it is a Private Limited enterprise, and according to the testimony of the Director, the petitioner had been given the appointment only because he was a relative of the former. Stringency or rigidity or strict adherence to formal rules in the circumstances was not perhaps expected. In the circumstances, I have no reason to disbelieve the petitioner when he says that he was granted leave.

That there was no charge-sheet or demand of any explanation is beyond dispute. In view of the facts and circumstances of the case, specially the abovementioned discrepancies, it cannot but be held that the termination of the service of the petitioner was thoroughly unjustified.

The next question to consider is whether the usual remedy of reinstatement should be allowed or if compensation will meet the ends of justice. It is clear from the evidence of the petitioner and the Director Shri R. D. Pandey that the relations between the petitioner and the Company are far from satisfactory. Even a charge of theft has been preferred. If one may say so, each seems to have lost confidence in the other. According to the petitioner the Director is the paternal cousin of his father, i.e., his uncle, who wanted to victimise him on account of family disputes. That the Company has been siding with the Director is apparent. It is not for the Tribunal to find what this family dispute was. But taking an objective view of the whole matter, I am of the opinion that suitable compensation should be a sufficient recompense in a case of this description.

From the evidence it appears that the petitioner did not get any salary, etc., for the leave period, viz., June, July and 13 days of August in 1954. His basic salary was Rs. 125 per mensem and with allowance the total came up to Rs. 200 every month. This amount at Rs. 200 per mensem the petitioner is entitled to get from the Company.

He should be paid also one month's salary in lieu of notice plus some compensation. Regarding the last point, it is necessary to mention when Shri Pandey entered the service of the Company, Nursing Sahay Madan Gopal (Engineers), Ltd. in 1949 though he had been at first appointed an employee of the firm Nursing Sahay Madan Gopal (Electrical), Ltd. in 1937. These two firms are however separate now, with different Boards of Directors. The petitioner, it must be remembered, has been out of employment ever since the dismissal in question. The Company tried to show that in October 1954, the petitioner purchased a shop dealing in electrical goods. This has been denied by the petitioner. According to Shri Chandra Dutt Pandey, nephew of the Director Shri R. D. Pandey, there was an agreement for sale in April 1955. The shop license however even now stands in the name of Chandra Dutt Pandey. Even if there was a sale or talk of sale, it might have referred only to the share of Shri C. D. Pandey if, as the petitioner stated, the shop in question was a joint family property. Be that as it may, till April 1955, the petitioner had not much to fall back upon. Taking into consideration all these circumstances, it would be fair if the petitioner be awarded compensation computed at seven months' basic pay at Rs. 125 per mensem. This, in my opinion, is the least that can be done to offset the injustice of the wrongful dismissal. The Company, Sree Nursing Sahay Madan Gopal (Engineers), Ltd., is to pay this sum as compensation to the petitioner, Shri S. K. Pandey, besides the aforesaid two other amounts, viz., arrears of salary, etc. These payments must be made within two weeks from the date when the award becomes enforceable.

The award is made accordingly.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL.

Advertisement No. 22(a).

APPLICATIONS are invited for a temporary post of Special Officer, Legislation, under the Local Self-Government Department, West Bengal.

(1) Qualifications.—

Essential.

(i) Citizenship of India as defined in Part II of the Constitution of India.

(ii) A degree of a recognised University.

(iii) Experience of drafting legislation.

Desirable.

A degree in Law.

Age should not be more than 50 years on 1st August 1955, relaxable for an otherwise well qualified candidate. The age limit is relaxable by three years for Scheduled Castes/Tribes. No upper age limit for displaced persons from Pakistan.

The upper age limit is relaxable for a non-Muslim Government servant in undivided Bengal who had originally opted to serve in East Bengal and was working under the Government of East Bengal after partition but has since formally resigned his service under that Government and has come over to India as refugee.

A candidate who before the 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(2) Pay.—The post carries a fixed pay of Rs. 600 per month plus usual allowances.

(3) Instructions regarding submission of application.—Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 10th March 1949, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

The application must be addressed to the Secretary and should reach him not later than the 11th August 1955.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

(4) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

(5) Fee.—Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXXVI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

The Commission may remit fee in case of genuinely indigent and bona fide displaced persons from Pakistan.

Note.—"(i) A displaced person claiming age concession must furnish with his application satisfactory evidence that he is a bona fide displaced person from Pakistan, e.g., refugee registration card or a certificate from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature, in original.

(ii) A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(iii) A displaced person seeking remission of the application fee must furnish besides the evidence required under Note (i) above, a certificate (in original) from a District Officer or a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature to show that he is not in a position to pay the prescribed fee."

(6) Address.—Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(7) Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(8) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Weekly Weather and Crop Report of West Bengal

Subdivisional reports on the condition of weather, crops, etc., for the week ending the 6th July 1955.

Summary.—During the week under report there was rainfall in thirty-seven subdivisions. The weather conditions were unfavourable in two subdivisions. Preparation of seed-beds for raising Aman seedlings and transplantation of Aman seedlings, harvesting of Jute and Aus were continued. In some subdivisions field preparations were hampered due to insufficient rainfall still continued. The condition of standing crops was fair. Fodder reported to be insufficient in eight subdivisions. Scarcity of seeds prevails in three subdivisions, namely Barrackpore, Ranaghat and Contai. Reports on cattle-disease were received in five subdivisions. The wages of agricultural labour varied from annas fourteen to rupees two and annas eight in different subdivisions during the week under review.

Districts and subdivisions.	Total rainfall during the week.	The minimum price of coarse rice in seers per rupee.		Character of weather and its effect on the standing crops.	Stage and progress of agricultural operations.	Scarcity of seed, if any.	Prospects of the standing crops (estimated outturn).	Fodder condition.	Cattle disease.	Labour wages without food.

NOTIFICATION

No. 13820-F.B.

Calcutta, the 25th July, 1955

Subscriptions for an issue of 4 per cent. West Bengal Loan, 1967

1. Object.—Out of the proceeds of the loan a sum of Rs.2 crores will be utilised to meet a part of the further capital expenditure required during the current financial year for the execution of the following Five-Year Plan Schemes, viz., (i) Development of State Roads, (ii) Road Transport Scheme, and (iii) Kalyani and other Housing Schemes, Rs.2 crores will be utilised for meeting a part of the cost of acquisition of Zemindaries and the balance of Rs.1 crore is required for financing the Durgapore Coke Oven Plant Scheme. The balance of the expenditure on these schemes is being met from the resources of the State Government. All the schemes except Development of State Roads are fully productive. Against the Road Development Scheme a considerable revenue is derived from Motor Vehicles Tax and Motor Spirit Sales Tax which provides a complete basis of repayment.

2. Security for loan.—In accordance with Article 293(1) of the Constitution of India, the loan will be secured on the whole of the Consolidated Fund of the Government of West Bengal.

The consent of the Government of India has been given to the floatation of this loan as required by Article 293(3) of the Constitution of India.

3. Description.—The loan will be briefly described as the 4 per cent. West Bengal Loan, 1967.

4. Amount of issue.—The amount of the loan will be Rs 500 lakhs.

5. Issue price.—The issue price will be Rs.100 for every Rs.100 of the loan applied for.

6. Subscriptions.—Subscriptions will be received from the 16th August, 1955 to 31st August, 1955, inclusive. Subscriptions will be in the form of cash/cheque. The loan will be closed without notice as soon as it appears that the total subscriptions amount approximately to Rs.500 lakhs and in any case not later than the close of business on the 31st August, 1955. The Government reserves the right to retain subscriptions received up to ten per cent. in excess of the sum of Rs.500 lakhs.

7. Partial allotment.—If the total subscription exceeds the amounts mentioned in paragraph 6 above, partial allotment will be made. If partial allotment is made, the balance of the sum paid at the time of application will be refunded as soon as possible after allotment. No interest will be paid on the amounts so refunded.

8. Date of repayment.—The loan will have a currency of twelve years from the 1st September, 1955, and will be repaid at par on the 1st September, 1967.

9. Interest.—The loan will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum from the 1st September, 1955. Interest will be payable half-yearly on the 1st March and the 1st September and will be subject to income-tax. Interest from the date of application to the 31st August, 1955, inclusive will be paid to the applicants at the time of issue of new securities, at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum on the nominal value of the loan applied for and accepted.

Refunds of income-tax will be obtainable by holders of the loan who are not liable to income-tax or who are liable to income-tax at a lower rate. An individual holder can also obtain on application a certificate from the Income-tax Officer of the district authorising deduction of income-tax at the rate applicable in his case when tax will be deducted at that rate instead of at the maximum rate.

10. Place of payment of interest.—Interest will be paid at any treasury or sub-treasury in the State of West Bengal and at the Public Debt Offices at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, Delhi and Bangalore.

11. Form of securities.—The loan will be issued in the form of—

(1) Stock, the applicants for which will be given Stock Certificates, or

(2) Promissory Notes.

If no preference is stated by the applicants, the securities will be issued in the form of Promissory Notes.

The Promissory Notes are transferable by endorsements and will be in denominations of Rs.100, Rs.500, Rs.1,000, Rs.5,000, Rs.10,000, Rs.25,000, Rs.50,000 and Rs.1,00,000.

12. Applications for loan.—(1) Applications for the loan must be for Rs.100 or for a multiple of that sum.

(2) Applications will be received at—

(a) the offices of the Reserve Bank of India at Calcutta, Bombay, Madras, Delhi, and Bangalore, and

(b) the branches and treasury pay offices of the State Bank of India located in the State of West Bengal.

(3) Applications may be made in the form attached hereto [printed copies of which are available at the places mentioned in sub-paragraph (2) above] or in any other form which states clearly the amount and description of the securities required, the full name and address of the applicant and the Public Debt Office or treasury or sub-treasury at which he desires that interest shall be paid.

13. Methods of paying subscriptions.—Applications should be accompanied by the necessary payment either in cash or by cheque for the amount of the loan applied for. Cheques should be made payable to the Reserve Bank of India or the State Bank of India as the case may be.

When a cheque is tendered in payment of the application money, the security will not be issued until the amount of the cheque has been realised.

14. Brokerage.—Brokerage will be paid at the rate of one-eighth per cent. to recognised banks and brokers on allotments made in respect of applications for the loan bearing their stamp.

15. Depreciation Fund.—The Government of West Bengal will provide in each financial year from 1956-57 to 1966-67 inclusive, a sum equal to 1½ per cent. of the total nominal amount of the loan to be used for purchasing the securities of the loan for cancellation.

16. Sinking Fund.—The Government of West Bengal will also make such annual contributions to a Sinking Fund to be utilised for the repayment of this loan on the 1st September, 1967, as they may from time to time decide to be necessary.

17. Public Debt Office.—The State Public Debt Office will be located at the Public Debt Office, Calcutta.

MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS.

NOTIFICATIONS.

New Delhi, the 6th June 1955.

THE INDIAN ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE (APPOINTMENT BY COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION) REGULATIONS, 1955.

S. R. O. 1215.—In pursuance of rule 7 of the Indian Administrative Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954, the Central Government, in consultation with the State Governments and the Union Public Service Commission, hereby makes the following regulations, namely:—

1. Short title.—These regulations may be called the Indian Administrative Service (Appointment by Competitive Examination) Regulations, 1955.

2. Definitions.—(1) In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) "available vacancies" means the vacancies in the Service which, as determined by the Central Government under the provisions of sub-rule (2) of rule 4 of the Recruitment Rules, are to be filled on the results of an examination;

(b) "Commission" means the Union Public Service Commission;

(c) "examination" means a competitive examination for recruitment to the service held under sub-rule (1) of rule 7 of the Recruitment Rules;

(d) "list" means the list of candidates prepared under regulation 7;

(e) "Recruitment Rules" means the Indian Administrative Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954;

(f) "Schedule" means the Schedule appended to these regulations;

(g) "Scheduled Castes" and "Scheduled Tribes" shall have the same meanings as are assigned to them by clauses (24) and (25) respectively of Article 366 of the Constitution of India; and

(h) "Service" means the Indian Administrative Service.

(2) All other words and expressions used in these regulations and not defined shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Recruitment Rules.

3. Holding of Examination.—(1) The examination shall be conducted by the Commission in the manner notified by the Central Government from time to time.

(2) The dates on which and the places at which the examination shall be held shall be fixed by the Commission.

4. Conditions of Eligibility.—In order to be eligible to compete at the examination, a candidate must satisfy the following conditions, namely:—

(i) Nationality and Residence.—He must be a citizen of India, not ordinarily resident in the State of Jammu and Kashmir;

(ii) Age.—He must have attained the age of 21, and not attained the age of 24, on the first day of August of the year in which the examination is held:

Provided that the upper age-limit shall be relaxed up to a maximum of three years if a candidate belongs to a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe:

Provided further that in the case of a candidate who is,—

(a) a displaced person from any territory now forming part of the Dominion of Pakistan or any area lying in the unliberated part of the State of Jammu and Kashmir, or

(b) a resident in the former French Settlements which have now become part of India, and has received his education through the medium of the French language,

the Central Government may, by general or special order, relax the upper age-limit to such extent and for such period as may be specified in the order:

Provided also that a candidate who is eligible for the benefit of the relaxation permissible under either of the last two preceding provisos, may receive the benefit cumulatively to such extent as the Central Government may, by general or special order, specify;

NOTE.—Whether or not such relaxation should continue shall, from time to time, be subject to review by the Central Government.

(iii) Educational qualifications.—He must hold a degree in Arts, Science, Commerce, Agriculture or in Civil, Mechanical or Electrical (including Tele-communication) Engineering of one or more of the Universities specified in the Schedule or hold the LL.B. degree of the Bombay University (revised course):

Provided that,—

(a) in exceptional cases, the Commission may, on the recommendation of the Central Government, treat as qualified a candidate who, though not possessing any of the qualifications prescribed in this clause, has passed examinations conducted by other institutions of a standard which, in the opinion of the Commission, justifies the admission of the candidate to the examination; and

(b) candidates who are otherwise qualified but have taken degrees from foreign Universities, being Universities not specified in the Schedule, may also be admitted to the examination at the discretion of the Commission:

Provided further that a candidate who holds the LL.B. degree of the Bombay University (revised course) and who was exempted from any of the papers of the prescribed course on the ground of his being a member of the University Officers' Training Corps or National Cadet Corps, shall not be eligible to compete at the examination; and

(iv) Fees.—He must pay the fees prescribed by the Commission.

5. Any attempt on the part of a candidate to obtain support for his candidature by any means may be held by the Commission to disqualify him for admission to the examination.

6. The decision of the Commission as to the eligibility or otherwise of a candidate for admission to the examination shall be final and no candidate to whom a certificate of admission has not been issued by the Commission shall be admitted to the examination.

7. The Commission shall forward to the Government of India, in the Ministry of Home Affairs, a list arranged in order of merit of the candidates who have qualified by such standards as the Commission may determine, and of the candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes who though not qualified by that standard are declared by the Commission to be suitable for appointment to the Service with due regard to the maintenance of efficiency of administration. The list shall also be published for general information.

8. Subject to the provisions of regulations 9, 10, 12 and 13, candidates will be considered for appointment to the available vacancies in the order in which their names appear in the list.

9. (1) In pursuance of rule 7 of the Recruitment Rules, 12½ per cent. and 5 per cent. of the available vacancies shall be reserved for candidates who are members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes respectively.

(2) In filling the vacancies so reserved, candidates who are members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes shall be considered for appointment in the order in which their names appear in the list irrespective of their relative rank as compared with other candidates.

(3) If a sufficient number of candidates who are members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes are not available for filling all the vacancies so reserved, the remaining vacancies shall be filled by the appointment of other candidates in the list and an equivalent number of additional vacancies shall be reserved for candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes to be filled on the results of the next examination:

Provided that if a sufficient number of suitable candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes is not available as a result of the said next examination to fill all the reserved vacancies, including the additional vacancies, the additional vacancies, or such of them as are not filled, shall lapse.

10. (1) No male candidate who has more than one wife living shall be appointed to any vacancy unless the Central Government has, under the proviso to sub-rule (2) of rule 5 of the Recruitment Rules, exempted him from the operation of that sub-rule.

(2) As laid down in sub-rule (3) of rule 5 of the Recruitment Rules, it is open to the Central Government not to appoint a woman candidate who is married or to require such woman candidate as is not married to resign from the service in the event of her marrying subsequently.

11. A candidate who is or has been declared by the Commission guilty of impersonation or of submitting fabricated documents or documents which have been tampered with or of making statements which are incorrect or false or of suppressing material information or of using or attempting to use unfair means in the examination hall or otherwise resorting to any other irregular or improper means for obtaining admission to the examination may, in addition to rendering himself liable to a criminal prosecution, be debarred either permanently or for a specified period—

(a) by the Commission from admission to any examination or appearance at any interview held by the Commission for selection of candidates; and

(b) by the Central Government from employment under the Government.

12. No candidate shall be appointed to the service who after such medical examination as the Central Government may prescribe is not found to be in good mental or bodily health and free from any mental or physical defect likely to interfere with the discharge of the duties of the service.

13. The inclusion of a candidate's name in the list confers no right to appointment unless the Central Government is satisfied, after such enquiry as may be considered necessary, that the candidate is suitable in all respects for appointment to the service.

THE INDIAN ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE (APPOINTMENT BY PROMOTION) REGULATIONS, 1955.

S. R. O. 1216.—In pursuance of sub-rule (1) of rule 8 of the Indian Administrative Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954, the Central Government, in consultation with the State Governments and the Union Public Service Commission, hereby makes the following regulations, namely:—

1. Short title.—These regulations may be called the Indian Administrative Service (Appointment by Promotion) Regulations, 1955.

2. Definitions.—(1) In these regulations unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) "cadre officer" means a member of the Service;

(b) "cadre post" means any of the posts specified as such in the regulations made under sub-rule (1) of rule 4 of the Cadre Rules;

(c) "Cadre Rules" means the Indian Administrative Service (Cadre) Rules, 1954;

(d) "Committee" means the Committee set up in accordance with regulation 3;

(e) "Commission" means the Union Public Service Commission;

(f) "Recruitment Rules" means the Indian Administrative Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954;

(g) "Schedule" means a Schedule appended to these regulations;

(h) "Service" means the Indian Administrative Service;

(i) "State" means a Part "A" State, or a Part "B" State, other than the State of Jammu and Kashmir, and includes the State of Vindhya Pradesh;

(j) "State Civil Service" means any service or services approved for purposes of the Recruitment Rules by the Central Government in consultation with the State Government, a member of which normally holds for purposes of revenue and general administration charge of a subdivision of a district or a post of higher responsibility;

(k) "State Government" means—

(i) in relation to a Part "A" State or a Part "B" State, in respect of which a separate cadre of the service exists, the Government of such Part "A" State or Part "B" State;

(ii) in relation to a group of States in respect of which a joint cadre of the service is constituted, the Government of one of such States nominated by the Governments of the States forming that group to represent them in relation to the application of these regulations; and

(iii) in relation to the State of Vindhya Pradesh, the Lieutenant Governor.

(2) All other words and expressions used in these regulations but not defined shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Recruitment Rules.

3. Constitution of the Committee to make Selection.—(1) There shall be constituted for each of the States, specified in column 2 of Part I of the Schedule, a Committee consisting of the Chairman of the Commission or where the Chairman is unable to attend, any other member of the Commission representing it and other members specified in the corresponding entry of column 3 of the said Part I of the Schedule:

Provided that—

(i) if at any time a joint Cadre is constituted for—

(a) the States of Bombay and Saurashtra,

(b) the States of Punjab and Patiala and East Punjab States Union, the Committee in relation to any such group of States shall consist of the Chairman of the Commission, or where the Chairman is unable to attend, any other member of the Commission representing it together with such other members as are specified in column 3 of Part II of the said Schedule opposite to such group of States;

(ii) no member of the Committee other than the Chairman or the member of the Commission shall be a person who is not a member of the Service;

(iii) the Central Government may, after consultation with the State Government concerned, amend the Schedule.

(2) The Chairman or the member of the Commission shall preside at all meetings of the Committee at which he is present.

4. Conditions of Eligibility for Promotion.—(1) Each Committee shall meet at intervals ordinarily not exceeding one year and consider the cases of all members of the State Civil Service who on the first day of January of that year, had completed not less than eight years of service (whether officiating or substantive) in a post of Deputy Collector or any other post or posts declared equivalent thereto by the Government.

Explanation.—In computing the period of qualifying service of eight years, any service rendered in any former Indian State, a Part "B" State or the State of Vindhya Pradesh in any post which the State Government considers equivalent to that of Deputy Collector shall be taken into consideration.

5. Preparation of a List of Suitable Officers.—(1) The Committee shall prepare a list of such members of the State Civil Service as satisfy the condition specified in regulation 4 and as are held by the Committee to be suitable for promotion to the service.

(2) The selection for inclusion in such list shall be based on merit and suitability in all respects with due regard to seniority.

(3) The names of the officers included in the list shall be arranged in order of seniority in the State Civil Service:

Provided that any junior officer who in the opinion of the Committee is of exceptional merit and suitability may be assigned a place in the list higher than that of officers senior to him.

(4) The list so prepared shall be reviewed and revised every year.

(5) If in the process of selection, review or revision it is proposed to supersede any member of the State Civil Service, the Committee shall record its reasons for the proposed supersession.

6. Consultation with the Commission.—The list prepared in accordance with regulation 5 shall then be forwarded to the Commission by the State Government along with—

(i) the records of all members of the State Civil Service included in the list;

(ii) the records of all members of the State Civil Service who are proposed to be superseded by the recommendations made in the list;

(iii) the reasons as recorded by the Committee for the proposed supersession of any member of the State Civil Service; and

(iv) the observations of the State Government on the recommendations of the Committee.

7. Select List.—(1) The Commission shall consider the list prepared by the Committee along with the other documents received from the State Government and, unless it considers any change necessary, approve the list.

(2) If the Commission consider it necessary to make any changes in the list received from the State Government, the Commission shall inform the State Government of the changes proposed and after taking into account the comments, if any, of the State Government, may approve the list finally with such modification, if any, as may, in its opinion, be just and proper.

(3) The list as finally approved by the Commission shall form the Select List of the members of the State Civil Service.

(4) The Select List shall ordinarily be in force until it is reviewed or revised in accordance with sub-regulation (4) of regulation 5:

Provided that in the event of a grave lapse in the conduct or performance of duties on the part of any member of the State Civil Service included in the Select List, a special review of the Select List may be made at any time at the instance of the State Government and the Commission may, if it so thinks fit, remove the name of such member of the State Civil Service from the Select List.

8. Appointment to Cadre Posts from the Select List.—Appointments of members of the State Civil Service from the Select List to posts borne on the State Cadre or the joint cadre of a group of States, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of rule 9 of the Cadre Rules. In making such appointments, the State Government shall follow the order in which the names of such officers appear in the Select List:

Provided that where administrative exigencies so require, a member of the State Civil Service whose name is not included in the Select List or who is not next in order in that Select List may, subject to the aforesaid provisions of the Cadre Rules, be appointed to a cadre post if the State Government is satisfied—

(i) that the vacancy is not likely to last for more than three months; or

(ii) that there is no suitable cadre officer available for filling the vacancy.

9. Appointments to the Service from the Select List.—(1) Appointments of members of the State Civil Service to the Service against the quota reserved for them under sub-rule (1) of rule 8 of the Recruitment Rules shall be made by the Central Government on the recommendation of the State Government in the order in which the names of members of the State Civil Service appear in the Select List for the time being in force.

(2) It shall not ordinarily be necessary to consult the Commission before such appointments are made, unless during the period intervening between the inclusion of the name of a member of the State Civil Service in the Select list and the date of the proposed appointment there occurs any deterioration in the work of the member of the State Civil Service which, in the opinion of the State Government, is such as to render him unsuitable for appointment to the service.

10. Saving.—Nothing in these regulations shall apply to appointments to be made to the service from among officers belonging to the State Civil Service included in List II prepared by the Special Recruitment Board under the Indian Administrative Service (Extension to States) Scheme.

The Personality Test shall carry a maximum of 200 marks. The Commission shall associate with itself the Principal and one or two senior officers with wide administrative experience for conducting this test.

(c) Part III—Qualifying Tests.

(i) Qualifying tests in the following subjects shall be conducted by the Principal on behalf of the Commission, namely:—

(1) riding,

(2) a regional language, and

(3) Hindi, except for candidates who are examined in Hindi as a regional language under clause (2).

The syllabus for this part of the examination shall be as specified in the First Schedule.

(ii) Every probationer shall be examined in the regional language or one of the regional languages shown in column (2) of the second Schedule against the State to which he is allotted. Where more than one regional language is shown against a State, the Principal shall ascertain whether the probationer is already familiar with any of them and thereafter decide in consultation with the State Government in which one of the regional languages the probationer shall be examined.

5. Every probationer shall be required to obtain such minimum number of marks in each subject at the written examination under clause (a) of regulation 4 and the Personality Test under clause (b) of that regulation as the Commission may determine and to pass the qualifying tests conducted by the Principal under clause (c) of the said regulation by such standards as he may determine.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

[See clauses (a) and (c) of regulation 4.]

SYLLABUS FOR THE INDIAN ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE PROBATIONERS' FINAL EXAMINATION.

I. WRITTEN EXAMINATION—

(i) The basic principles and the main provisions of the Constitution of India and the Five Year Plans.

There shall be one paper of three hours' duration divided into two parts carrying equal number of marks. Probationers are expected to know the basic principles and the main provisions of the whole of the Constitution of India. As regards the Five Year Plans, they are expected to be familiar with the main provisions of these Plans and should also be able to indicate the general progress of any of the main plans or projects.

A copy of the Constitution of India and also a copy each of the unabridged edition of the Five Year Plans shall be provided at the written examination. No probationer shall bring any book or notes into the Examination Hall.

(ii) Indian Criminal Law.

The Indian Penal Code, 1860 (Act XLV of 1860), the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 (Act 1 of 1872) and the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898).

There shall be one paper of three hours' duration divided into three parts, at least one question to be answered from each part.

Probationers will be expected to appreciate the close connection among the three Codes and to understand the combined operation of the three Codes in actual practice in the trial of cases. A copy of each of the Codes will be provided at the written examination. No probationer shall bring any book or notes into the Examination Hall.

Probationers should acquire familiarity with the whole of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, but questions will not be set involving a knowledge of the following:—

Sections 1, 2, 3 of Chapter I; Sections 18—27 of Chapter 2, Sections 39—41 of Chapter 3; Sections 99-A to 99-G of Chapter 7; Sections 184, 194 of Chapter 15; Chapters 22, 23; Sections 362, 365 of Chapter 25; Section 370 of Chapter 26; Sections 375—379 of Chapter 27; Chapter 29; Sections 411, 429 of Chapter 31; Sections 432-434, 441 of Chapter 32; Chapters 33, 37 and 44-A; Sections 542, 552, 554, 561-A of Chapter 46; Schedules III, IV and V, except that candidates ought to be acquainted with the Forms of charges as given in Schedule V, Forms No. XXVIII.

(iii) General Administrative Knowledge.

There shall be one paper of three hours' duration. The questions in this paper will be designed to test how far the probationer has acquired the necessary basic knowledge of the salient features of the Indian History in its social and political aspects; general principles of Economics and their application to Indian conditions and the general principles of Public Administration and organisation of Government institutions. In judging the answers, no additional credit will be given for detailed or expert knowledge of any of these subjects, but particular attention will be paid to see whether the candidate has shown himself able to examine given problems from all relevant angles and to attempt constructive and balanced judgment thereon.

NOTE.—Such deductions may be made from the marks assigned to probationers at the Final Examination as the Commission may consider necessary in order to ensure that no credit is allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

11. QUALIFYING TESTS—

(i) Riding.

The Test in Riding will comprise—

(a) Saddling and bridling;
(b) Mounting and dismounting;
(c) Trotting;
(d) Cantering;
(e) Trotting with reins relaxed;
(f) Trotting without stirrups;
(g) Cantering without stirrups;
(h) Individual exercise;
(i) Jumping a hedge hurdle 3 feet 6 inches high.

Probationers must wear either jodhpurs or riding breeches with gaiters or putteers or topboots. Saddles will be provided; candidates will not be allowed to use their own saddles.

(ii) Hindi.

The test will comprise translation, free composition, set composition, conversation and dictation. The probationers' knowledge of grammar will be tested chiefly by composition, conversation and by passages for comment.

(iii) Regional Languages.

The test will comprise translation, free composition, set composition, conversation, and dictation. The probationers' knowledge of grammar will be tested chiefly by composition, conversation and by passages for comment.

THE INDIAN POLICE SERVICE (APPOINTMENT BY COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION) REGULATIONS, 1955.

S.R.O. 1218.—In pursuance of rule 7 of the Indian Police Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954, the Central Government, in consultation with the State Governments and the Union Public Service Commission, hereby makes the following regulations, namely:—

1. Short Title.—These regulations may be called the Indian Police Service (Appointment by Competitive Examination) Regulations, 1955.

2. Definitions.—(1) In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) 'available vacancies' means the vacancies in the Service which, as determined by the Central Government under the provisions of sub-rule (2) of rule 4 of the Recruitment Rules, are to be filled on the results of an examination;
(b) 'Commission' means the Union Public Service Commission;
(c) 'examination' means a competitive examination for recruitment to the Service held under sub-rule (1) of rule 7 of the Recruitment Rules;
(d) 'list' means the list of candidates prepared under regulation 7;
(e) 'Recruitment Rules' means the Indian Police Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954;
(f) 'Schedule' means the Schedule appended to these regulations;
(g) 'Scheduled Castes' and 'Scheduled Tribes' shall have the same meanings as are assigned to them by clauses (24) and (25) respectively of Article 366 of the Constitution of India; and
(h) 'Service' means the Indian Police Service.

(2) All other words and expressions used in these regulations and not defined shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Recruitment Rules.

3. Holding of Examination.—(1) The examination shall be conducted by the Commission in the manner notified by the Central Government from time to time.

(2) The dates on which and the places at which the examination shall be held shall be fixed by the Commission.

4. Conditions of eligibility.—In order to be eligible to compete at the examination, a candidate must satisfy the following conditions, namely:—

(i) Nationality and residence.—He must be a citizen of India, not ordinarily resident in the State of Jammu and Kashmir;

(ii) Age.—He must have attained the age of 20, and not attained the age of 24, on the first day of August of the year in which the examination is held:

Provided that the upper age-limit shall be relaxed up to a maximum of three years if a candidate belongs to a Scheduled Caste or a Scheduled Tribe:

Provided further that in the case of a candidate who is,—

(a) a displaced person from any territory now forming part of the Dominion of Pakistan or any area lying in the unliberated part of the State of Jammu and Kashmir, or the Central Government may, by general or special order, relax the upper age-limit to such extent and for such period as may be specified in the order:

Provided also that a candidate who is eligible for the benefit of the relaxation permissible under either of the last two preceding provisos, may receive the benefit cumulatively to such extent as the Central Government may, by general or special order, specify;

NOTE.—Whether or not such relaxation should continue shall, from time to time, be subject to review by the Central Government.

(iii) Educational qualifications.—He must hold a degree of one or more of the Universities specified in the Schedule or have passed the Cambridge Higher School Certificate Examination:

Provided that,—

(a) in exceptional cases, the Commission may, on the recommendation of the Central Government, treat as qualified a candidate who, though not possessing any of the qualifications prescribed in this clause, has passed examinations conducted by other institutions of a standard which, in the opinion of the Commission, justifies the admission of the candidate to the examination;

(b) candidates who are otherwise qualified but have taken degrees from foreign Universities, being Universities not specified in the Schedule may also be admitted to the examination at the discretion of the Commission; and

(c) in respect of any examination conducted by the Commission for recruitment to the Service subsequent to the year 1955, a Cambridge Higher School Examination Certificate shall not be deemed to be the prescribed educational qualification under this clause and the holder thereof shall not be eligible for permission to appear at such examination;

(iv) Fees.—He must pay the fees prescribed by the Commission.

5. Any attempt on the part of a candidate to obtain support for his candidature by any means may be held by the Commission to disqualify him for admission to the examination.

6. The decision of the Commission as to the eligibility or otherwise of a candidate for admission to the examination shall be final and no candidate to whom a certificate of admission has not been issued by the Commission shall be admitted to the examination.

7. The Commission shall forward to the Government of India, in the Ministry of Home Affairs, a list arranged in order of merit of the candidates who have qualified by such standards as the Commission may determine, and of the candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes who though not qualified by that standard are declared by the Commission to be suitable for appointment to the Service with due regard to the maintenance of efficiency of administration. The list shall also be published for general information.

8. Subject to the provisions of regulations 9, 10, 12 and 13, candidates will be considered for appointment to the available vacancies in the order in which their names appear in the list.

9. (1) In pursuance of rule 7 of the Recruitment Rules, 12½ per cent. and 5 per cent. of the available vacancies shall be reserved for candidates who are members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes respectively.

(2) In filling the vacancies so reserved, candidates who are members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes shall be considered for appointment in the order in which their names appear in the list irrespective of their relative rank as compared with other candidates.

(3) If a sufficient number of candidates who are members of the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes are not available for filling all the vacancies so reserved, the remaining vacancies shall be filled by the appointment of other candidates in the list and an equivalent number of additional vacancies shall be reserved for candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes to be filled on the results of the next examination:

Provided that if a sufficient number of suitable candidates belonging to the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes is not available as a result of the said next examination to fill all the reserved vacancies, including the additional vacancies, the additional vacancies, or such of them as are not filled, shall lapse.

10. (1) No male candidate who has more than one wife living shall be appointed to any vacancy unless the Central Government has, under the proviso to sub-rule (2) of rule 5 of the Recruitment Rules, exempted him from the operation of that sub-rule.

(2) As laid down in sub-rule (3) of rule 5 of the Recruitment Rules, it is open to the Central Government not to appoint a woman candidate who is married or to require such woman candidate as is not married to resign from the Service in the event of her marrying subsequently.

11. A candidate who is or has been declared by the Commission guilty of impersonation or of submitting fabricated documents or documents which have been tampered with or of making statements which are incorrect or false or suppressing material information or of using or attempting to use unfair means in the examination hall or otherwise resorting to any other irregular or improper means for obtaining admission to the examination may, in addition to rendering himself liable to a criminal prosecution, be debarred either permanently or for a specified period—

(a) by the Commission from admission to any examination or appearance at any interview held by the Commission for selection of candidates; and

(b) by the Central Government from employment under the Government.

12. No candidate shall be appointed to the Service who after such medical examination as the Central Government may prescribe is not found to be in good mental or bodily health and free from any mental or physical defect likely to interfere with the discharge of the duties of the Service.

13. The inclusion of a candidate's name in the list confers no right to appointment, unless the Central Government is satisfied, after such enquiry as may be considered necessary, that the candidate is suitable in all respects for appointment to the Service.

INDIAN POLICE SERVICE (APPOINTMENT BY PROMOTION) REGULATIONS, 1955.

S.R.O. 1219.—In pursuance of sub-rule (1) of rule 9 of the Indian Police Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954, the Central Government, in consultation with the State Governments and the Union Public Service Commission, hereby makes the following regulations, namely:—

1. Short title.—These regulations may be called the Indian Police Service (Appointment by Promotion) Regulations, 1955.

2. Definitions.—(1) In these regulations unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) 'cadre officer' means a member of the Service;

(b) 'cadre post' means any of the posts specified as such in the regulations made under sub-rule (1) of rule 4 of the Cadre Rules;

(c) 'Cadre Rules' means the Indian Police Service (Cadre) Rules, 1954;

(d) 'Committee' means the Committee set up in accordance with regulation 3;

(e) 'Commission' means the Union Public Service Commission;

(f) 'Recruitment Rules' means the Indian Police Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1954;

(g) 'Schedule' means a Schedule appended to these regulations;

(h) 'Service' means the Indian Police Service;

(i) 'State' means a Part 'A' State, or a Part 'B' State, other than the State of Jammu and Kashmir, and includes the State of Vindhya Pradesh;

(j) 'State Police Service' means the principal police service of a State, a member of which normally holds charge of a subdivision of a district for purposes of police administration and includes any other duly constituted police service functioning in a State which is declared by the State Government to be equivalent thereto.

(k) 'State Government' means—

(i) in relation to a Part 'A' State or a Part 'B' State, in respect of which a separate cadre of the Service exists, the Government of such Part 'A' State or Part 'B' State;

(ii) in relation to a group of States in respect of which a joint cadre of the Service is constituted, the Government of one of such States nominated by the Governments of the States forming that group to represent them in relation to the application of these regulations; and

(iii) in relation to the State of Vindhya Pradesh, the Lieutenant Governor.

(2) All other words and expressions used in these regulations but not defined shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Recruitment Rules.

3. Constitution of the Committee to make Selection.—(1) There shall be constituted for each of the States, specified in column 2 of Part I of the Schedule, a Committee consisting of the Chairman of the Commission or where the Chairman is unable to attend, any other member of the Commission representing it and other members specified in the corresponding entry of column 3 of the said Part I of the Schedule:

Provided that—

(i) if at any time a joint Cadre is constituted for—

(a) the States of Bombay and Saurashtra,

(b) the States of Punjab and Patiala and East Punjab States Union, the Committee in relation to any such group of States shall consist of the Chairman of the Commission, or where the Chairman is unable to attend, any other member of the Commission representing it together with such other members as are specified in column 3 of Part II of the said Schedule opposite to such group of States;

(ii) no member of the Committee, other than the Chairman or the member of the Commission shall be a person who is not a member of the Indian Administrative Service or the Indian Police Service;

(iii) the Central Government may, after consultation with the State Government concerned, amend the Schedule.

(2) The Chairman or the member of the Commission shall preside at all meetings of the Committee at which he is present.

4. Conditions of Eligibility for Promotion.—Each Committee shall meet at intervals ordinarily not exceeding one year and consider the cases of all members of the State Police Service who on the first day of January of that year, had completed not less than eight years of service (whether officiating or substantive) in a post of Deputy Superintendent of Police.

Explanation.—In computing the period of qualifying service of eight years, any service rendered in any former Indian State, a Part 'B' State or the State of Vindhya Pradesh in any post which the State Government considers equivalent to that of Deputy Superintendent of Police shall be taken into consideration.

5. Preparation of a list of suitable officers.—(1) The Committee shall prepare a list of such members of the State Police Service as satisfy the condition specified in regulation 4 and as are held by the Committee to be suitable for promotion to the Service.

(2) The selection for inclusion in such list shall be based on merit and suitability in all respects with due regard to seniority.

(3) The names of the officers included in the list shall be arranged in order of seniority in the State Police Service:

Provided that any junior officer who in the opinion of the Committee is of exceptional merit and suitability may be assigned a place in the list higher than that of officers senior to him.

(4) The list so prepared shall be reviewed and revised every year.

(5) If in the process of selection, review or revision it is proposed to supersede any member of the State Police Service, the Committee shall record its reasons for the proposed supersession.

6. Consultation with the Commission. - The list prepared in accordance with regulation 5 shall then be forwarded to the Commission by the State Government also with—

(i) the records of all members of the State Police Service included in the list;

(ii) the records of all members of the State Police Service who are proposed to be superseded by the recommendations made in the list;

(iii) the reasons as recorded by the Committee for the proposed supersession of any member of the State Police Service and;

(iv) the observations of the State Government on the recommendations of the Committee.

7. Select List.—(1) The Commission shall consider the list prepared by the Committee along with the other documents received from the State Government and, unless it considers any change necessary, approve the list.

(2) If the Commission consider it necessary to make any changes in the list received from the State Government, the Commission shall inform the State Government of the changes proposed and after taking into account the comments, if any, of the State Government, may approve the list finally with such modification, if any, as may, in its opinion, be just and proper.

(3) The list as finally approved by the Commission shall form the Select List of the members of the State Police Service.

(4) The Select List shall ordinarily be in force until it is reviewed or revised in accordance with sub-regulation (4) of regulation 5:

Provided that in the exent of a grave lapse in the conduct or performance of duties on the part of any member of the State Police Service included in the Select List, a special review of the Select List may be made at any time at the instance of the State Government and the Commission may, if it so thinks fit, remove the name of such member of the State Police Service from the Select List.

8. Appointment to Cadre Posts from the Select List.—Appointments of members of the State Police Service from the Select List to posts borne on the State Cadre or the joint Cadre of a group of States, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of rule 9 of the Cadre Rules. In making such appointments, the State Government shall follow the order in which the names of such officers appear in the Select List:

Provided that where administrative exigencies so require, a member of the State Police Service whose name is not included in the Select List or who is not next in order in that Select List may, subject to the aforesaid provisions of the Cadre Rules, be appointed to a cadre post if the State Government is satisfied—

(i) that the vacancy is not likely to last for more than three months; or

(ii) that there is no suitable cadre officer available for filling the vacancy.

9. Appointments to the Service from the Select List.—(1) Appointments of members of the State Police Service to the Service against the quota reserved for them under sub-rule (1) of rule 9 of the Recruitment Rules shall be made by the Central Government on the recommendations of the State Government in the order in which the names of members of the State Police Service appear in the Select List for the time being in force.

(2) It shall not ordinarily be necessary to consult the Commission before such appointments are made, unless during the period intervening between the inclusion of the name of a member of the State Police Service in the Select list and the date of the proposed appointment there occurs any deterioration in the work of the member of the State Police Service which, in the opinion of the State Government, is such as to render him unsuitable for appointment to the Service.

10. Saving.—Nothing in these regulations shall apply to appointments to be made to the Service from among officers belonging to the State Police Service included in List II prepared by the Special Recruitment Board under the Indian Police Service (Extension to States) Scheme.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1814L.—26th July 1955.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 48 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE SADAR AND SUBDIVISIONAL HOSPITALS BILL, 1955.

A

to provide for the taking over of certain Sadar and Subdivisional hospitals by the State Government with a view to the better promotion of public health.

It is hereby enacted in the Sixth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Sadar and Subdivisional Hospitals Act, 1955.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a) "appointed day" means the date appointed under sub-section (2) of section 1;

(b) "the said hospitals" means the Sadar and Subdivisional hospitals described in the Schedule and includes any dispensaries attached to such hospitals.

Transfer.

3. As from the appointed day,—

(1) (a) the said hospitals together with all lands, buildings, erections, fixtures, furniture, equipments, stores, drugs, monies, contracts, debts and all other assets and liabilities thereof shall, subject to sub-section (2), stand transferred to the State Government;

(b) the said hospitals shall be run by the State Government as State Hospitals;

The Sadar and Subdivisional Hospitals Bill, 1955.

(Clauses 4, 5 and the Schedule.)

(c) persons employed in the said hospitals and continuing in office immediately before the appointed day shall, as from that day, be deemed to be employees of the State Government and the terms and conditions of their service shall be such as may be determined by the State Government having regard to the terms and conditions of their service as in force before that day;

(2) all endowments and trust funds, created solely or substantially for the purpose of the maintenance or improvement of the said hospitals, shall stand transferred to and be administered by the Official Trustee, West Bengal:

Provided that the income from every such endowment and trust fund shall be credited to the State Government and shall be applied by the State Government for the purposes for which the endowment or the trust fund, as the case may be, was created, subject to the conditions attached to such endowment or trust fund and to the rights and privileges of the beneficiaries thereof.

Removal of difficulties.

4. If any difficulty arises in giving effect to the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder, the State Government may take such steps or issue such orders as it deems necessary for the removal of the difficulty.

Rules.

5. The State Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 6541Edn./8B-51/55.—26th July 1955.—In pursuance of sub-sections (4) and (5) of section 36 of the West Bengal Secondary Education Act, 1950 (West Bengal Act XXXVII of 1950), the Governor is pleased hereby to sanction and publish in the Calcutta Gazette, the following Regulations which have been made in exercise of the powers conferred by clause (b) of section 4 of the West Bengal Secondary Education (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1954 (West Bengal Act XXII of 1954), read with clauses (d), (e) and (h) of sub-section (2), and clause (a) of sub-section (3), of section 36 of the West Bengal Secondary Education Act, 1950, by the Administrator, namely:—

Regulations providing for the holding and controlling of a Supplementary Examination (Compartmental) to the School Final Examinations of the Board of Secondary Education, West Bengal, held in December 1954 and in March 1955 and the prescription of fees payable, and the conditions to be fulfilled by the candidates for presenting themselves for such Supplementary Examination (Compartmental).

1. In these Regulations, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

The "Board" means the Board of Secondary Education, established under the West Bengal Secondary Education Act, 1950 (West Bengal Act XXXVII of 1950).

2. The Board may, at its discretion, hold a Special Supplementary Examination (Compartmental) to the School Final Examination for the candidates who were unsuccessful at the School Final Examinations held in December 1954 and in March 1955.

3. The Special Supplementary Examination (Compartmental) shall be held at such places and on such date or dates, and during, such hours as the Board may decide.

4. A candidate who at the School Final Examination of the Board held in December 1954 or in March 1955 had failed in only one of the compulsory subjects, but had obtained at least the minimum aggregate marks which are required to be obtained for passing the examination, that is to say, 288 marks, in the compulsory subjects including the one in which the candidate had so failed, may, if the candidate so elects, be permitted to appear on payment of a fee of Rs. 10 at the Special Supplementary Examination (Compartmental) which may be held under regulation 2, only in the subject in which the candidate had so failed:

Provided that if in such Special Supplementary Examination (Compartmental) the candidate obtains pass marks in the subject in which the candidate had so failed the candidate shall be declared to have passed but shall not be placed in any division:

Provided further that if in such Special Supplementary Examination (Compartmental) the candidate fails to pass in the subject in which he or she appeared, the candidate shall be required to take, in whole, any later examination for which he or she may be eligible.
